OPINIONS FROM SUPERIOR COURT

Brief History of the Lackawanna Cases Passed Upon at Williamsport.

THEY NUMBERED EIGHT, ALL TOLD

In Every Case the Finding of the Lower Court Was Affirmed -- O'Donnell Against Breck, Gilmore & Duffy Against Dunleavy, Reap Against the City of Scranton and Barnes Against the Bonta Plate Glass Company, the Important Ones

Among the decisions handed down during the present session of the superior court at Williamsport were eight affecting Lackawanna cases. Of these, one of the most geneally commented upon of it that of Mrs. Elien O'Donneil against Charles duPent Breck, in which the defendant was the appellant. Washington avenue and made known her wish to Mr. Breck during a casual conversation. The result of this conversation was that Mr. Breck agreed to deliver the property to Mrs. O'Don-gave him $500 to carry on the cent but the very day that she paid the Mcnies' heirs, whom she net on Mr. Breck's office she demanded the return of her $500, saying, as she al-loged at the trial, that Mr. Breck had was sustained. not dealt with her in good faith. There was a long wrangle, it appears, and it wound up by Mr. Breck offering and Mrs. O'Donnell accepting $260 "in full settlement for all claims up to date." She averred at the trial that she gave Mr. Breck to understand that she signed the receipt under compulsion and would follow him for the other $240. CONTENTION OF THE DEFENSE

The defense was that Mrs. O'Donneil engaged the real estate firm of which Mr. Breck is the senior partner, to secure for her the property in question, she agreeing to pay $16,000 for it. They bought the property and accepted from her $500 to bind the bargain. It was denled that Mrs. O'Donnell signed the receipt under compulsion or that she threatened to follow him for the remainder of the $500" and it was contended that the firm acted simply as real estate dealers and not that one of its members acted as Mrs. O'Donnell's attorneys, as she alleged.

The verdict of the lower court was for the plaintiff and the decision of the superior court affirms the finding.

The case of Barnes against the Bonta Glass compary, appellant, is one of unusual importance as a dozen other cases rest upon the outcome. It was a suit for wages brought by W. E. Barnes against the Bonta Plate Glass company. The judgment of the local court was for the plaintiff and the superior court refuses to disturb it.

In 1894 J. W. Bonta made a contract with the Berlin Iron Bridge company to erect the iron work of the company; building. He hired men to work on the building on jobs not included in the contract with the Berlin Iron Bridge company. The plaintiff, Barnes, was one of these men.

company defended on the grounds that it had nothing whatever to do with the construction of the building; that Bonta was to erect it and turn it over to the company free from all incumberances. It appears that the secretary of the company was in evidence more or less during the erection of the building and the jury took it that his "silent conduct" misled the man into believing that the Bonta Plate Glass company would be responsible for the work they were engaged and on this account, it was found that the company was responsible, The superior court affirmed this finding, DISPUTE BETWEEN PARTNERS.

One of the various suits growing out of the dissolution of the firm of Gilmore & Duffy was also passed upon. It was that in which the firm was plaintiff, nominally, but A. G. Gilmore, actually, and Margaret Dunleavy defendant.

The real contest, as is all the other cases was between the ex-partners Mrs. Dunleavy had a running account with the firm and was in the habit of making periodical payments to either or both of them. When the dissolution came she owed $859. This she paid to Mr. Duffy by check. Mr. Glimore who, by the terms of dissolution, was commissioned to collect all the outstanding debts, brought suit to recover the money a second time from Mrs. Dunleavy. He secured judgment in the local court and the superior court arfirmed the finding.

It is alleged in the paper book of the appellee, that the check paid to Mr. Duffy has never been cashed. Duffy in answer to this denjed that Mr. Gilmore was alone entitled to collect the debts of the firm; that Gilmore was collecting the money and applying it to his own uses and that he, Duny, upon the receipt of the Dunteavy check turned it over to the First National bank of Plymouth, to be applied on a note of $1,700 for which the firm was liable.

The action of Judge Archbald in refusing to open judgment in the case of Bixler & Carrell against J. H. Lesh also affirmed. Lesh gave three bank notes as collateral security on a judgment note covering a book account. The plaintiffs sued on the judgment note and the defendant asked to have judgment opened alleging that the bank notes had been accepted in payment of the book account and that the suit should be on the bank notes. Judge Archbald sustained the contention of the defense that for the judgment note but merely accepted to give Lesh easy terms.

