PLANS TO ANNEX ISLAND OF HAWAII

Joint Resolution Reported to the Senate.

OF THE DOCUMENT

The Committee Agrees on a Plan for Annexation by Open Legislation. No Time for Calling Up the Resolution Fixed by Chairman Davis.

Washington, March 16.-The senate committee on foreign relations today agreed to recommend that the Hawaiian Islands be annexed by legislation in open session, and agreed upon a joint resolution for the accomplishment of this purpose, which Senator Davis reported later in the senate. It went to the calendar. Senator Davis did not give any notice of calling it up. The following is the text of the res-

Section 1.—The government of the Re-public of Hawaii having in due form signified its consent in the manner provided by its constitution to cede absolutely and without reserve to the United States of America all rights of sovereignty of whatsoever kind in and to the Hawaiian Inslands and to their dependencies, also to cede and transfer to the United States the absolute fee and ownership of all public, governmental or crown lands, public buildings of edifices, forts, harhors, military equipment and all other public property of whatever kind and deecription belonging to the government of the Hawaiian Islands, together with ev-ery right and appurtenance thereunto

appertaining; therefore, be it Resolved, That said cession is accepted, ratified and confirmed, and that the said Hawaiian Islands and their dependencies be, and they are hereby annexed as a part of the territory of the United States, and are subject to the sovereign dominion thereof, and that all and singular, the property and rights hereinbefore men-tioned are vested in the United States of

The resolution then adopts the language of the treaty, beginning with the second paragraph of the second section and taking all the remainder of it, but does not cite it as a part of the These sections appropriated provide for the disposal of the Hawaiian public lands, for the temporary government of the Islands until congress decides upon a permanent form of gov-ernment, the abrogation of Hawaiian treaties and the preservation of Hawaiian customs regulations until those of the United States shall be put into operation, the assumption of the public debt of Hawaii by the United States to the extent of $4,000,000, the regulation of Chinese immigration and the appointment by the president of five commissioners to prepare a code of laws for the government of the islands, It is provided that the commissioners provided for shall be appointed by and consent of the senate. The sum of $100,000 is appropriated by the third and last section for the purpose of carrying the resolution into effect, and this sum is made immediately the president by and with the advice

Senator Davis said no determination had been reached as to when the joint resolution would be called up for consideration in the senate.

ENON CHURCH RIOT CASES.

Hearings of the Pastors and Elders Progressing at Graysville.

Graysville, Pa., March 16 .- The hearngs of William Huffman, Richard Huffman, Israel Breese, Henry Breese, Hugh Carroll, Isaac Carroll, James Wise and Rev. J. K. Marthens, charged with assault and battery by Shurd Armstrong, whom they tried to eject from the Methodist Protestant church near Enon on Sunday, March 6, because he would not kneel during prayer, were postponed from Saturday until today on account of the inability of the constable to serve the warrants, The elders of the church and several defendants tried to compromise the case, but did not succeed and the hearing began before Justice Booher, at Gravsville. Many witnesses were exarrined this afternoon, and others are being heard tonight. The result will not be announced before tomorrow.

Mr. Marthens preached as usual Sunday morning in the Valley church to an immense crowd. He again requested all to kneel, and after services addressed the people, asking those persons to stay away from church who were not willing to kneel during pray-

SCHOOLMASTER WHIPPED.

Nearly Tore Off the Ear of a Pupil and Her Father Thrashed Him.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 16.-School-master Bowen, of Depew, this county, is at his home in a critical condition. Dr. Gipple, who is attending him, says that his injuries may prove fatal. In the town jail, awaiting the result of Bowen's injuries, is George Winters, one of the best-known citizens of Depew. There is no sympathy for the schoolmaster, while the whole village is with Winters in his trouble. Minnie Winters attends Bowen's school. On Friday last Bowen took her by the ear, giving it a severe twist, tearing the ear so badly that a physician put six stitches in it. Winters sent a note to the teacher advising him to be more careful. Bowen dared him to come to the school. Winters went. Bowen struck him in the face without warning, it is said. Winters then hammered Bowen's face until it resembled a piece of raw beef. Men who heard the noise of the fight separated them, and Bowen was carried to his home.

ALUMINUM FOR COINS.

House Committee Reports in Favor of Investigation.

