SOME OF our customers have asked how long our sale of sheet music at half price would continue? We have sold sheet music for 12 years at one-third off, and for two years and one-half at half price. The sale will continue indefinitely, and the same care will be taken five years from now to fill orders as at present. We are not cutting prices, but only selling at the lowest price and still make a profit.

If you don't want to be made wild with the desire to tear down your house and build larger, so that you may be able to adorn its walls with the new papers this spring, you should make a big detour around the wallpaper shops, for never were there such entrancing French designs, such rich and rare colorings as can be found at this season. Some of the lovely reds and olives baffle description.

The Otis Whist club will probably be reorganized with the aim of its members that of really improving their game. Mr. Otis is expected to make a visit to this city in the near future, when a number of ladies may take lessons if the opportunity offers.

At last men are frank enough to call one club by its right name. Heretofore they have hedged by giving these organizations patriotic, ancestral, historic, commercial or other cognomens, which more or less meant nothing. A number of prominent personages have organized one in Brooklyn, which is termed the "Get Together Club," and which eminently fulfills its avowed purpose. It isn't often that the real object of a club is thus candidly defined.

It is hoped that M. Guilmant can be secured for an organ recital in this city before he leaves for Europe. The desire has been unanimously expressed by the leading people of Scranton that it is understood an effort will be made in this direction.

The Friday night games for the past winter at the Scranton Whist club score as follows for the sixteen nights:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Includes Dale and Broadbent, Godfrey and Wallace, Fuller and Davis, etc.

The players, it should be understood, score only at the first table.

The managers of the Florence mission held a regular meeting yesterday morning at the new mission on Harrison avenue. A great pleasure to all the members of the board was the presence of Mrs. Thomas Dickson, the much loved president, who, on account of illness, had been unable to attend many sessions for some time. Nothing but routine business was transacted.

PERSONAL.

D. B. Atherton was in Wilkes-Barre yesterday. City Engineer Phillips is suffering from an attack of the grip. P. F. Griffin has been engaged as night clerk at the St. Charles hotel. Miss Sarah McLane, the Adams avenue milliner, leaves for New York today. Mrs. Thomas Moore, of Millin avenue, is entertaining Mrs. Crane, of Virginia. District Attorney John R. Jones and family returned yesterday from a ten-day visit in Philadelphia.

CURIOS FROM CHINA.

Brought Back by Miss Cobb from the Flowery Kingdom. A large number of guests gathered in the rooms of the Young Women's Christian association last night to welcome Miss Cobb back from China and to see her foreign curios. Miss Cobb, it will be remembered, went to China five and one-half years ago in the place of Miss Dunn, who was to have sailed but decided to marry and remain here. Instead, Miss Cobb has been most of the time in Shanghai. She returned a few weeks ago but will sail again for China in October, when she expects to take up work in the interior. She has been very successful in learning to speak a number of dialects and likes the mission work, but regards the five years as long indeed.

She has a great store of native articles which interested visitors last night. Among them are beathen gods in profusion with very fat Buddhas predominating. A real treasure is a pair of miraculous mollusk shells on the inner surface of which appear intricate figures of the great Buddha seated like himself in a cross-legged attitude. These shells are difficult to secure and are regarded with much awe by the natives who believe the little raised figures to have been miraculously produced.

The truth is that the clever priests insert tiny wood figures within the shell and the tenant heathens to coat the irritating intruders with a layer of mother-of-pearl and the effect is really marvelous. In the collection were many fetiches against harm. Some very remarkable ones were hung on the bed to ward off evil spirits from the sleeper, others containing a string of articles made up of infinitesimal monkeys, cushions and "ceahs" or such as the fond mother placed around the neck of her child. There were exquisitely embroidered shoes, bridal gear, capes and head wear in general made of the much fine china, including a plate more than 200 years old, having been that time in the family of Miss Cobb's teacher. Models of Chinese vessels and figures depicting scenes among the interesting things shown. The collection contains much that even the most indefatigable curio hunter seldom finds and is therefore the more interesting.

WILKES-BARRE IN A STEAL.

