CROSS EXAMINATION OF SHERIFF MARTIN

The Main Point Established Yesterday.

OTHER TESTIMONY FOR DEFENSE

Contractor Samuel Price Gives an Account of the Events-The Events aided the injured and dead after the shooting. On the cross-examination Tells How the Sheriff Advised His of his ancestors, the Pardees, by tell-Deputies to Keep Cool.

Wilkes-Barre, March 2 .- The crossexamination of Sheriff Martin was resumed this morning and continued for nearly an hour.

The main point established was if it the witness denied making the remark. after the shooting, that he had merely taken a hand "in the matter as plain James Martin, and not as the sheriff of Luzerne county."

The defense then endeavored to have the sheriff testify that he was unable to suppress the riot and disorder that existed in the Hazleton region and that the civil authorities were unable to cope with it and had then telegraphed to the governor of Pennsylvania for aid to suppress the riot and that consequently the governor ordered out the state militin on the night of Sept. 10. The commonwealth objected to this line of testimony and Judge Woodward sustained the objection.

Samuel Price, a contractor and com-mission merchant of Hazleton, testified that he was Sheriff Martin's chief deputy during the week and had been selected by Mr. Hall, of Hazleton, and was sworn in on the night of Sept. 6. four days before the Lattimer shoot-ing. He told about the sheriff giving all the deputies explicit orders to keep cool and not get excited; to protect property, maintain the peace. He also told them they were not to shoot unless for self-protection.

The witness corroborated Sheriff Martin's testimony from the time the depucies went on duty at 5 o'clock Sept. 5 until the deputies formed in line at Lattimer. He heard several Hungarians jeer the deputies and remark: "You shotee, killee me, me no citizen, my wife and children get plenty The witness also discovered. money." by going among the strikers and feel-ing about their clothing, that they were armed with revolvers and stones. The sheriff declined to have any of the 13. deputies accompany him when he walked down the road at Lattimer to meet the mob and endeavor to halt the strikers. The witness then gave a straightforward account of the scene of the shooting. He said he was standing in an alley to the left of the line of deputies, and saw the sheriff halt the strikers. Then a moment later the Rome; the strikers. Then a moment later the strikers surged around the sheriff and began to jostle and shove him to the Rev. W. A. Carrington, Wyalusing, side of the road, when the witness lost sight of the sheriff by the balance of the strikers surging past him and rushing mudly upon the deputies.

his knees and pummeled by the strikers, some of whom flourished revolvers and knives and tried to kill hun. The withess left the deputies, rushed to the sheriff's rescue and tried to stop the strikers, but his gun would not work. withess left the deputies, rushed to the strikers, but his gun would not work.

The balance of the strikers rushed to-wards the deputies. While the witness tried to rescue the sheriff he heard a chot and then came the volley. There

A PISTOL SHOT.

Just at this point a pistol shot rang out back of the witness and he heard the bullet whistle past. He turned around to see where it came from, when he saw a striker back of the dep uties pointing a pistol at him. The witness threw himself on the ground and he heard the shot whistle over his head. He heard the strikers yell, and the next instant he heard the volley fired from the center of the line of deputico. The volley sounded like the toll of a drum and was all over in loss than half a minute. There was less than half a minute. There was Strong; lambs, steady; choice sheep, $1.55 no shooting after the volley. By the time the witness could get on his feet. all was over and the strikers were $6,50a7; heavy and thin calves, $3a4.50. ushing away.

The mob formed in line again about six hundred yards away in the woods, and the witness thought that they were going to make another rush upon the deputies, but the mob then dis-

The witness then told how he assisted in caring for the injured by getting water and bandages, and said he assisted in removing dead and wounded from the scene,

The witness was put through a rigid cross-examination but the common-wealth's' counsel failed to make him contradict himself. He said that he was still in possession of his Springfield rifle which he carried when he was serving as a deputy, and kept it for his own protection at his home.

He said that some of the strikers had foitered around the woods at Lattimer the balance of the afternoon watching the deputies care for the dead and wounded but offered no assistance. They also watched the men at work in the breaker until 5 o'clock when the breaker shut down for the day. The witness said he had his back turned when the deputies fired the volley,

Mr. Price further testified on crossexamination that he did not know who gave the deputies the order to fire. He also said that he himself did not fire a shot, and that he did not hide in the alley to escape being shot by his own

The Lattimer trial was resumed at 2 p. m. The first witness called was Arce Pardee Platt, of Hazleton, manager of the Pardee department store He proved the best witness the defense has so far had, as he gave a clear and detailed description of the whole affair. He was one of the deputies and told how the property owners in Hazleton and vicinity appointed special watchmen to guard their properties at night from being damaged by the riotous mob of strikers, and how they purchased one hundred Spring-field rifles and breech-loading shot guns for these watchmen. These were the arms that were afterward given to the deputies. He also told how a chartered police association had been organized in 1870, and had guarded company properties ever since in that region. Mr. Platt told how a striker. carrying a flag, nailed on a stick, had struck him with it, and how the witness broke the stick and took the flag. when the striker tried to run the stick in his face. The witness saw the sheriff halt the strikers at Lattimer on Sept. 10 and advise them to disperse.

Neath a locust tree close nestling. in a rural spot thrice fair; s a home, the muse is courting. And its virtues, hosts declare; Call it not a pretty mansion, None would such an error make; Ancient, and without pretension. Is the cottage by the lake.

From the fevered city hastening, See the wheelman on his steed; For his destination bending, Pressing on with wond'rous speed; Wearied, on his arid journey Rests, his burning thirst to slake; Royal kindness greets him promptly, In the cottage by the lake

As the shelt'ring locust's blossoms. Fragrant, white 'neath summer's sun so pure thoughts bloom in each bosom Heaven's great bliss on earth begun; Distant from the world of slander. And unknown to fraud and fake; Castle to all truth and honor, Is the cottage by the lake.

Passing years have brought unbroken Keen affliction to the sire; lolden health her wings has taken, Feeble, low the vital fire; There's no foolish murmuring usage, Of contentment all partake; There is buoyant faith-there's courage In the cottage by the lake.

Morn and eve there's heard "devotions, All their Bibles soon pursue; Then a hymn, with voice and organ, Some old hymn, or some one new; Parents and their growing glories Kneel, by turn a prayer to make; And transformed to real temple Is the palace by the lake.

What is life without true friendship, And the love of friends indeed; Lighter much the loads of hardship With love's smilas, more brisk speed; Many friends of blest ambition,

Off their welcome visits make: And they leave their benediction, In the cottage by the lake

Long ago the blessed Master, Loved the lake of Galilee; Banished there the pangs of hunger, Heralded true liberty; He is still abroad with blessing. His own poor, He'li ne'er forsake; This is why there's such a blessing, In the cottage by the lake, -D. D. Jenkins,
