The late Patrick Caffrey was borne from the residence of Richard Willis, of 210 South Seventh street, to Archbold yesterday afternoon and laid at rest in the cemetery there. Previous to the moving of the large cortege which accompanied the remains to their last resting place, the friends and relatives gathered at the residence and a short service was held. The floral tributes were profuse and very beautiful.

The funeral of the late George Judson was held yesterday afternoon from the residence on Railroad avenue. The services, which were in charge of Lackawanna lodge, No. 291, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of which the deceased was a member, were attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The floral tributes were exquisite and numerous. At the conclusion of the services, the remains, accompanied by a large funeral cortege, were borne to Forest Hill cemetery, where interment was made. The pall-bearers were selected from the order.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Captain and Mrs. J. Mars, of the Salvation army corps of this side held a farewell reception last evening in the barracks on Price street. There was a large attendance of members of the corps and friends. The work accomplished during the captain's term of charge was reviewed and a new soldier added to the roster. Speeches were made and a general happy time was had.

The corps will lose the captain and his estimable helpmeet, who is a lieutenant tomorrow, they having been transferred to service at Bangor, Pa. In spite of the regret the members of the corps did them God speed, rejoicing in the fact that there is another corps gain.

The Juniors of the corps held forth Saturday evening at the barracks. For some time past they have been diligently preparing for the rendering of an entertainment, the funds realized from which were to go toward paying for the insurance on the barracks. Lieutenant Harriet Brooks was in charge and the large audience were thoroughly satisfied by the efforts of the youngsters.

Today is the fiftieth anniversary of Captain George E. Reel, of Harrisburg, Pa., who is now engaged in evangelizing in this city for the Salvation army. He is a cripple but an active one and became so honorably. He lost both his limbs while in the Union army during the late unpleasantness between the North and South. It is probable that a very pleasant surprise will be given the captain at the barracks on Price street.

The Scranton Traction company has experienced considerable trouble lately with the large vestibuled cars used in its service. Yesterday afternoon about 1:40 o'clock an accident happened to Car 203, of this class, which was inward bound, in charge of Conductor Daniels and Motorman Bunnell. The scene of the accident was on the grade on West Lackawanna avenue. Just above the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western crossing. The car, as is the custom, was brought to a standstill at the head of the grade, where a sharp curve leads off Ninth street onto West Lackawanna avenue. In running out of the turn into the straight line the rear truck left the track and ran along on the Belgian blocks with which the street is paved. The truck fortunately moved in a parallel line with the rails, though about two feet outside of them, and the car traveled for some distance in this way before it could be stopped.

The wreck car was soon on the scene and the truck replaced. A delay of about forty-five minutes occurred, but the passengers of the cars moving in both directions were transferred.

SCHOOL BOYS CARRY REVOLVERS.

That there is law prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons does not seem to deter boys from violating it. This fact is evidenced by the discovery of no less than three revolvers upon the persons of an equal number of boys of about fourteen years of age in one of the rooms of public school No. 18, Friday. The discovery was brought about by an investigation into the cause of the firing of shots in Roberts court, which runs immediately alongside of the lot on which the building stands. The firing was done during the period of recess and was reported to Principal John T. Jones by the teacher of the room in which the lad, who had been pointed out to her as the one who fired the shots, was a pupil. Principal Jones requested the delivery of the weapon to him, and further investigation proved the presence of a cheap, ordinary type and small calibre, but none the less dangerous.

A BOLD THIEF THIS.

Pedestrians passing along West Lackawanna avenue, near the Central Railroad of New Jersey depot, about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, witnessed a bold attempt at highway robbery, which dumfounded them and gave the would-be highwayman his needed opportunity to escape. The gentleman upon whom the attempt was made is Passenger Agent J. S. Swisher, of the Central road. He was waiting for a street car to carry him to his residence on South Main avenue, and drew his purse from his pocket to take the amount of his fare. He was thus engaged when a dark, forbidding-looking individual who was passing by, tried to seize the purse.

With a quick backward swing of his left hand, Mr. Swisher knocked the fellow from his feet. Before he could be detained, the thief scrambled to his feet, rushed across the bridge and disappeared along Cliff street.

