PENSION MONEY WAITING.

Miss Effie Woolbaugh Has Only to Prove Her Identity and It Is Hers.

Knowledge of the present whereabouts of Mrs. Elizabeth Woolbaugh and daughter Effie, especially the latter, is greatly desired by at least two persons. The one, her uncle, George Woolbaugh, of Lafavette street, and the other, Pension Agent Feeny, of Washington, D. C. a brother of George Woolbaugh, and now deceased, lived at Smithfield, about nine miles from Stroudsburg. He was a veteran, having lost a leg in the civil conflict of 1861, and at the close of the war secured both a pension and position from the government. His pension was only $2 per month and his work was to carry the mails from Stroudsburg to the Marshall's Creek postoffice. He was also a farmer on a small scale and employed Thomas Fenner, a "You Send Back the Picture and the Ring." You can have them "Upatree." "Talk About Yo' Luck." EFFECT OF DECISION

Will Make an Issue of Fifty Thousand Dollars Illegal.

APPEAL IS BEING PREPARED

If Supreme Court Decides to Fix s Special Date for Hearing It the Local Court May Not Grant Formal Writ of Ouster Pending the Decision of the Higher Court--Legality of Borough Boards Will Probably Soon Be Questioned.

David J. Reedy, attorney for the board of control, is already at work on the papers for an appeal to the Supreme court from the decision of wide acquaintance here since coming Judge R. W. Archbald with reference to the quo warranto proceedings against the board of twenty-one direcenergy. On the list was a ballade of tors. Mr. Reedy does not say that his own composition. He was accomthe Supreme court will refuse to sustain Judge Archbald, he contents himself by saying that they will have the highest court in the state pass upon the matter that the exact legal status of the act under consideration may be finally determined.

It is not improbable that the Suprem ourt may consent to fix a special date for hearing arguments on the appeal in view of its importance. If a spepleases, with her pure and delicious cial date is not secured the case will

There is a well defined opinion that her rendering of the local court will not grant a writ of 'Knowest Thou the Land" was ex- ouster against the board of twenty-one quisite in its beauty of interpretation. If the Supreme court decides to hear The dainty little fullaby with its beau- the case in the very near future. If, tiful diction was inimitably sung and however, argument will not be heard brilliant mazurka by Viardot, con- until a year hence the court may be taining many welrdly fascinating constrained to allow the writ of ouster upon proper application being made

One of the arguments presented by Ex-Judge H. A. Knapp when the quo warranto proceedings were under consideration was that to set aside the act of 1874 at this time would work great hardship and injustice to persons who had purchased bonds of the Scranton school district because the declaring illegal of the act of 1874 might make it necessary to go back to the act which provided four school districts for the territory now embraced in the city of Scranton which would wipe the Scranton school district out of existence entirely.

EX-JUDGE KNAPP'S FORESIGHT. It is probable that ex-Judge Knapp's foresight saved the city of Scranton from finding itself in just such a pre-Many years ago James Woolbaugh, dicament at this time. There is a general state law making each city a school district, but when the act incorporating the city of Scranton was passed by the legislature it contained a provision exempting it from the provisions of this act and allowing the school boards of Scranton, Hyde Park borough, Providence borough and Providence township to continue their separate existences. This arrangement the act of 1874 was passed, the one which Judge Archbald on Monday defellow, to work for him. The family comprised Mr. and Mrs. Woolbaugh, three daughters and one son. Mr. Woolfour districts were merged into one ian, concerning Bodiz's condition while BEST SETS OF TEETH, $8, clared unconstitutional so far as it without more ado and the Scranton of the city up to this time.

After ex-Judge Knapp became solicthem. She never returned and has not of the act under which the district been definitely heard of since. Neither | was operating and fearing that some such decision as that of Monday would has anything been learned as to what throw the school affairs of the city became of Effic, the baby of the fam- into chaos drafted a bill which has Hy, taken by the mother when she left passed by the legislature of 1889 and approved by Governor James A. Beaver, repealing the act of 1867 and its supbunted for his recreant wife and his plement of 1876 so far as it related to child without success. He then took providing four school districts for the city. That put Scranton in the list of cities coming under the provisions of the general act directing that each city shall constitute one school district. The decision of Judge Archbald if sustained by the Supreme court will establish that from 1874, when the Scranton school district was formed. until 1889, when ex-Judge Knapp's repealing act was passed, had no legal school body. The four separate boards had passed out of existence and a harter was acting. The actions of the board during that period of fifteen years will have no legal standing if the Supreme court says that Judge Archbald's decision is good law.