Adopts a Popular Scranton Scheme Without Giving Proper Credit. The Scranton board of trade's certificate scheme for the mutual protection of its members against fake advertising solicitors was adopted in Wilkes-Barre last night's meeting of the Wilkes-Barre board of trade. In their report of the meeting, however, the Wilkes-Barre papers fail to give the Scranton body credit for the plan which has been put to use by trade and commerce bodies in many of the larger cities of the state. The form of certificate and placard devised by Scranton's secretary, D. B. Atherton, were adopted verbatim in Wilkes-Barre. The failure to put the credit where it belongs is immaterial except as an illustration of Wilkes-Barre's reluctance to speak above a whisper of anything good coming from Scranton.

IT WILL BE OPPOSED.

Wilkes-Barreans Object to Gouldsboro Annexation. It is now feared that the project to annex a portion of Lehigh township to Gouldsboro will meet with opposition. In the territory to be annexed are a number of country seats owned by prominent Wilkes-Barreans. They would prefer for obvious reasons to have their holdings in a township rather than a borough and are taking steps to fight the annexation, it is said. Ex-Judge Garrick M. Harding, one of the Wilkes-Barreans in question, was examining the papers in the case in Clerk of the Courts Daniels' office, Monday.

METHOD OF FIXING THE CITY FINANCES.

Estimate Committee Appears to Be Working Backwards.

DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY IN POWER.

Time and Trouble Could Be Saved by Revising the 1897 Appropriations Instead of Reducing the 1898 Estimates—One Involves an Addition of $10,000, the Other a Decrease of $72,993.40 in Estimates the Disposition of Amendments Amounting to $117,963.50.

It is plain that the 1898 appropriation ordinance cannot provide for more than about $10,000 more than was provided in the appropriations for the fiscal year now ending. Last year's appropriations amounted to $285,241.25 exclusive of $28,548 for sinking fund and interest, for which provision is made independent of the general city expenses. During 1898 $285,109 will be available for general city items according to the city controller's estimate. The Democratic majority of the joint estimate committee does not appear to realize the situation, or, if aware of it, they do, are pursuing an unbusinesslike way to meet the situation. On account of their majority of one on the committee they have been privileged to pursue their own plan. This consists of cutting down the 1898 estimates by $38,092.40 to the revenue of $250,100 instead of a quicker, fairer and easier method, that of raising the 1897 appropriations of $285,241.25 to the estimated revenue for 1898. The latter method would involve the elimination of a few improvement items of 1897 and the distribution among the different departments of the balance necessary to make the total $250,100.

MUCH CUTTING NECESSARY.

In addition to amendments amounting to $117,963.50, suggested after the regular department estimates had been printed, the committee began its work with department estimates amounting to $279,924.40 more than the revenue. On Monday evening the committee lopped off $54,725 which leaves $18,258.40 to be cut away, exclusive of the amendments. The estimates which haven't been revised are $285,109. The building inspector's, board of health, public library, park, board of appeal, general city and deficiency departments.

Last year the fire department was appropriated $41,549.29. This year Chief Hickey estimates $43,250 as an amount which is absolutely necessary and submits a supplementary estimate approved by the joint fire department committee of councils amounting to $60,850. The larger items of the supplementary estimate are $2,250 for the purchase of five alarm systems, $22,000 for a fire headquarters in the rear of the City Hall, $12,000 for a site and building for Crystal Hose company, and a considerable sum for the extra horses, permanent and equipment. The board of health wants $12,700, an increase of $6,170. Of this sum $900 is for crematory repairs termed "absolutely necessary," 23,000 for the purchase of a crematory lot, $400 for an increase in the salary of the chemist for $600 for an additional sanitary officer and $500 extra for office expenses.

WHAT LIBRARY WANTS.

The Scranton Public Library asks for $12,500, or $1,100 more than last year. Of the increase $200 is mentioned as positively necessary for extra help and increased salaries and $900 is for new stock.

The large sum of $16,947.25, an increase of $12,347.25, is asked by the park commissioners, $14,835 for Nav Aug park, $1,562.25 for Connell park and $250 for Woodlawn park. This department is asked to get at the committee would like to favor and probably will but if it gets an increase of $1,000 it will receive more than its proportionate share of the $10,000 more than last year to be distributed.

BIG INDUSTRY IN SIGHT.

Deal Is About Ready to Reach a Favorable Conclusion. Everything points toward a favorable conclusion of the deal now on between a large manufacturing concern and local capitalists for the establishing of the former's plant in this city. The deal is now in the hands of the lawyers. The deal is now in the hands of the lawyers. The deal is now in the hands of the lawyers.

