Marriage of Miss Anna Gill and Nicholas Hellring in St. Patrick's Church.

RECEPTION AT GILL RESIDENCE

Officers of Washington Commandery, Knights of Malta, Elected -- Friends of Select Councilman-Elect Edward James, Jr., Tendered Him a Surprise at His Home on South Main Avenue--Evening Was Most Enjoyably Spent -- Other Notes.

The marriage of Miss Anna Gill, of South Bromley avenue, to Nicholas Hellring, of Price street, took place esterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at St. Patrick's church, in the presence of a large number of friends.

The bridal party entered the church and passed up the central aisle as the wedding march from Lohengrin was being played by Miss Rose Conway. They paused at the sanctuary, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. D. A. Dunne. During the interim Miss Conway played the air of "O, Promise Me" and as the party passed out, Mendelssohn's medding march.

The bride was attired in a neat fitting gown of silver gray cloth with pearl trimmings, and was attended by Miss Ella Graney, as bridesmaid. The bridesmaid was costumed in a pretty gown of ecru cioth with pale blue satin trimmings. Both ladies carried carnations, Charles Hellring, a brother of the groom, acted as groomsman. At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the residence of the bride's uncle, John B. Gill, 113 South Bromley avenue. A wedding repast was served at 6 o'clock and the evening was passed in a de-lightful manner, the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties only being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hellring are both well known young people of this side and enjoy the respect and esteem of many. They will begin housekeeping immediately in their newly furnished home at 129 Morris court.

COUNCILMAN-ELECT HONORED. It was to indicate their regard and esteem for Edward James, jr., which caused a number of his friends to arm themselves with brooms and march to his residence, 816 South Main avenue, last evering where they tendered him an ovation in honor of his success at Tuesday's election. The brooms were silent tellers of the "clean sweep." It was no small thing, indeed, to be elected select councilman from the Sixth ward and the reception was but a small proof of their appreciation of this signal honor which had come upon their neighbor and fellow citizen. Mr. and Mrs. James threw open their cosy home on the advent of the serenaders and made them perfectly at home. The evening was passed in a most enjoyable manner. Edward Harris was chosen chairman, and it being a typical party of genial and talented Weishmen the muse of music reigned supreme. Professor Iorwerth Prosser acted as accompanist and also rendered several selections on the piano.

It would be almost impossible to tell about all the good things which were said and done, but not a moment was

The anniversary of the association was elaborately celebrated last eve-ning at St. Mary's hall, on Hickory street. It was a banner night in the career of the popular society. Extengive preparations for the event have been under way for weeks. The lady friends of the young men took in hand the decorations of the hall, and it is needless to state that they did their share of the work admirably. Potted plants, ferns, American flags and handsome parlor lamps added to the scene of beauty that met the large number of guests as they walked to the auditorium, and took seats about the tables. The club's caterer served a substantial lunch. "Cigars" ended the menu, and Peter J. Rosar, jr. president of the association, introduced Rev. Peter Christ, pastor of St. Mary's church as toastmaster of the evening. Father Christ responded, and in an earnest manner delivered an eloquent toast on "Character and Principle. The reverend speaker gave an inter-esting lesson of the inestimable value of these qualities and he laid particular stress upon how essential they are to carry a man through life, honorably and successfully.