The small amount of $10 was the matter at issue in the case of Edward Griffin against Bernard Davis. latter was constable of the Second ward. He refused to serve a writ for the plaintiff and the case, a $10 one went by default. He then sued Davis for the $10 and consequent damages The lower court quashed the proceedmgs and the upper tribunal said well

CONTRIBUTION BY THE LATTER

Resolutions Also Suggest That a Public Meeting Re Called by the Trustees of the Armory and That a Cheaper and More Convenient Site for an Armory Be Secured -- New Armory Is Considered Essential to Continued Success of Regiment.

At a meeting of Company C. Thirteenth regiment, last night, the following resolutions were adopted urging the erection of a new armory:

Whereas. For many years complaint has been made regarding the unsanitary condition of the Thirteenth regiment armory building, and a consensus of opinion be prevailed that it is not fitted for its original purpose, that it is a scrious re-flection upon the status of the reginent and a disgrace to the city.

when and a disgrace to the city.

Whereas, There is great danger that, owing to the disaffection among the members of the regiment, that its high position In the state is being imperiled and its proud record lowered, especially at a time when our country may need her defeadors at any moment.

Whereas, the said building having been bsolutely condemned by Brigade Inspector Major W. S. Millar; be it therefore Resolved, That we, the members of Company C of the said regiment, do hereby urge upon the trustees of the Armory association, the necessity of taking prompt and decisive action in the mater and to make an effort to place the question of a new armory before the pub-lic in a practical manned. He is further Resolved, That we respectfully recom-mend to said trustees to hold a public meeting to which shall be especially invited all ex-members of the regimen the present members, as well as the mem-bers of all auxiliary organizations, and that, at such meeting a statement be given of the present value of the property and the cost of erecting a new armory upon a new and cheaper yet convenient

Be it further solved. That in order to form a nucleus of the fund necessary to erect proposed new armory, the members this company hereby donate the sum of $25 as its first contribution. Signed Captain Frank Robling, ir., First Lieutenant W. A. Raub, Second Lieuten-ant D. W. Davis, Third Sergeant T. P. Murphy, Fourth Sergeant James M. Rafter, Corporal Paul de Paschails, E. P. Kingsbury, Secretary.

COMPANY A'S ACTION. Company A Monday night adopted

resolutions of no doubtful tone in reference to the present dilapidated armory. They are as follows: Whereas, In times past the public spirted and generous people of the city

Scranton and vicinity creeted the armovy which we now occupy.'
And whereas, Our quarters have by apse of time become dilapidated, antiquated and entirely inadequate for the accommodation of our regiment and in no way commensurate with the eptendid efficiency of the same;

And whereas, This company and other ompanies of our regiment have been ompelled to drill in an atmosphere cold ad damp by reason of the inclemency of the weather and the rain beating through the roof of the armory and soak-ing into the floor of the same:

Now, therefore, be it resolved. That we, Company A, Thirteenth regiment, N. G. P., do hereby respectfully call the attention of the trustees of our armory, the old members of the Thirteenth regi-ment and all generous and public spirited citizens at large of our city to the deplorable condition of our present quarters, to the end that something may be done towards the erection and completion of a new armore which will not only be an honor to our city, but a safeguard to property and all people of the city of Scranton and the community in which we

The company voted to give a certain sum toward providing a better equipment for the regiment's hospital corps.

WILLARD MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Was Conducted Last Night in the African M. E. Church. Rev. H. A. Grant, B. D. delivered a lecture last night at the memorial service in the African Methodist Episcopal church for the late Francis E Willard. The following is a synopsis of his remarks:

"The Afro-American is not slow to speak of and to give credit to the work and worth of all to whatever race they may belong. Therefore we deem this a fitting occasion to hold a memora) service in memory of the late Miss Frances E. Willard, president of the World's and National Woman's Christian Temperance union. While we took exceptions to the work of Miss Willard along certain lines, or rather in reference to humanity as a whole, we are frank to admit, however, that she ressed from earth, loving a nation into peace. Beautiful life, glorious deliverance. Bring forth all the eulogies in verse or in prose, pile them high and see how much we are at a loss even to have enough to begin to tell of the uncrowned queen's great nobility of character.

"We may try words of length and words that jingle, still we shall be surrounded by increased poverty. It was in the year of February, 1886, Miss Willard said: 'Parties are like whirlwinds made up of atoms at first, but if the breath of God moves that ascending spiral, it will ere long draw in the partitude. Minorities are the greatest and most heroic powers on earth. They are humanity's vanguard as well as its forlorn hope. Anybody can hurrah with the crowd, or run after the fire engine; but when men stand up alset alone for a great principle it is because they have iron in the blood, granite in the backbone, and over mastering confidence in truth: Thus did Miss Willard speak, and she lived to see the Woman's Christian Temperance union become a strong, well-organized and aggressive body of workers. Miss Willard worked for God and home and native land, and let us be hopeful that the cause which she espoused shall move forward in a brotherhood unequaled since the days of Washington.