Washington, March 16.-Representative C. W. Stone, chairman of the Coinage. Weights and Measures committee, presented a report to the house today, recommending the passage of the resolution authorizing the secretary of the treasury to make experiments to determine the best material for minor coins.

The report says that the Pittsburg Reduction company, the principal producer of aluminum in the United States, has been carrying on experiments and now claims to have a compound of aluminum, nickel, copper, zinc and manganese which has the requisite hardness and other qualities for coinage material. It offers to furnish this to the government at considerably less cost than the material now used.

MRS. HARRISON'S LIVELY TUSSLE

Welcome a New Superintendent by Smashing Everything in Roach, Doors, Windows and Dishes Being Shattered -- Police Had to Be Called in to Restore Order and Ten of the Girls Worn Taken to Jail.

Denver, March 16 .- Mrs. Ursula K. Harrison has an idea that she took charge of the State Industrial School for Girls yesterday. The inmates have a different opinion. When it became known that the Chicago woman was coming out here to subdue the riotous youngsters they decided to give her a reception. She got it. The home looks more like a chicken coop than a prison and the wind and dust are whistling through it as if there never had been a sash in the windows. At least a dozen of the large windows are without glass. Doors are minus panels and the stairs have only a rail to guard them. Havoc was played with the building and fixtures. Ten of the girls are in the city jail. At 9 o'clock yesterday morning all the girls were called into the assembly room to be introduced to the new superintendent. Their dismissal after the introduction was the signal for the outbreak. Twenty or more of the girls rushed up the stairs to the second floor. Some of the larger ones began kicking out the rungs that supported the banisters. One by one these rungs were loosened. The iron door at the head of the steps was shut and barred so the guards could not get at the girls, and then the latter played havoc with the loose rungs. Each girl seized one with a yell of delight. They went through the building and left wreck and ruin in their wake. As they came to the front of the building one of the six-foot glass windows was shattered. The girls got out on the balcony and ran around the building. They took turns at smashing windows until they reached the rear of the building. Those who were left inside kicked the panels out of the doors. When a number of these had been destroyed they started in on the dishes. They played batting flies with the clubs for bats and cups saucers and plates for balls. Then the guards got at them and put a stop to the wrecking of the building. A hurry call was sent for the police. Captain Phillips, in charge of a wagonload of men, responded. Policemen Haines and Hogan had been placed at the home early in the morning in expectation of an outbreak. The girls paid no attention to them. They did men, who in a solid train with the all in their power to prevent the outbreak, but the girls were too strong The extra force, however, arrested 10. The riot was not only the work of the older girls, as usual, but there were younger ones in the melee, and a few Galusha A. Grow, unwilling to take who have heretofore been quiet and submissive. When they rushed out of who, it is said, the orders have gone out to elect. This tightly bound up the assembly room they acted like lunatics. peated their work. Doors and windows were shattered and very dish that could be got hold of was broken.

From the Washington Post. Emergency appropriations of millions of dollars "for the national defense," in anticipation of possible war, are by no means unusual in our history, and the searches that have been made by congressmen for "precedents" have afforded overwhelming evidence in support of the action in congress in making large appropriations "for the national defense," and placing the expenditure thereof in the complete discretion of the president. This statement is absolutely true in regard to the only instances in which congress led the way, namely, in 1798, in anticipation of war with France, and in 1812, prior to the declaration of war with Great Britain. In 1846 the war with Mexico had been actually begun before congress made provision by law "for the prosecution of the existing war between he United States and the republic of Mexico." The situation and conditions in 1861, at the beginning of the war of the rebellion, were quite similar to those of 1846. In 1798 and in 1812 liberal "emergency appropriations" were made in anticipation of the wars which ensued, and congress, in each instance, in making the laws, placed "at the discretion of the president" or "under the direction of the president," the execution of the laws and the expenditure of the moneys in case such should be found neces-

In 1798, in anticipation of war with France, congress authorized the presi-dent of the United States to raise a provisional army "in the event of a declaration of war against the United States, or of actual invasion of their territory, by a foreign power, or of imminent danger of such invasion discovered in his (the president's) opinon to exist, before the next session of congress," and in the same act the president was authorized to cause to be enlisted, and to call into actual service a number of troops, not exceeding 10,000, to be enlisted for a term not exceeding three years."
