The funeral of William R. Owens ocsirred Saturday afternoon at 1.30 rclock from his late home on Brick evenue, from where the remains were conveyed to the North Main Avenue Baptist church. Here the services in already thronged edifice were of a notably impressive nature. An excellent funeral oration, was delivered by the Rev. W. F. Watking, He was assisted in conducting the services by the Rev. Dr. R. S. Jones, Rev. W. F. Davies and Rev. John A. Evans, Each gentleman spoke in endearing terms of the deceased and offered words of cheer and consolation.

A quartette selected from the church choir, of which Mr. Owens was for many years director, rendered several anthoms.

The handsome casket in which the remains reposed was hardly discernable for the large number of beautiful floral designs, which evidenced the high esteem in which Mr. Owens was held by his friends. Representatives from Carladlawn Lodge, American True Ivorities, and Knights of the Mystic Chain were present. At the conclusion of the services the funeral cortege moved to Washburn street cemetery, where interment was made. The funeral of the late James Mc-Gowan, whose sad and untimely death was occasioned by a fall of rock in the Leggetts Creck mines was held yesterday from his home, corner Bloom avenue and Oak street. Religious services were conducted at the Holy Rosary church, and the funeral procession which followed the remains to Hyde Park Catholic cemetery, was one ing the evening a beautiful rocking Hyde Park Catholic cemetery, was one of the largest seen here for some time.

The members of Camps 178 and 333, Patriotic Order of True Americans, assembled in their headquarters last evening at 6.30 o'clock and marched to Simpson Methodist Episcopal the church, where they listened to their anniversary sermon. The body numbered about two hundred members and each one was attired in the regalia of the order. The seats in the two centre aisles, from the front half-way down the church, were reserved for the camp, and every seat in the large edifice was taken, it being necessary to use the drop scats in the aisles for the accommodation of the hundreds of people who gathered within the church. The service was begun promptly at 7 o'clock by the singing of the familiar hymn, 'Oh, for a Thousand Tongues.' The pulpit decorations were prettily arranged. On the right of the pedestal was a crayon portrait of George Washington, and on the left an excellent likeness in crayon of Abraham Linoin. In the centre, resting on a draped chair, was the shield of the order, upon which were the words, the motio of the organization, "God, Our Coun-try, and Our Order." The pulpit pedestal was tastily draped with a beautiful silk American flag, and surrounding the enclosure streamers blended in harmony with the other decorations,

Following the singing of the hymn, the pastor, Rev. J. B. Sweet, offered prover, and the choir afterwards sang an anthem. The speaker chose for the text the fourth chapter in the Book of Deuteronomy, verses 5-10 inclusive, Behold, I have taught you statutes of judgment," etc. After the reading of the chapter, the choir sang another

In his opening remarks, the speaker welcomed the members of the order on behalf of the church and extended to them the hospitality of the church at all times. In commenting on the principles of the order, he said the organization holds, permanently firstly, that God is supreme; secondly, their love of their country, and thirdly, brotherly relation. He felt quite at home to stand as an American citizen and preach to a representative body of Americans, but said he had no doubt but that those of alien birth are just as good citizens. 'We are the representatives of the action and of national life," he said.

"We are all ready to stand for the principles you represent, for we are all brethren. Heaven's rules governs direct, for blessed is the people whose God is the Lord. It is especially fitting that we should gather on this occasion. There never has been a time in history when God could not put his hand on the right men needed along the lines of leadership." The male quartette sang "Tenting Ponight on the Old Camp Ground," and the congregation joined in the singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." The άĝ.

FERN ACCEPTS CHALLENGE. The many friends of Ezra R. Fern, of Sixth street, the old-time champion roller skater of the world, will be interested in the announcement that he has accepted the challenge of E. W. Snyler, of N Vork state, one of the fastest of the later-day champions, to a mile race, to be contested in Finley's hall, (old Boston store hall) on Lackawanna svenue, next Friday evening. Mr. Fern holds all the records from one up to twenty-five miles, and also the records of hours from one to twenty-four. His career was suddenly terminated by a fractured knee when he was in the height of his fame, and this is his first attempt in several years. If he can show any of his old-time form, his laurels will be retained against all comers.
