Before the Sub-Committee of the House Judiciary Committee-- The Counties That Will Be Included in and Williamsport, and these are therethe Proposed Central Federal District of Pennsylvania.

trict of Pennsylvania. This morning a committee represent-ing the Lackawanna bar will go to Washington to appear before the sub-committee of the house judiciary com-mittee which has under consideration the bill introduced by Hon. William Connell providing for a central federal Connell providing for a central federal judicial district in Pennsylvania.

The committee will consist of Judge R. W. Archbald, F. W. Fleitz, Major T. F. Penman, J. H. Torrey and George M. Watson. It has been arranged to give the Lackawanna men a hearing fore the sub-committee at 10.30 Wedlesday morning.

It is probable that short addresses vill be made by each member of the Judge Butler. Pittsburg is the home ommittee. They will urge that a new district would be a great convenience to a large percentage of the people of case. The new district which is pro-Pennsylvania and that it could be created and maintained without placing any additional burden on the government from the fact that the amount now paid for carrying jurors, court officials and prisoners to and from the various parts of the widely scattered district where the court now sits in addition to what like expenses there would be in smaller districts would be sufficient to pay the ordinary expenses The Lackawanna men will go well fortified with facts and figures showing he necessity of the new district. Judge Archbald will make the principal ar-gument. In part it will be as follows: THE JUDGE'S ARGUMENT.

if a new court.

This movement for a new district is by to means recent. The need for it have been recognized and agitated for fulltwenty years. I cannot give the exact history of it, but it began at least as ler back as the forty-third congress when a bill was introduced in the neuse by Hen. L. D. Shoemaker, of Wilkes-Barre, substantially like the one now asked for was again brought forward by Hon J A. Scranton, of Scranton, in the for-ty seventh congress, and still again by Hon. H. C. McCormick, of Williamsport. The injustice of compelling one-thirl of the reople of the state of Fennsylvania to chase after their legal rights in the 'nited States courts as heretofore constituted is what has prompted each of these efforts and they are not likely to cease until they have been satisfied. They have been met from time to time by various objections at which I shull only hint by saying that the making of the marshal and the district attorney salaried officers has removed some of them. The partial relief afforded by providing for sittings of the court at different places, and particularly that of the act of 1886 giving a sitting of the court at Scranuton has probably stood to court at Scranton, has probably stood to a considerable degree in the way of the larger relief to which the people are entitled. We respectfully submit that half-way measures such as these should not any longer stand in the way of com-

EXPENSE SLIGHT. The expense to the government by the establishment of the district will be in-considerable. In the first place there are no new court buildings to erect. We have one in Scranton, they have one in Williamsport, and there is one in Har-rishing, the three places where the court is to be held. They have no federal courts at Harrisburg as yet and never have had nor ever will, unless some such bill as this passes. But with great such bill as this passes. But with great faith in the future the building there was provided with all the court facilities except the mere furnishings. One word as to how the district is put together and I have done. There are three recognized railroad and commer-cial centers in it. Scranton, Hartisburg and Williamsert, and there are therefore selected as the places where the court shall sit and the territory conveni-ent to them brought into the bill. This

Scranton, Pa., March 1, 1898. Pennsylvania is now divided into two deral judicial districts, the eastern eastern district is in Philadelphia and the district court is presided over by of the western district and Judge Bufflington presides over the trial of the vided for in Mr. Connell's bill will be composed of the following counties:

Potter, Tioga, Lycoming, Clinton, Cameron, Centre, Huntington, Mitflin, Juniata, Perry, Falton, Franklin, Cumberland, Adams, Dauphin, Snyder, Union, Lebanon, Northumberland, Montour, Columbia, Sullivan, Luzerne, Monroe, Pike, Wayre, Lackawanna, Susquehanna, Wyoming and Bradford ounties. The majority of these counties are now in the western district. The intention is to make Scranton the seat in the new court and have sessions in Williamsport and Harrisburg. The creation of the court would mean the appointment of a district judge for life at a salary of $5,000 a year, a United Stacs district attorney, a clerk, marshal and minor court officers.

Means Building Corridor.

A bicycle thief with a cast-iron nerve walked into the corridor of the Mears building yesterday and picked out a wheel to his liking, mounted it and rode away. An elevator boy who knew the owner of the wheel asked him if he Sheriff had loaned it to "a buck wid a w'ite 'at." The question suggested the theft and the thief was captured after a spirited chase. George W. Marshall was the owner of the wheel. When he realized that it had been stolen he and Mr. Dainty, a law student, took through passage on an elevator and reached the street in time to see the wheel and the rider
