Announces His Intention to Contest Zizelman's Election.

SAYS HE WAS UNFAIRLY TREATED

The Deteated Common Council Candidate from the Eighth Ward Claims that a Recount of the Second District Will Show that He Was Elected .- Official Count Begun in Court Yesterday -- Wards Already Disposed Of.

Fred, W. Zizelman's election to the flice of common councilman from the Eighth ward is to be contested. John J. Flanaghan, the present incumbent, who was defeated by one vote, de-clares that in the Second district the count was irregular and that an official recount will show his election by a good-sized majority. The vote in the two districts for both councilmanic offices, as shown by the official count, begun yesterday, is as Zizelman's majority, 1. The discrepency between the Democratic vote for the two offices in the Second district it is believed is what has caused Mr. Flanaghan's suspicion that he was not fairly treated there. He claims, however, that he has bettion than a mere suspicion.

Attorney M. A. McGinley watched the count yesterday in Mr. Flanaghan's interests, and Hon. C. P. O'Malley looked after Mr. Zizelman's inter-The affidavits were carefully ests. scrutinized and their possible defects noted, and other such measures taken as are customary in the preparation for the waging and defense of a con-

CAST FOR TOM FLANAGHAN. There was one vote on the Second district return sheet accredited to "Tom Flanaghan." The prospective contestant believes that the vote was cast for him and will make an effort to have it so recorded. In the early days of the Baker ballot law there might be some hopes of Mr. Flanaghan capturing this ballot under Judge Archbald's decision that the intention of the voter should be the primary consideration in a disputed ballot, but since that time the supreme court has decided that the letter of the law must be strictly adhered to and that it is not allowable for the election board to go behind or beyond what appears on the ballot. It is the intention of Mr. Flanaghan's attorneys to make a motion in court today to have an official recount of the

There were no indications of any other possible contests. Attorney D. J. Davis kept tabs on the Second and Sixth ward returns in the interests of Mr. Finn and Mr. James, but their respective opponents were not present or represented by counsel.

The counting was begun at noon and continued up till 5 o'clock. The clerks were on the Ninth ward returns when they quit for the day. No discrepences between the official and open recomparatively little interest taken in the count. Instead of one of its own number acting, as is usual, court appointed J. Elliott Ross as its substitute and gave him the name of com paring clerk. T. P. Duffy, R. H. Holgate and John M. Corbett are acting as recording clerks; C. W. Dawson and R. J. POLITICAL JOTTINGS.

The Democrats of Pittston have not et recovered from the shock Tuesday's Republican victory gave them.

The board of control will meet for corganization Tuesday evening. There s a possibility that it may be the last time the board will meet for such a purpose

The friends of Select Councilmanelect T. J. Coyne and Common Councilman-elect M. J. Cusick, of the Twen tieth ward, jubilated last night in a very enthusiastic way. There was parade, followed by a demonstration in Callery's hall, where there was speechmaking and other things.

Simon Thomas will make a valuable elect councilman for the Fourth ward His experience in the lower branch well fits him for the more exacting duties of select councilman. Mr. Thomas will be succeeded in the lower branch by William V. Griffiths, who will unques tionably make an excellent record

Tuesday's battle has left scars in the Sixth ward that will be long in healing. John E. Regan and M. E. Clark. the two Democrats who were so ingloriously defeated by Edward James ir., for select council, are saying some ery harsh things about each other and both are being roundly cursed by Democratic leaders for losing the ward for the party.

John J. Shea, who will take the seat n select council now occupied by James Manley, is no stranger to the walks of public life. Mr. Shea has been a police officer, county detective and deputy United States commissioner. He is familiar with the business of councils and will at once be able to take an active part in the deliberation of the upper body.

Tuesday's election in Dunmore has onvinced even the most skeptical Democrat of that borough that it is now safely entrenched in the Republian column. Burgess Powell's administration of borough affairs will do much to strengthen his party. He is naking a determined effort to give Dunmore the kind of government that it has for years stood greatly in need

Word comes from West Scranton which indicates that an unusual contest is to be instituted. The intending contestant is Harry T. Bradshaw, Re-Have fixed very low price. You can publican, who ran for the office of reg-

the Fifth ward. The Democrats had placed no one in nomination for the office and there seemed no opposition to the Republican nominee. Patrick McCulligan, however, determined otherwise. He ran on stickers and was de-clared elected. The grounds for the

on the ballot it was duly counted. Mayor Nichols, of Wilkes-Barre, has this to say in the Record about the result of the election in that city: "The result of the election proves that the people are in favor of exchanging our present form of government for that of cities of the third class. The issue was squarely presented and the verdict must be respected. The change, I am confident, will be fruitful of great industrial and government advantages to our city. To effect the revolution the adoption of an ordinance surrendering our present charter is required. This action on the part of council can be procured in about two months after the new members are seated next April. The new government will give the people the right to elect the following officers: Controller, treasurer and assessors. The first named office is not now supported here, and the other two are now appointed by the council and court respectively. The offices which we are now maintaining, tax receiver, auditor and high constable, will be abolished.'
