MET INSTANT DEATH.

Joseph King Crushed by a Falling

Building on Brooklyn Street. Joseph, the Hi-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William King, of Brooklyn street, was instantly killed yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. With his father he has been engaged for some time tear-ing down a house owned by them, near Murdock's Grove, which was gutted by fire about two years ago.

Joseph was at work alone and it is supposed that he was using a crowbar to loosen some boards from a beam when the whole side of the house collapsed burying him under a big pile of boards and heavy rafters.

The crash was heard by those in the King house which is nearby and the screams of the ladies brought Peter McDonough, Andrew Devine, Timothy Gilhool, Patrick Kilhullen and a number of other men to the scene. They exerted their utmost energy and soon had young King uncovered but life was Miss Ella Gallagher had hurried to the central city to secure clerical and medical attendance while the men were at work. Rev. W. A. Nealon and Dr. J. A. Kelly arrived soon after the remains were found. The latter decided after making an examination that the boy's death was instantaneous having resulted from great pressure on the spinal cords at the neck. There was not a bruise or cut to be found on his

He was a member of St. Joseph's Cadets and of unusually quiet and amiable temperament.

Besides his parents he is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Dominick Judge, Mrs. Thomas Gaffney, the Misses Bridget and Laura King, and two brother, Thomas and Edward King.