HAPPENINGS OF SOUTH SCRANTON

Rev. Francis Hodur Returns from His Visit to Europe.

REASON HE CROSSED THE OCEAN

He Explained It to a Tribune Reporter Yesterday--Mark Coyne Arrested for Assaulting His Brother-in-law, Martin Corbett--Elders Installed at the Hickory Street Church--Marriage of Miss Mary Schneider to William Sprandel.

Rev. Francis Hodur, pastor of St. Stanislaus Polish church, of Locust street, who has been in Europe for the past two months, reached the city at 12:45 yesterday over the Central road. He was met at the station by his assistant, Father Szymanski, and a committee of his parishioners, and Editor Langowski, of the Strag, a Polish weekly.

Four carriages were in waiting and the party was driven to the residence of Father Hodur, on Locust street, and awaiting on him was his large congregation. A demonstration took place. From Pittston avenue to the residence, up Locust street, the societies of the church stood with open ranks, while the carriages passed through. After lunch, Father Hodur received his parishioners.

A Tribune reporter called at his residence at the close of the evening services and was granted an interview. The reverend gentleman told in detail his visit to Russia, Austria, and Rome. His trip to the latter place was of the greatest interest to his people and the Polish people throughout the valley. Father Hodur said:

I have been away for two months, and reached New York city yesterday afternoon, on the steamer New York. My mission to Rome, you know, was an important one. I went there as the special representative of my congregation, St. Albert's church at Priebeur and in company with Rev. W. G. Philadelphia, to present to His Holiness, Pope Leo, through Cardinal Vanetti, a petition signed by committees of these congregations and by a committee of the National Polish alliance.

I was anxious for a consideration of these four imperative reforms: First, that a Polish bishop be sent to America; secondly, self-government among the Polish people, and new rules in the managing of church funds should be made; thirdly, church properties shall be in the name of the congregation, and not deeded to the bishop of the diocese, and last, that the Polish people select their pastors. To explain these points clearly let me say that I do not desire to be under the jurisdiction of the present bishop of this diocese, but the Polish people are difficult to understand, hence it is apparent why a bishop of our tongue is needed. The affairs of our people are badly managed, and we feel that the Polish people themselves should select their priests. All these changes are needed to put an end to discord and bad feeling so prevalent among our people in this country.

RELATIVES HAVE A FIGHT. Mark Coyne was arraigned before Alderman Ruddy, Saturday night, charged with assault and battery and attempting to kill his brother-in-law, Martin Corbett, who was too badly injured to appear, and in his absence Mrs. Corbett was present at the hearing and gave testimony against her brother. She stated that the defendant and a friend, James Corcoran, visited her home Saturday and after much pleasant chatting her brother suggested that a ball of beer be sent for, and he offered his services to go for the beverage. The suggestion and the invitation were accepted. Accordingly, Corbett went to a nearby saloon and soon returned with the beer. All partook of it, and without any cause her brother ordered his friend from her home, and to be agreeable Corcoran left.

Coyne became indignant at the audacity of his brother-in-law and commanded him to leave his house. A quarrel and a tussle was the outcome, and both men landed in the yard and began a battle royal, and in the conflict Coyne seized a good-sized stone and unmercifully beat his opponent. Several gashes in Corbett's head and face were inflicted and his right hand was checked. Alderman Ruddy held Coyne in $1,000 bail. E. P. Williams qualified as his bondsman.

ELDERS INSTALLED.

At the morning services in the Hickory Street Presbyterian church, yesterday, the recently-elected elders, William Hammen, Henry Sanner, and Charles Zang, were installed and ordained, according to the ritual of the Presbyterian faith. Rev. W. A. Nord officiating. The handsome edifice was thronged and the ceremonies were edifying.

Rev. Nord delivered an appropriate sermon, choosing as his text the first epistle of Peter, chapter fifth, verses one to four.

SCHNEIDER-SPRANDEL.