"Miss Willard believed in first bulk. then brains, this is evolution's order, believe that the principle upon which Miss Willard worked was that which taught her how to slumber in the security of God's love, to eat and drink with a sense of the Divine pres-ence, bathing her in blessing and enabling her in whatsoever she did to do it to the glory of God; a principle which demanded the whole of her nature, and released her from every demand which would transcend that nat-

Mrs. H. A. Grant, Mrs. Cephas Scott, Mrs. Ida Pierce and others spoke along the lines of temperance, and in glowing terms of Miss Willard.

So Many Men and Women Do When It Is Entirely Needless.

Strong men often die early, not because their vital forces are exhausted, but because they abuse their powers, waste their energies and break down their constitutions. Hence, careful people often ive long, while people who are robust but rash go down to early graves. Accompanying the letter was a state ment from Dr. George B. Reynolds that he had attended Price from Jan. I to Jan. 21, 1898, for grippe and a contusion of the scalp; also bills for attendance and drugs purchased of George W. Jenkins. Chief Hickey sent word to the committee that he understood the letter to mean that the firemen intended to go to law to secure control of the fund derived from the tax on foreign fire insurance companies, which was intended for the relief of sick and disabled firemen, but which, through technicalities, they have been unable to get hold of. A test case will be made of Price's claim. He is a member of the Columbia Chemical company. The auditing committee referred the matter back to councils with a suggestion that it be submitted to the fire department committee, which has the s relief fund matter in hand

His wife was also injured, he says, but he does not make any damage claim on that account. The committee referred the bill to Street Commissioner Dunning.

WEST PITTSTON'S RECORD.

For Ten Years No Application to Sell Liquor There Has Been Filed.

Rev. W. G. Parke, D. D., of Pitts ton, has an article in the current number of the Presbyterian Journal, of Philadelphia, which has this to say about West Pittston:

"In the town of West Pittston, situated in the heart of the Wyoming coal fields, there is not a saloen, and no license is granted for the sale of strong drink. Repeated applications for such license have been made, but none have been granted. In this town there are strong, flourishing churches, representing various Christian denominations, first-class public schools, and all the appointments for comfort and improvement of a first-class town. It has a population of from six to eight thousand inhabitants, who are apparently ontented and happy and reasonably prosperous and entirely satisfied to live without a saloon or an inn.

"'How does this happen?" some one is ready to ask. The answer, "Simply because the people of West Pittston regard the saloon business demoraliz-ing and resist it.' 'Pure sentiment' is overwhelmingly against it, and the courts so regard it and act accordingly. So far as we know there has been no application for license to sell liquor in West Pittston for the last ten years."

REGAN ISN'T SATISFIED.

Thinks He Can Overcome Edward James' Pinrality.

A contest from the Sixth ward is not altogether improbable. Attorney T. P. Duffy, representing J. F. Regan, who was second in the race, was working on the returns in Prothonotary Cope-land's office yesterday, with a view of ascertaining if there were reasonable grounds for instituting a contest. The successful candidate, E. S. James, jr., sceived 368 votes to Mr. Regan's 276

Mr. Regan has stated that he beleves that lead can be overcome if the illegal votes alleged to have been cast for Mr. James in the Third district are

The Horrors of Rheumatism.

A woman's account of torture which lasted three years; of her struggles against the dreadful disease, and the good fortune that crowned her efforts.

Such suffering as rheumatism causes the victims upon whom it fastens itself is almost unendurable. Sufferers from the worst types of this terrible disease will supply the missing hor-rors in the following story from real life. Those who writhe under milder forms of rheumatism will be able to imagine the feelings of the tortured victim. The only justification for making public such heart-rending details is the fact that the lesson taught will be helpful to others, pointing the way to renewed life and health to every sufferer from rheumatism.

The story is told by a woman. Flee name is Mrs. Caleb Fenly; she lives in St. Paul, Ind.

This is her account:

"I am a farmer's wife. I believe my frequent exposure to the weather caused my terrible attack of rheumatism. Damp weather always aggravated it. weather always aggravated it.
"My limbs would begin to swell at the ankle joints.

"This swelling would begin in the night, at times. I would awake in agony.

"Daylight would find my limbs purple in color, swollen to twice their natural size, and so racked with pain I could not bear to touch them.
"My right arm and both legs were so drawn as to be almost useless.

"My skin became dry and yellow.

"At times my limbs would pain as though millions of needles were pricking