Representatives of the firm were in the city Saturday and yesterday and the final propositions have been submitted by all parties concerned in the deal. The land for the plant has been given by a well-known Scranton capitalist. It is proposed that local capital shall erect the mill, which is to cost about $40,000, the firm giving an ample bond to pay a 6 per cent. rental for five years, to equip the mill with $100,000 worth of machinery and to purchase the property at its original cost at the end of the five years.

The Tribune is informed that proposals have already been received for the erection of the building, which can be finished in four months from the signing of the contract, and that the project will likely reach a favorable termination in a few weeks.

WYOMING AVENUE EXTENSION.

City Commission Is Ready to Adjust Damage Claims. The commission created by the ordinance to adjust the damages for opening Wyoming avenue is ready to begin its work but has been delayed by the illness of City Engineer Phillips. Mayor Bailey, City Solicitor McGinley and City Controller Robinson compose the commission.

The members of the commission are satisfied that the case can be settled without appeal to court. Their view is based upon the benefits that will result from the improvement. The work cannot be properly undertaken without the counsel and help of the city engineer. As his illness is only trivial he will probably be able to assist the commission the latter part of this week.

NEW AND NOVEL PLAN.

Board of Trade's Next Session to Be Decidedly Unique. Preliminary arrangements have been made for the novel business-banquet session of the board of trade Monday evening, March 21. It will be the regular monthly meeting of the board, but will combine a new social feature calculated to bring out a large attendance and continue the interest of members in the board's work.

At 7.30 o'clock the gathering will sit down to what may be correctly termed a supper or a lunch. It will be furnished by the Scranton club steward, O'Neill, the cost of $1 per plate to be paid out of the board treasury. It is anticipated that about one hundred members will be present. The supper, it is expected, will last about an hour. Two long tables will be arranged together in T shape.

At the conclusion of the supper, cigars will be lighted and the business session proper will begin without any re-arrangement of the seats. During the prescribed order of the usual regular proceedings, a half-hour or more will be devoted to impromptu speaking.

VETERANS ADOPT RESOLUTIONS.

They Offer Their Services to the Country if They Are Needed. At a recent meeting of Colonel William M. Monies Post, Grand Army of the Republic, of this city, the following straight-from-the-shoulder resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, we believe that our flag, the flag which we gave our best days to protect, has been insulted by some enemy when it was floating from the mast of our battleships in the port of Havana, which is governed by Spain, and that by dastardly means over two hundred men enlisted under it met death, therefore be it

Resolved, That as members of the Grand Army of the Republic, hereby order to the president of the United States, our services, should they be needed in wiping out this stain upon our national emblem, be it further Resolved, That we are ready to respond to the call to duty whenever our services may be desired.

By order of the post, P. J. McAndrew, Commander.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

Mrs. Eva Cutchins Was Saved from the County Jail by Deputy Sheriff Frank Ryan.

An evident attempt at mean extortion was frustrated yesterday by the keenness and kind heartedness of Deputy Sheriff Frank Ryan. Eva Cutchins, a poor, frail-looking Polish woman, of Doughton, was arrested last May and held to bail by Alderman J. P. Kelly in the sum of $500, M. Frochowsky becoming her bondsman. By reason of her ignorance she was not on hand when her case was called before the next succeeding grand jury and the bondsman failed to show up. The sheriff's office where the bail piece has been all this time does not develop, but when Mrs. Cutchins' husband left for Pittsburg to look for work, Monday, the bail piece was hunted up and yesterday, the woman, who is a year-old babe in her arms, was dragged into the sheriff's office and surrendered.

Deputy Ryan did not like the idea of sending the unfortunate woman to jail and he also did not like the looks of the fellow who brought her in. He had heard of this same individual and concluded that the fact that he was connected with the case warranted an investigation. "Key" Steinberg was called on and instructed to get at the bottom of the matter. He did, and when he made his report Deputy Ryan said he'd be blown, or something of that kind if the woman would go to jail.

"Well, she can get bail; she has money," the bail-broker sneakingly remarked. "She can get bail without money," retorted Mr. Ryan in angry tones, "I'll go her bail myself."

District Attorney Jones was sent for and when he arrived the party repaired to the office of Clerk of the Courts Daniels.

