ONLY HIS FATHER. A strange meeting occurred recently in Eastern Oregon. At a public meeting a speaker was addressing the audience when "Mr. Booth, the son of the sheriff who hanged John Brown, of Ossawatimie, at Harper's Ferry." In the course of the meeting, the speaker presented to a man whose name was Solomon Brown. They talked for a minute or two. "Mr. Booth," said Mr. Brown, "was it your father who hanged John Brown, Harper's Ferry?" "Yes," said Mr. Booth. "He was sheriff at the time, and it was his duty to officiate at the execution. No relative of yours, I hope?" "Only my father," was the reply.

IF LONG AGO. If long ago, The Christmas bells had never rung Across the snow— Had not Judah's shepherds watched their flocks by night, Had not that wondrous star burst on their sight, And led them unto where a young child lay, The world would be a dreary world this winter day. On Bethlehem's plain, the Virgin's Son Had not been born, How the bells ring, And how, in the far, frosty sky, The angels sing! What joy, what hope, what radiant divine Shines from that star, and shall forever shine! The song is ringing over all the earth— Today has seen a wondrous sight, the Saviour's birth! But ah! the woe If Christ were never born— Across the snow, —Virginia M. Cornell, in the Sun.

RELIGIOUS

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Archdeaconry of Scranton was held Thursday in the Trinity Episcopal church. It was largely attended. There were fourteen parishes represented by eight visiting delegates from the following places: Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Plymouth, Dunmore, Carbondale, Ashley, Jersey, etc. The session opened at 11 a. m. with holy communion. Rev. F. Harrington being the celebrant. At the close of this service he spoke briefly welcoming the delegates. Dinner was served the guests at 1 o'clock by the ladies of the Rev. Bishop Talbot, who has just recently assumed the duties of the bishopric, arrived. Mrs. Rogers Israel, of Scranton, presided. Reports of the last meeting in Williamsport were heard, which was followed by auxiliary discussion. A resolution was passed urging the collection of a permanent fund of $5,000 as a memorial in memory of the late Bishop Rullison, the interest of the fund to be devoted to mission work. Other business was transacted and then Bishop Talbot addressed the body. He spoke of the great work being performed by the ladies and the necessity for its growth and encouragement. The bishop is a man of commanding personality and a speaker in forceful and attractive manner. Archdeacon Cox, of Alden, was one of the clergymen present.

In the Second Presbyterian church the following programme of music will be used in the evening service tomorrow: Prelude, Vesper Bell, "Spinney Anthem, Jubilate Deo in B Flat," Dudley Buck Offertory, By the Dark Euphrates. Strachan, Organ and Male Choir Organ Postlude, "The Light of the World," Parker J. M. Chance, Organist.

A delightful entertainment was given at St. Mark's church last evening by Mr. Pearce.

Mrs. Robson will lead the devotional services of the Young Women's Christian association at their rooms on Washington avenue, Sunday at 3.45. The subject of the meeting is "The Light of the World." The song service will be conducted by Mrs. Randolph Jones and Miss Alice Peck, presiding at the piano. All women cordially welcomed.

The fifth anniversary of the Young Women's Christian association will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 15, 7.30 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian church. The management is to be specially congratulated in securing Rev. J. A. Lansing, D. D., of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church of Scranton, to deliver the annual address. It is hoped that the members of the association will kindly extend the invitation to their friends.—Wilkes-Barre News-Dealer.

GOVERNOR OF VERMONT

Josiah Grout Sends an Open Letter to Proprietors of PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

The present governor of the Green Mountain state, though born in Canada, has lived in Vermont since he was 6 years old. His course at the St. Johnsbury academy was interrupted in 1861 by his enlistment in Co. I, First Vermont cavalry. He was mustered in as second lieutenant, promoted to captain the following year, and in 1864 made major of the Twenty-sixth New York cavalry. Major Grout participated in seventeen engagements, and was badly wounded in a skirmish with the celebrated confederate leader, Mosby. At the close of the war he entered the law office of his brother, General Grout, and was admitted to the bar. His service in the Vermont legislature embraced the years 1872, '83, '86 and '88. He was speaker of the house in 1882. Governor Grout is deeply indebted to Paine's celery compound for the good health which he today enjoys. He expresses his conviction of the value of this great remedy in the following words: "State of Vermont, Executive Department, July 5, 1897. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. Gentlemen: Having received a ven-edit from the use of Paine's celery compound I hereby endorse the preparation as a reliable remedy that fully meets the claims made for it. It is a pleasure also to endorse the proprietors of it as one of Vermont's oldest houses whose business reputation is above reproach. Josiah Grout.

Life is too short to waste one day of it sick, ached, grumpy or ailing. Indigestion, nervousness and rheumatism make one old before one's time, take the heart out of work, and make one a burden at home and a bore to one's friends. Everyone owes it to his family to his friends, to his success and happiness to get strong and stay so.

Worn-out nerves bring on more ill health and disease than all other causes put together. In their impoverished condition they cause the blood to become thin, weaken the digestion and make the heart work with difficulty. The main factor in eradicating neuralgia, rheumatism, nervousness, headaches and sleeplessness from the system consists in making the nerves stronger. Paine's celery compound is the nerve-invigorator par-excellence. Better nerve nutrition plays the principal part in the successful treatment of liver, kidney and heart disease, as well as nervous diseases. Every one knows that the heart does the work of a pump. From the dawn of life till death it never ceases pumping blood into the arteries, and every heart-beat results from a nerve impulse. When the nerve centers become reduced there follows a gradual increasing feebleness, the heart beats irregularly, there is a loss of nervous and muscular force, the limbs refuse their support, appetite fails and sleep becomes unobtainable. The progress towards a healthier appetite, sounder sleep, firmer pulse, shows the profound invigorating effect of Paine's celery compound upon the nerve fibres all over the body.

Progress toward health is steady and uniform when Paine's celery compound is employed. It stops night sweats—that sure indication of growing feebleness and of wasting freedom from those nervous twitches of the muscles and numbness in the limbs that are precursors of paralysis and painful chills, so common among overworked worried people who are about to break down with some form of nervous debility.
