Mrs. C. S. Weston delightfully en tertained many little people yesterday afternoon in honor of her nieces, Misses Janet and Elizabeth Storrs. Such a good time as the happy children experienced is impossible to describe, Mrs. Weston was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. W. H. Storrs, Mrs. A. H. Storrs and the Misses Mat-

Among those present were: Misses Frances Jermyn, Margaret Shafer, Mary Hallstead, Mildred Marple, Edith Holland, Marjorie Collins, Louise and Florence Smith, Adeline Hand, Elizaeth Taylor, Helen Parke, Alice Finch Nellie Fulton, Mary McLave, Lorena LaBar, Anna Hand, Gladys Watkins, Ruth Archbald, Ruth Steell, Margaretta Belin, Marguerite Barker, Elizabeth Blair, Marlon and Evelyn Matthews, Alice Blair, Florence and Clara Porter, Eleanor Kingsbury, Dorothy Warren, Lucy Logan, Margaret Mattes, Emeline and Mary Tracey, Grace Hul-bert, Margaret Post, Helen Boies, Marie Gunster, Jessie, Natalie, Lillian and Margaret Connell, Christine Bryden, Helen Connell, Mary and Elizabeth Dickson, Masters Robert Barnard, Harold Connell, Gordon and Essen Taylor, Stanley and Charles Manness, James Linen, Richmond Tracy, Willie Matthews, Harry Logan, Kenneth Welles, Sam Barker, Kenneth Porter, D'Audelot Belin, Arthur Matthews, William Hallstead, Melvin Corbett, Ned Jermyn, Curtis and Philip Platt, Grier Parke, Cole and John Price, Edgar Coursen, Bennie Throop, Eliting LaBar, Lou Watkins, Douglas Torrey.

Miss Ruth Dale gave an elaborate valentine luncheon yesterday of twelve covers in honor of Mrs. Royal W. Sherwood, of Southport, Conn. The prehue in the dining room was red. Maiden hair fern and crimson carnations were employed in the table decorations and the same color was observed throughout the menu, every course of which was suggestive of the ay, in the heart shapes and other details. The guests were: Mrs. Sherwood, Mrs. Robert D. Landon, Mrs. Percival J. Morris, Mrs. John F. Broad-bent, Mrs. Clifford Wallace, Mrz. Thomas W. Kay, Mrs. Willard Matthews, Mrs. T. R. Brooks, Mrs. William McClave, Mrs. Eugene S. Dale and Mrs. Henry G. Dale.

Moffat, Miss Platt.

Miss Mame Stair, of 1735 North Main avenue, gave a Halloween party last evening to a number of her friends. The affair was made the more enjoyable by the introduction of Miss Stair, of several novel diversions in the course of the evening's entertainment. One of these was the distribution by a little "Cupid" of halves of confectionery hearts to the ladies, the other halves being afterward distributed among the gentlemen. Each half heart had its counter part on the other side of the house, so to speak, and it was the finding of the mate which aforded much amusement for the guests Supper was attended by the matched hearts. Miss Stair personally received

Miss Margaret Torrey, of Adams ave. nue, gave a St. Valentine party last evening which was attended by over a score of guests. It was required of each person to bring a valentine, original, sentimental, comic or otherwise,

TEARING DOWN THE WALLS.

Workmen Attack the Ruins of the Y. M. C. A. Building.

Contractor Conrad Schroeder put a force of men at work yesterday tearing down the walls that remained after the Young Men's Christian association building was destroyed by fire. By nightfall portions of walls that were in any danger of falling had been taken down. The big chimney was allowed to stand. It was examined by Building Inspector Nelson who found it in almost perfect condition. The fire had affected it very slightly.

Today the street commissioner can begin to clear up the court in the rear of the ruins and open it for travel. A temporary sidewalk will at once be laid on the Wyoming avenue front and a five-fast fence erected to prevent persons from falling into the cellar. It is the intention to take down the wall alongside the Powell building to the first story to prevent the possibility of injury to the Powell building in case the wall should topple into the cellar. Building Inspector Nelson has decided that the Gorman stable on the Stewart property, facing Spruce street, was more than half destroyed by fire and it will have to be torn down as the building law provides that a frame building within the fire limits which s more than half destroyed by fire cannot be rebuilt. Just what kind of a building will be erected on the site cannot be stated at this time. The work of tearing down the remnant of the stable will probably begin today.

The debate on the question "Resolved, That Home Rule for Ireland is Desirous," which was to have taken place n Green Ridge last night, between the Phil Sheridan and John Boyle O'Reilly Councils, Young Men's Institute, did not eventuate, owing to the failure of the O'Reilly council's champions to ap-

James Roche, William Lewis and Henry Hart, of the Sheridan council, volunteered to pit themselves against the debaters who had prepared to meet the O'Reilly's orators, and as a consequence the large audience that had gathered was treated to a very lively debate. Dr. W. H. McGreevy, J. J. Varley and C. P. Powderly, who composed the regular team, had the affirmative. The "scrub" team had the negative, or rather they tried to refute the arguments of the affirmative, for as the chairman of the evening, Rev. P. J. McManus, said, there is no negative side to the question. The judges, J. J. McTague, John P. Brown and John Phillips, gave the vic-tory to the regulars. While the judges were enjoying a smoke the audience enjoyed a well delivered recitation by Charles Hayres, one of the promising young members of the Sheridans.

WHAT CHAIRMAN SAYS. Chairman C. E. Chittenden of the Republican city committee said last night that he was confident of the election of the six Republican school directors today. The only danger to be apprehend, he said, lies in the possibility that some Republicans refrain from voting because not fully impressed with the importance of the contest. The prohibition candidates flooded the city yesterday with letters making for an independent school a plea board and as a basis for such an or-ganization asked that the three prohibition candidates be chosen the remaining three to be selected from the best men among the Republican and Democratic candidates. The Republican city committee will receive returns tonight in the central Republican club rooms. Chairman Chittenden requests all "Republican committeemen to remain at their dis-