"How much bail do you want in this case?" inquired Mr. Ryan.

"What is it, let's see," and the district attorney scanned the bail piece.

"This fellow brought her in," Mr. Ryan volunteered, pointing to the cringing bail-broker.

"H'm," said Mr. Jones in a meaningful way, "you've rested on the individual pointed to. I guess it will be all right to let her go on her own recognizance. Fill out a blank Tommoy."

Clerk Daniels proceeded with the necessary formalities and then Deputy Ryan said "Tell her go home."

"Key" Steinberg told her of what had occurred and that she should be out on April 15 to appear in court. She stopped her crying and wiping her eyes began looking round for the person who had befriended her. He hadn't wanted to be thanked. He was back at his desk plodding over a pile of legal papers as high as his head.

THIS WILL BE A REAL LAW SUIT

Country Justice Are Preparing for an Unusual Trial.

ANCIENT LAW HAS BEEN INVOKED

A Precept to Sheriff Pryor to Summon Twenty-four Jurors to Try a Damage Case Before Two Justices of the Peace in Ransom--First Case of Its Kind Here, So Far as Is Now Known--Cause of This Somewhat Unusual Proceeding.

It takes a country justice of the peace to ferret out law. Here is what kept Sheriff Pryor and Deputy Frank E. Ryan thumbing the books during the best part of yesterday afternoon:

PRECEPT. Lackawanna county, S. S. [L. S.] The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

To the Sheriff of the County of Lackawanna, greeting: We command you that you cause to come before N. G. Reed and D. M. Huthmaker, requires, two of the justices of the peace in and for the county of Lackawanna, at the house of N. G. Reed in the township of Ransom, in the said county, on the 7th day of March next ensuing, at ten of the clock in the forenoon of that day, twenty-four sufficient and indifferent men of that neighborhood, every one of whom shall have lands or tenements of forty shillings yearly at the least, above repairs, to inquire for us, upon their oaths or affirmations, of a certain entry, made with a strong hand, as it is said, Joseph Kucher and Amos Hunzinger, both of Newton township, in said county, yeoman, into the message and plantation of Michael Gilmore, at Newton township aforesaid, against the form of the statute in such cases made and provided; and that you, also, summon the said Joseph Kucher and Amos Hunzinger to be and appear before our said justices at the day and place aforesaid, to show cause, if any they have, why restitution of the said premises should not be made to the said Michael Gilmore, according to the form of the statute aforesaid, and you are to return upon every of the jurors by you in this behalf to be impaneled, twenty shillings for issues at the aforesaid day, and have with you then and there this precept, and this you shall in no wise omit upon the peril that shall thereof ensue.

Witness the said N. G. Reed, J. P. D. M. Huthmaker, Ransom, aforesaid, the 25th day of Feb. A. D. 1898.

N. G. Reed, J. P. D. M. Huthmaker, J. P.

It is the first time since a precept has ever been encountered in the county, according to the best recollection of Deputy Ryan, and what he doesn't know about county history isn't worth knowing. It is probably all right and perfectly legal, but the sheriff's office hasn't been able as yet to discover just what some of the things in it mean.

The United States of it is that there is a lawsuit pending up in Ransom between Michael Gilmore on the one side and Joseph Kircher and Amos Hunzinger on the other. Gilmore, it appears, contracted to buy a strip of the old Kern farm in Ransom from Susan Kircher, one of the Kern heirs. He gave a $2,000 judgment note, which was to be satisfied at the rate of $100 a month. Gilmore defaulted in the payments and the Kirchers proceeded to recover the land. Gilmore alleges that last fall he locked up the premises and moved to Wyoming county. When he returned he learned, so he alleges, that Joseph Kircher and his hired man, Amos Hunzinger, had forced an entrance to the place, presumably to take possession in Susan Kircher's name.

For this forcible entry Gilmore now seeks damages and the justices of the peace of the township, moved by his appeal, have resorted to this antique method of settling the question.

Great musicians use Kimballs. The testimony of musicians who command a salary of from $1,000 to $2,000 for each performance must be accepted as having weight. They, at least, escape the charge of not knowing what they are talking about. Lillian Nordica says: "The more I use my Kimball piano the better I like it." Jean De Reszke says: "We have concluded to purchase Kimball pianos for our personal use." John Philip Sousa claims: "The Kimball piano is first-class in every respect."