Miss Mary Schneider, of South Washington avenue, and William Sprandel were married Saturday evening at the home of the groom, 107 Stone avenue, by Rev. W. A. Nord, of the Hickory street Presbyterian church. Miss Anna Weisman was the bride's attendant, and Jacob Sprandel, brother of the groom, was best man. At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held. The relatives of the contracting party were the only guests. Congratulations and gifts, beautiful and costly, were given to the happy couple. The customary tour was dispensed with, and for the present Mr. and Mrs. Sprandel will reside with his parents.

NUBS OF NEWS.

Natter's hall was a scene of much pleasure Saturday night. Freidelarth Lodge, 290 D. O. H., gave a dance and supper to the friends and wives of the members. Lawrence's orchestra was present and the excellent music was heartily enjoyed. At midnight the guests sat and ate the many good things furnished.

The Junior choir of the Hickory street Presbyterian church was entertained at dinner Saturday at the residence of the church furnished the dance of the pastor. The Ladies' Aid society of the church furnished the many choice delicacies, and the young folks spent a most enjoyable afternoon. Rev. Nord was present and spoke encouragingly to the bright promising vocalists, and games and other diversions incident to such occasions.

Carlsbad Water a Natural Alternative

Carlsbad Water is in no sense a mere purgative, as most people believe, but is an alterative and eliminative remedy, which dissolves tenacious bile, allays irritation and removes obstruction by aiding nature, and not by sudden and excessive stimulation, as most cathartic remedies do. Its action is certain and a cure when effected is permanent. Not infrequently patients have to use the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt, in addition to the water, as a laxative.

Beware of imitations. The genuine Carlsbad Water and Carlsbad Sprudel Salt must have the seal of the City of Carlsbad and the signature of "Eisner & Mendelson Co., sole agents, New York," on every label.

St. Aloysius Total Abstinence and Benevolent society will hold a special meeting in the Pharmacy hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of making arrangements to attend the funeral of the late Thomas Mahon of Fig street.

NORTH SCRANTON.

Two New Churches.

Two congregations in this end took preliminary steps towards the erection of new churches yesterday. The first was that of the North Main avenue Baptist church. After dismissing the congregation at the morning service a short business session was held, at which the advisability of erecting a new edifice was discussed. Acting on the matter, however, was deferred until this evening when it will be decided whether it will be better to build on the site of the present church or to secure another location. The church as it now stands was erected thirteen years ago. At yesterday's meeting, present pastor, took charge about six years ago, he found it heavily encumbered with debt, but by his energetic and untiring efforts the last vestige of debt was swept away some time past. His eloquent discourses have attracted large congregations and the attendance has reached such a mark that it was found almost impossible to seat them.

The second congregation was that of the Welsh Congregational. Nothing definite was decided upon at yesterday's meeting, but it can be stated authoritatively that a new edifice will be built in the near future. The probabilities are that a centrally located site will be procured.

TWO FUNERALS.

The funerals of Miss Lizzie Hodgson, wife of Thomas Hodgson, and Charles Maner Perry, infant son of Patrolman and Mrs. Perry, were held yesterday. The remains of both were conveyed from their respective houses to Park street to the First Christian church on North Main avenue. Here services were conducted by the Rev. R. R. Bulein, pastor of the church. The presence of two bodies of persons in life so closely related meted out by the same minister.

Mr. Bulein, in his funeral oration, expressed words of comfort to the mourners. A choir of well trained voices rendered several impressive hymns. The floral offerings were beautiful and many. At the conclusion of the services the funeral cortege proceeded to the Dunmore Protestant cemetery where interment was made.

MINER PAINFULLY BURNED.

James Lansman, a miner in the Dickson colliery, was painfully burned Saturday. He was engaged in preparing a blast, when a spark from his lamp ignited the powder, and before he could escape to safety, was enveloped in flames, which after much difficulty were put out by fellow workers. He was removed to his home in Pine Brook.

The Dutch Gap mission Sunday school will give an entertainment this evening in Alexander Hall on North Main avenue.

The Christian Endeavor choir held a rehearsal yesterday afternoon in the North Main avenue Baptist church.

Lewis George, of Wayne avenue, is visiting friends in South Gibson, Pa. Miss Mary Davis, of Green street, is in Nanticoke.

Several candidates were baptized by immersion last evening in the North Main avenue Baptist church.
