LIVE NEWS OF WEST SCRANTON

John Morgans Had Headless Chickens in His Possession When Arrested.

THEY CAME FROM CLARK'S SUMMIT

It Was Morgans Who Shot Off the Left Leg of Young Marshall .- Social Conducted by the Daughters of Pocohontas .- Similar Event in the First Welsh Congregational Church. Reception of Converts in the Simpson M. E. Church.

It was a bold, bluff game that John Morgans, colored, tried to work, but he certainly did not reckon upon meeting the astute Patrolman Hezekiah Peters. He now languishes, a confessed thief, in the West Side police station, awaiting a hearing, and all because the 'bluff" was too carefully carried out, The arrest was made early vesterday morning, in fact at 4.15 o'clock, as the docket indicates. At an hour when only such persons with intentions as Morgans had and patrolmen are supposed to be abroad. It was much after this style that this olored man, with a propensity to get chickens from others without their given consent, met with an abrupt Down the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western tracks from the Mt. Pleasant breaker tramped Mor-Over his shoulder he carried an old-fashioned army musket, suspended from which was a heavy bag. Across his other shoulder was slung a powder horn. Concealed about his clothes was a hatchet and large carving knife. Tired, dusty and withal confident Morgans approached the West Lackawanna avenue crossing. Soon he would be at Kelly's domain, on Scranton street, where he made his home. pleasant reverie was disturbed by the salutation of Patrolman Peters, "Say, what kind of game have you?" It was T. M. Watkins and Friends a startling question, but Morgans was bound to see the thing out. "Oh, a ouple o' birds, sar," said he. A short interview followed and Patrolmen Evans and Peters decided that the game had been illegally taken.

Morgans was placed in a cell, and game bag emptied. It contained five plump, white Brahmins and three equally fine Plymouth Rocks, Each fowl had its head severed. The bloody and feathered knife indicated how.

Later in the day Morgans told Patrolman Saul that "those 'ere chickens don' belonged to a Clark's Summit farmer." He will be given a hearing this morn-

Morgans has a record, although he has barely passed the age of voting. It will be well remembered by those who read The Tribune, how about two years ago John Marshall, a colored lad, had his left leg shot off by a discharged load from a shotgun in the hands of Morgans. Morgans went to Carbondale, was recaptured and given a light sentence, there being no evidence that "felonious intent" was in his mind.

RECEPTION FOR CONVERTS. Last evening a very pleasant reception was held in the lecture room of the Simpson Methodist church by the members of Simpson chapter, Epworth league. The purpose of the affair was to give those persons who had made onfession of faith during the recent revival services at the above church, an opportunity to enter into the spirit and freedom of the church life. Every one of them was present and also about 500 of the church congregation. A reception committee comprising the Misses Rachel Jones, Anna. Broadbent, Lillian Birtley, Margaret Crawford, Margaret Van Camp, Mrs. John J. York and Mrs. Josie Knauss and George Crane, Frederick Crawford and John J. York looked after the comfort of the guests.

A short literary programme was carried out during the earlier part of the evening. Mr. York acted as chairman and Miss Minnie Weber was accompanist. The exercises consisted of singing of symns; prayer by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Sweet; quartette selection by Louis H. Jones and party; violin solo by Arthur Reese; recitation by Mrs. Robert Williams. Charles Sweet also entertained with several selections from an Edison phonograph. The paster, Rev. J. B. Sweet, made a short address which placed every one in a good humor and did much to assist in easing the natural reticence of those who were just starting in a new life. Refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in social intercourse.

The Misses Florence and Mabel Walters, Jones, Edith Bevans and B. Will sang and gave several plano solos. It was one of the most enjoyable of the similar affairs the council has ever held.

As a regiment was on the march to Gettysburg, some of the soldiers stepped out of the rams and "confiscated" a couple of geese, and at the suggestion of an ingenious fellow and a natural "burnnier," one of the drummers unheaded his instrument and put the captured birds in the dram. Shortly afterward the colone came along, and noticing the boy shirked his usual drum whacks, rode up to him and said:

"Why don't you heat that drum?"
"Colonel," said the startled musician I want to speak to you."
The colonel drew still closer to him
nd bending down his head, said, "Well

what have you to say?"

The drummer whispered, "Colonel, I've got a couple of geese in here." The colone! straightened up and grave ly said, "Weil, if you're sick and can't play you needn't," and then rode on. It is needless to add that the colonel had roast goode that night.

Adolph Shaffer Made an Attempt to Kill John Hall.

A 38-CALIBRE REVOLVER

After Firing One Shot Which For tnnately Wounded Hall Only Stightly He Was Disarmed and Arrested .- He is Now in Jail -- Robert Westlake Had an Exciting Experience -- A Tom Thumb Wedding. Personals and Brief Items of News.

Adolph Shaffer last evening shot at John Hall, a member of the firm of Hall & Fidler, proprietors of a hotel on West Market street. Hall's escape from instant death was little less than marvelous. His life was only saved by a quick motion of his body. The shooting occurred in the hotel and was caused by Hall's efforts to eject Shaffer, who, it appears, was continually insulting men who were in the place. Despite Hall's entreaties for quiet, Shaffer became more abusive and Hall was forced to act.

He grabbed Shaffer, and immediately a scuffle ensued. Shaffer, after freeing his right arm, sought his hip pocket and, drawing a revolver, pointed it at Hall's body and fired before the bystanders could interfere. The bullet struck Hall in the side, taking a diagonal course, grazing his back and en-tered the partition of the building. Bewould-be assassin could do any further harm he was thrown to the floor and disarmed and held until the arrival of Patrolmen Saltry and Thomas, who took him in custody, to Dr. Donne's office, where his injuries were dressed, and was able to proceed to his home. The wound is but slight. He expressed a desire to have Shaffer discharged, as he did not wish
