MARTIN TRIAL IS RESUMED

Another Weary Week Before the Court and Jury.

TESTIMONY OF DEFENSE

Eye-Witnesses.

Miss Cora Henibach Tells of the Reign of Terror Previous to the Shooting .. Mrs. Katharine Craig Witnessed the Assault Made Upon and I went home." Sheriff Martin .- Stephen Guttenmiller Saw Men Supposed to Have Been Deputies Kick Wounded any. Strikers .- The Witnesses Generally Agree That There Was a Few Scattered Shots, a Volley and Then All Was Quiet.

Wilkes-Barre, Feb. 28.-The Martin trial started in another weary week today, with the resumption of evidence

Miss Cora Henibach, aged 18, who lives at Lattimer, testified that on September 10, the day of the shooting, she heard a woman who was running past her bouse call out that the strikers from Harwood were coming and that she was going to find her bushand and make him hide. "I was afraid they would blow up the town, continued the witness, "so I can to the school house and asked the teacher, Miss Coyle, to excuse my little sister as I knew she would be safer at home. She did so and I hurried home with the little girl. We were all going up stairs to hide in the garret when the shooting commenced. There were a few single shots and then a volley. I did not hear any shots after the velley." Stephen Guttenmiller gave the first evidence to substantiate the assertion of the defense that a man stood behind the line of deputies and urged the strikers on. He said: "I was driving from West Hazleton to Lattimer and got there just as the deputies lined up along the roadside. I stood some lit tle distance behind them and saw the strikers come up. As they approached nan standing behind th puties. He was a big fellow and had no ceat on. I saw him wave his arm and becken the strikers to come on. They did so. After stopping a moment with the sheriff they pushed past him and on toward the deputies. They were close to them when the shorting com-menced. Witness said that after the volley there was no shooting. On cross-examination he said many men were lying dead and wounded in the road and he saw one of the latter trying to rise, whereupon two men whom he though were deputies, kicked

John Wolfe, a conductor on the trolley road, said he saw the strikers near Harley's hotel just at the entrance to Lattimer. They were armed with clubs, George Mane, of Hazleton, was at Lattimer on the day of the shooting and heard the firing. He described it as "a single shot, then two, then a lot like the roll of a drum ending with a few scattered shots. It lasted about half a minute."

THREATS TO BURN A BREAKER. Mr. Mane said he was with the sheriff at Crystal Hidge a few days before the shooting and saw the sheriff disperse a number of strikers. As they went away one cried, "We'll come back to-night to burn the breaker

Mrs. Eatharine Craig, whose house is near the spot where the shooting occured, saw the sheriff advance to stop

"They pushed, and pulled him around," said she, "and crowded past him and went toward the deputies. Then I became frightened and ran into the house with my boys. One of them ran to the window and cried: Oh, mamma, they are killing the The shooting commenced about that time. There were a few scattered shots, then a volley. When it was all over the deputies came to my house for water and linen for the wounded men. That night we heard the strikers were coming to burn, or blow up the town and everybody left the town. Our family walked to Milnesville at 2 o'clock in the morning."

This afternoon Joseph Schwartz, a prominent Pole of this city, received a check of $500 from the National Polish alliance, of Chicago, to be added to the prosecuting fund.

The first witness of the afternoon was Burgess W. W. Smith, of West Hazleton. He said on September 3 he saw about fifty strikers drive the men from the Cuyle strippings by throwing stones at them. He began to tell how the policeman whom he ordered to arrest the men were afraid, but was stopped by the commonwealth and the objection was sustained. The burgess went on to say that after Siptember 3 he ordered Policeman Jones to place on duty three special policemen, to aid him at night. This was owing to the fear of violence at the hands of the strikers.

Oliver Leibensberger, a builder and contractor of Hazleton, hearing that the strikers were going to march to Milnesville or Lattimer, rode out on his bicycle to these places and after find-ing they were bound for Lattimer, he rode there, passing on the way some twelve or fifteen strikers, who pur-sued him, crying: "Kill him, kill him."