BONDS WERE ISSUED.

During that period $55,000 of school oonds were issued, which have not as vet been redeemed. It is not likely that the school district would try to avoid the payment of them on this technicality even if the courts would permit it to do so. The school district had the benefit of the money realized from the sale of the bonds and the courts would undoubtedly find some way of protecting the bond holders. Ex-City Solicitor L. H. Burns, who terday that there is trouble ahead for nearly all the borough school boards hereabouts. Most of them are constituted as is the present board of this city by electing directors from each ward instead of six from the borough at large. He intimated that shortly the legality of several borough boards of this county will be questioned.

It is agreed by almost every person interested in the public schools of Scranton that some kind of legislation is necessary that will permit the different manner than are those of a sparsely settled townships but the evil of it is that the legislature cannot be ooked to for relief. Men who have given time and abundant study to this problem declare that it is not possible to frame any kind of relief legislation that will successfully run the gauntlet of the Supreme court. The constitution is the snag against which relief legislation will run and until the constitution is altered legislation much needed by cities of the third class and by the school districts of the state generally cannot be obtained.

VIOLENCE CAUSED DEATH.

That Is What the Autopsy in Bodiz Case Demonstrated.

An autopsy performed by Coroner Longstreet on the body of Andrew Bodiz has revealed that his death may have been due to injuries inflicted by some person or persons unknown. As related in The Tribune, Bodiz died in the Lackawanna hospital Sunday night, one hour after being admitted there from the county jail. On Saturday he had been committed to the latter institution for drunkenness.

The post-mortem examination of the body showed that Bodiz died from peritonitis. While that was the immediate cause of death, the primary cause was a blow upon the abdomen. This ruptured the capillary blood vessels of the muscular structure. Peritonitis and then death resulted. A bruise beneath the skin gave more outward evidence of violence.

At the inquest last evening in Coroat the fall school district was created., and has her explained the results of the aucontinued to manage the school affairs topsy. An adjournment was made to permit the procuring of evidence concerning Bodiz's movements previous to itor of the board he saw the weakness | his arrest. He was dead drunk when arrested. The police do not seem to be in any way responsible for his death, The injury to Bodiz may have been caused by a kick, a blow or a fall. It was to determine, if possible, the exact cause of the injury that the inquest was adjourned. The jurors are: Drs. Newbury and Webb, of the hospital; Dr. Donne, M. J. O'Toole, J. D. Keator and Patrick Cusick.

LEANED OUT AND LOST BALANCE

Plunged Headlong Forty Feet and Landed Face Downward on the Ground Floor -- His Head Struck a Beam and Although His Face Was Crushed in He Regained Consciousness After a Time--Lived for Eight Hours.

Joachim Klump, a stone-mason in the employ of Contractor Peter Stipp, was killed by falling from a scaffolding at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at the new silk mill being constructed for Reilling, David & Schoen, at Little England.

Joseph Gardner, another stone-mason, who was working on the scaffolding with Klump at the time, says that a large stone was being hoisted up to them and in leaning out to grasp it and swing it on to the platform, Klump Cash price lost his balance and plunged headlorg into space.

He fell forty feet and landed face downward on the ground floor, his head striking on a large beam. Although his face was crushed in and so badly lacerated that the features were not distinschools of cities to be managed in a guishable, he regained consciousness a few minutes after being picked up and insisted upon being taken to his home on the South Side.

The Lackawanna hospital ambulance had been summoned to take him to the hospital, but his wishes were complied with and he was taken to his home, where he was attended by Doctors Bernstein and Gunster. As the day progressed he continued to sink and at 6 o'clock passed away. He was 45 years of age and is sur-
