A heaviness and lassitude seem to seize the brain, and to depress the bodily energy and spirit. All mental or physical effort becomes a torture, and if neglected, things go on from bad to worse until the health is completely undermined or destroyed.

Nor is it safe to resort to the harsh and griping catharties. The best thing any man or woman can do at such times is to take a pure stimulant—not an ordinary one, but something that has been tested said tried, and is endorsed by the leading people of the land. Precisely such an article is Duffy's Pure Mait Whitskey. It has stood the test of time. SOUTH SCRANTON.

The event in society circles, on the South Side, of the season took place at Natter's hall last evening. That prosperous and well known organization, the Scranton Saengerrunde, conducted its seventeenth annual masquerade ball there. The affair had been anxiously awaited for weeks, and early last evening the merry coterie that filled the handsome hall began to assemble. At Powderly, of Washington, D. C., spent 9 o'clock the orchestra took its place, and in a few moments the music was pealing forth. Natter's hall, which has been so beautifully remodeled, was a scene of splendor, the hall in itself being handsomey painted, and the decor-ations put up for last evening's occasion were exquisite. Chinese lanterns and the national colors were in abund-Mrs. John Armstrong and daughter, ance. The masked dancers held forth until 11.30 o'clock when the merry throng discarded, and intermission for lunch, for an hour, be gan. At the conclusion of the lunch general dancing was begun, in which all present were permitted to enjoy. The Saengerrunde elects every year a ommittee to have charge of their annual dances. The committee and officers of the committee in charge of last vening's affair were: John Maes, chairman; B. Shodt, secretary, and Philip Graf, treasurer; Jacob Geiger, Philip Robinson, Fred. Schwenker Louis Hedrich, Fred, Herrman, Henry Kelper and Charles Lewert. Caterer John McCabe furnished the eatable. The excellent menu furnished by him, and so thoroughly enjoyed, consisted of: Celery, turkey, cold chicken, potato and lobster salad, ham sandwiches, fruit, nuts, brick ice cream and coffee. The costumes of the masked guests were the features of the evening. Among the characters ably portrayed were: "The Summer Girl," 'Sweet Little Butterfly," "Hot Stuff," "The Boy from the Village," "The Bowery Boy," with apologies to Chim-mie Fadden, "News Girls and Bootblack," "Three Little Maids from School," "Sweet Scotch Lassie from Dundee," Germania orchestra, augmented by members of Lawrence, furnished the music. The exent of last evening will long be remembered by the vast number in attendance.

Doctors Reeser, of Cedar avenue, and Snyder, of the central city, will operate with a view to removing a cataract upon the left eye of Patrick McCann, of Prospect avenue, this morning at 10 Presbyterian church. So earnest were o'clock. The afflicted optic has been devoid of sight for the past eighteen years, and the result of the operation will be watched with interest by the medical profession and the many friends of McCann. The funeral of the late Mrs. James Bursh, of Hickory street, took place yesterday from her late home. Pastor Haas, of the Prospect Avenue Baptist J. G. Johnson was given a hearing ducted at the house. The remains were by Alderman Roberts last evening. The interred in Forest Hill cemetery. Many were in attendance at the obsequies.

At the home of her parents on Palm street, the late Kate Murphy was borne Catholic cemetery.

Notwithstanding the interest maniested in the election on this side last evening, the fair of the Church of Peace was thronged. Germania hall has not for many months held a more agreeable and liberal assemblage. Many articles of value were chanced off. Mrs. Neu won a lamp, Otto Schaffer a cushion and Jacob Kalser a chenille table cover. The door prize of Monday evening has not been claimed. No. 206 won it, and the holder of the ticket will be the owner, of a choice lot of cologne, Rev. Mr. Weber, of Taylor, and Rev. Mr. Gottlieb and family, of Hawley, were present at the fair last evening. This evening the choir of the church will render an excellent programme, and tomorrow evening the Scranton Liederkranz will be in attendance. The fair will come to close Saturday evening, and all articles remaining will be disposed of at a festival to be held at the basement the church on a date to be decided on later.

Philip Robinson leaves today for ay at Hot Springs, Arkansas. The annual ball of the Scranton Athetic club will be held at Germania hall Monday evening next. The mere announcement that the Athetic boys are to give a dance is sufficient. Their opularity is far and well known. Lieutenant Peter Zang, of the South Scranton detail, is quite ill at his home, and Patrolman William Gescheidle is acting lieutenant.

At the South Side Young Women's Christian Association rooms Thursday evening there will be a social to which all the members and friends of the association are invited. A musical programn'e will be rendered.

Thirty-first Masquerade Carnival Held at Music Hall.

AN INTERESTING OPENING SCENE

Prince and Princess of the Carnival Are Accidentally Discovered in an ice Cave in Klondike and Come Down to Lead the Turn Vereit Grand March -- Most Successful Affair of Its Kind Yet Held.

While everybody else was stewing nd fretting over election returns our olly German brethern of the Turn Verein were at Music hall enjoying hemselves at their annual masquerade ball, as only Turners can enjoy masquerade ball.

It was the thirty-first such event and-not because it is customary to say it-but because it exactly fits the case it surpassed all its predecessor n nearly every element that goes to make these affairs a success. The number of dancers was larger than usual, the costumes were quite as elaborate and varied in character, the spectators were much more numrous than heretofore and the general injoyment, by reason of all of these excellencies, was more marked.

The opening burletta was hugely encyable. The stage showed a scene in Klondike, ice and snow being the rredominating features. A party of prospectors (Fred Hummler, James T. Quinnan, William Kemmerer and J. McDonald) came upon a lonely miner (John V. The exchange is made; the prospec tors begin operations and to their first blast breaks away the ice and reveals a cave from which emerge a prince and princess (Timothy J. Quinnan and Miss Rose Blatter), who, after thanking the surprised gold hunters for their deliverence, walk down from the stage and start the grand march.

The play was composed by and caried out under the directions of Fred iummler and was very creditable to his wit and ingenuity. One of the happy conceits of the mas-

S ENJOY ANNUAL DANCE Masquerade Cardival Held at Music Hall. Her Boy was Dying.

How a child was brought back from the brink of the grave to enjoy a healthy, happy childhood. One mother's advice for parents concerning the health of their children.

The boy about whom this strange, true story is told wasted away till he seemed nothing but skin and bones. Then his health turned and he became fat and hearty.

The first stage is familiar to many parents. The second is of deep interest to all parents or friends of ailing little ones.
Fathers and mothers, who long to have their children healthy and happy cannot fail to sympathize and rejoice with Mr. and Mrs John F. Williams.

Their comfortable home, a short distance from Damon, Ill., is happy now because of the wonderful events that are told in words eloquent with simple truth and gratitude, by the mother of the boy. "Our Josle was never strong," said Mrs. Williams. "From his birth he was weak and puny.

"Two years ago, when he was two years old, he had an attack of lung fever.
Dr. N. A. Jones cured this fever, but the child did not recover strength.

"He began fading away beneath our eyes.

"He had no appetite, vomited a great deal, coughed continually, his limbs became withered.

"He became painfully weak and ema-ciated. We waited for his death.

"At this time a boarder named Asa Robinson suggested that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People would do the child good. "They had cured Mr. Robinson of rheumatisms and he believed in them.
