Preliminary Steps Taken to Form a Choir to Compete at the |Eisteddtod in Wilkes-Parre May 30 -- Woman Entertains Priends.

The funeral of the late E. A. Wint was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence on East Market street. The Rev. George E. Guild, who officiated, offered up a their recent bereavement. short prayer, after which a male quartette rendered a beautiful anthem, Mr. Guild then delivered a touching and eloquent funeral discourse, dwelling briefly on the commendable and upright traits of Mr. Wint.

The floral offerings were many and beautifut, coming from the various so clotics of which the deceased was a member. Other floral offerings equal in magnificence were prominent and were the gifts of relatives. The pall-bearwere chosen from the ranks of Painters' union, Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows. The members of organizations attended funeral in a body. After a closing an-them by the quartetie, the remains were conveyed from the house to the hearse and the funeral procession then proceeded to Dunmore cemetery, where interment was made

TO FORM A CHOIR.

Many vocalists were present last evening at an interesting meeting in the West Market Street Welsh Baptlet church. The majority of them responded merely out of curiosity to know why the general call was issued. They were somewhat surprised when the prime movers in the affair stated the object of the meeting to them.

The meeting last evening was for the purpose of organizing a choir from this by Alderman Roberts. place to compete at the eisteddfod in Wilkes-Barre on May 30. Heretofore the choirs organized in this locality have been hampered because the best vocalists were not always secured. This obstacle it is proposed to overcome this time by appointing a committee of fifteen to select material for the making from the residence of Daniel Reese, of of a good choir. Owing to the lateness of the hour they were compelled to dis-card the other routine of business and West Market Street Welsh Baptist will hold a meeting in the near future. when it is expected a conductor will be definitely decided upon.