THE SHERIFF'S ADVICE. "I got behind the line of the depuhe said, "some thirty feet and watched the strikers approaching.

When they drew near Sheriff Martin said to his deputies: "Boys, I want you to keep a cool head, this is the worst crowd we've ever met."

"One of the deputies asked if he did not want a deputy to go with him. 'No,' he replied, 'I'll go alone.' He did. advancing with a paper in his hand, and as he neared them held up one hand to stop them. I could not hear what he said, there was such a clamor. The first ranks halted, but the men behind called to them to go ahead. Then man in the third rank rushed upon the sheriff, who dropped the paper and grabbed the man with his left hand and pulled his revolver with his right. Then they forced him back into the gutter and crowded around him, so that I could not see him. A lot of them rushed upon the deputies and when they were within fifteen feet I heard an order to fire given. I cannot tell who gave it. There was a shot, a couple of shots and then a volley. The Thrilling Narratives Given by whole front rank fell down, some shot and some perhaps dropping to avoid being shot. There was no shooting after the first volley. When the crowd was fleeing I saw Sheriff Martin arising from his knees near the gutter. 1 helped the deputies to care for some of the wounded, but after awhile, when a crowd of young Irishmen gathered and began to curse the deputies, 1 thought it was too hot there for me

> On cross-examination Leibensberger said he did not work as a builder for any coal company and never had done

William J. Evans, a reporter for the Hazleton Sentinel, said that hearing of there and found the strikers along one the other side. Burgess Smith was on a little knoll, telling a lot of women and children to go home, saying it was not safe for them there. I saw one of the strikers in the act of throwing a tone at A. P. Platt, a deputy. witness went with the deputies to Lattimer and stood about sixteen feet from the edge of the line. He said in describing the shooting:

EVANS' DESCRIPTION.

"I saw Sheriff Martin go out to meet the strikers and heard a deputy ask if he should not go along. He said no and went on alone. When the strikers stopped near him I saw the sheriff grab at a man and then forty or fifty men pounced on him and pushed him along to the edge of the road. Some crowded past him and pushed on toward the deputies and the shooting commenced. After the shooting I saw three men lying dead together and close to the hand of one of them was a revolver. I picked it up, stuck it in my pocket and reported it to the sheriff. I kept it until the inquest when I gave it to Coroner McKee.

Coroner McKee being present produced the pistol and it was placed in evidence. Reporter Evans testified that the volley fired by the deputies came from the center of the line. The prosecution failing to prove that the vistol picked ip by Evans was his property and he also was positive that the strikers did not start to run away until the shooting ceased. Coroner McKee testified to receiving the pistol from Reporter Evans at the inquest two weeks after the s' uting. Benjamin Norris, of Hazleton, a motorman on the trolley line, testified o bringing the dead and wounded to Fazleton and as to the finding of an empty pistol in the coat of one of the dead men. The pistol was produced in evidence. Pr. John Koons, a practicing physician of Hazleton, testified to being alled by the chief of police to treat two wounded men in the jail. One of the nen declined to be examined, although ne claimed he had a broken arm and the examination had to be made by orce. There was no fracture of the

The other man had two slight calp wounds. John Landmesser, an old resident of West Hazleton, testified to advising the strikers to disperse and go home and pay attention to the sheriff's proclamation. The strikers declined to listen and replied: "The sheriff no

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Feb. 28.-Today's stock market was strong but the activity was largely centered in the leading stocks such as Sugar, the Grangers, Union Fa-cific, preferred, and a few others. The most notable strength was also shown by these stocks. The total sales showed a considerable falling off from the recent average and the market lacked breadth. business belifg poorly distributed. Appre-hension over the Cuban question seemed to be in abeyance and the course of the market was continually upward after the opening with the exception of a slight reaction after noon and some yielding from the highest near the close on profit-taking. Total sales were 328,200 shares, Furnished by WILLIAM LINN ALLEN & CO., stock brokers, Mears building,
