LUANGO UNDERWENT A SUDDEN CHANGE

Confessed His Guilt, and Ten Minutes Later Denied It.

IT, HOWEVER, AVAILED HIM NOT

The Alleged Murderous Assault of Giovanni Celeberti Brought Back from Boston and After a Two-Session Hearing is Committed to the County Jail--Gave Chief Robling a Little Surprise Party at the Alderman's Office.

After evading the police for six months, Giuseppe Luango, who is accused of the brutal assault that led to the death of Giovanni Celeberti, was committed to the county jail to await trial on a charge of defrauding his sister, Mattie Turner, out of a small board bill.

He arrived in this city at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in custody of Detective John Moir, who went after him to Boston, where he was captured Tuesday last by the detectives of that city.

Word of his coming had spread among his countrymen and when he was taken off the train at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western station he was immediately surrounded by a large crowd, all of them apparently kindly disposed toward him.

MADE A CONFESSION. On the way from Boston he maintained that he was not implicated in the shooting, but to Chief Robling he made a full breast of the deed.

AN AUTOPSY PERFORMED

Developed the Fact That Mrs. Gendzilewicz's Death Was Due to Peritonitis--Responsibility of Doctor.

Nothing was learned yesterday to strengthen the charge of John Gendzilewicz that his wife had died from the medicine administered by Frank Kornewski, the Russian Pole, who has been practicing among his countrymen on the South Side without proper credentials.

Coroner Longstreet went to the Gendzilewicz home at Water street yesterday afternoon, where he impelled a jury and made an autopsy of the body. The jurors are: Patrick Cusick, J. D. Keator, A. E. Vorhis, John T. Brown, John Majernik and A. Wislowski.

The autopsy revealed an abscess formed in the pelvic cavity and holding a large quantity of pus. The woman had evidently died from septic peritonitis caused by infection from septic material. To the undersigned, the physician, Kornewski, was recommended to them by a fellow countryman who came to America on the same ship with them two years ago.

The woman was young and had two children, aged 7 months and 5 years, respectively. Kornewski was recommended to them by a fellow countryman who came to America on the same ship with them two years ago.

Kornewski was summoned and prepared for her regularly. The last medicine he prescribed seemed to have an unfavorable effect. Mrs. Gendzilewicz died in great agony Wednesday night.

Coroner Longstreet and the jury found evidence of total poverty in the Gendzilewicz home. The body rested on a cooling board in the front room and alongside it was a pine coffin on two chairs. The body had not been put on ice. Two rooms in addition to the whole of the home, which was without a fire. The bed in which the woman had died had not been made and its bedclothing was scattered about the room. Wearing apparel, cooking utensils and the scant furniture was scattered about in confusion.

A part of this scene yesterday was the husband who, while the autopsy was being held, covered and sobbed in a corner of the room in which the body rested in confusion.

Kornewski has not been arrested. His responsibility will be determined at Wednesday night's inquest.

Horse Badly Injured. Runaway Team on Adams Avenue Dashes into a Pole.

An exciting runaway occurred on Adams avenue yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A team belonging to Herman Frankfort, of Benton, was standing under the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western bridge, which spans Adams avenue, just south of Lackawanna, when train No. 3 whizzed along overhead.

Their run, however, lasted for only a little more than a block. When the corner of Adams avenue and Spruce street was reached one horse wanted to turn and the other desired to go straight ahead. They compromised by dashing into the telegraph pole on the corner house corner. Both horses and the wagon were badly mixed up by the
