The Plaintiff's Attorney Could Not Be Present .- Trader's Bank Case Discussed .- Grand Jury with Judge McClure at Its Head Reports a Number of Bills -- Three Counterfeiters Convicted -- Histories of the Crimes They Are Charged With.

The adjourned session of United States court opened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the Federal court room, with Judge Joseph Buffington on Judge Acheson, of the Hed States Circuit court, it was aned, would not be able to be presand in consequence the civil cases ould have to wait until Judge Buffngton had disposed of the business of district court,

There was a large attendance of spectators as a result of the supposition that Miss Anna E. Dickinson would appear to prosecute her damage suit against James Oglesby, one of the parties charged with having her illegaly incarcerated in Danville asylum. This increased attendance of tators, coupled with the fact that both courts were coing busines in the one room, crowded the rather contracted quarters all day long.

Much to the disappointment of the majority of the spectators, and particularly the large sprinkling of women in the audience, the Dickinson case did not come up and its principal feature was not in evidence. Ex-Judge Jessup, representing Attorney Hodge Miss Dickinson's New York lawyer for a postponement on the ground that Mr. Hodge could not possibly attend, and when Attorney James Scarlet, of Danville, representing the defendant, acquiesced in the motion, Judge Buffington allowed the continu-

There was a motion also offered by ex-Judge Jessup to continue the case of the Traders' National bank of Scranton against the Fidelity and Casualty company of New York, but it was so warmly contested by Major Everett Warren, representing the plaintiff, that Judge Buffington declined to act in the matter summarily. He advised that the counsel make an effort to agree to one thing or the other and told them if they could not amicably settle it he would then make a decision. No settlement had been reached up to adjourning time.

The case was brought to recover $30,-000 on the bond of ex-Cashier A. B. Williams. The defense is that the bank permitted the Fidelity and Casualty company to renew its surety after the cashler's defalcations had been discov-

The preliminaries to Circuit court having been disposed of, the business of the district court was commenced by the summoning and charging of the grand jury. Judge Harold M. McClure, of Lewisburg, was made foreman,

TRUE BILLS REPORTED. At intervals during the day the grand jury returned true bills against the following: Simon Hoyis, of Venango county, counterfeiting; William and James Forrester, of Forrest county, counterfelting; Alex, J. Stroff, Lackawanna county, using the mails for lottery business; James Gestilesco and G. W Brewer, selling liquor without paying the required special tax; Anthony Duck and John Noack, of Lackawanna county, altering a United States treasury note, Among the fifteen cases appearing on the trial list are three against A. G. Tillinghast, of this city, charged with pension frauds, and two against Lysle Button, of Nicholson, accused of counterfeiting.

The first case called for trial was that of the United States against James and William Forrester, of Forrest county, charged with making, possessing and passing counterfeit money. Gustave Hahn was assigned by Judge Buffington to defend them. It appears from the stories told on the witness stand that one of the Forrester boys met a man in Butler who showed him how to make counterfelt coins for $15, furnishing them with some of the necessary metal, moulds, acids and the like.

James Forrester went into the bakery shop of Mrs. Minnie McAvoy, in Kane, and buying five cents' worth of cakes, tendered a silver dollar in payment and received ninety-five cents in change. Shortly afterwards the other brother, William, worked off another dollar on Mrs. McAvoy, receiving five cents' worth of cakes and ninety-five cents therefor. The character of the coins was discovered shortly afterwards and James Forrester was placed under ar-

FORRESTER CONFESSED.

Chief of Police S. L. Byam and Policeman Oscar Quanstrom took him into custody. He confessed to them and told that one Ned Barnhart, of Butler, had made the coins. James escaped from jail, but soon afterwards was recaptured at Costello. In the interim the other brother, William, had been arrested and also made a confession, saying, however, that he made the money. At the hearing in Warren county before the United States commissioner all three brothers confessed themselves guilty of making, possessing and passing counterfeit money. The grand jury ignored the bill against the youngest brother.

Mr. Hahn asked his clients quietly what they had in the way of defense One said; "I passed it but I didn't make it." The other said; "I made it but I didn't pass it." Mr. Hahn announced that he would rest. The jury was out about five minutes in determining the defendants' guilt in all three charges. The case was worked up by Secret Service Agent Griffin, of

The next case was from Tioga county and was likewise a counterfeiting case Elias Short was the defendant. He was defended by ex-Assistant United States District Attorney David Cameron, of Wellsboro, Tioga county.

Last year a young farmer from Osceola, Edward Gleason, plead guilty of passing three 50-cent counterfeit pieces, He told that he received them from Short, giving him a good half-dollar and a pint of whiskey for the $1.50 in spurious coin. Secret Service Agent Griffin got after Short and found him living at James Baker's house in Potter Brook, Tioga county.

The visit of the government officer disclosed a wholesale counterfeiting scheme at Osceola. Baker was discovered to be a manufacturer on a large scale. He had a mill in the kitchen of his house and kept it running night and day making dollars, half-dollars and quarters. Short assisted him ir the manufacturing process and also did the distributing.

THE CHIEF WITNESS

The chief witness against Short was Baker's wife. She described the whole plan and process of making and distributing the counterfeits, and how she and her little boy were forced to keep watch at the windows for the approach of strangers. Short, she said. had poor eyesight and could only be utilized in "cutting off the necks" of the coins after they were taken from the moulds.

The jury found Short guilty of having counterfeit coins in his possession and acquitted him of the other counts. An equity suit was instituted yes-terday morning by Vosburg & Dawson, representing Doud & Miller, trustees, to secure an assignment of letters patent held by the Bonta Plate Glass company. The plaintiffs have a $2,000 judgment against the company. The only assets of the company, now available, are the patent rights to the Bonta inventions for making plate glass. These can only be taken in execution through an equity proceeding in United States court. Ex-Judge Stanton, representing George Winans, a Bonta company stockholder, asked leave to intervene and make answer to the suit. Judge Buffington took the papers. Attorney A. J. Colborn was appointed by Judge Buffington as examiner to take testimony and report in the equity case of Elisha A. Corey against York, Susquehanna and Western Coal company.

BIG VICTORY FOR THE CONSTABLES

OF SUPERIOR COURT

It Affirms That of Judge F. W. Gunster Handed Down Some Time Ago. Brief of the Argument That Was Made by the Attorneys for the Plaintiff Before the Appellate Court -- An Appeal Will Not Be

Many hundreds of dollars will be thrown into the pockets of the constables of the state by the decision of the superior court in the case of Richard Barron against the county of Lackawanna. The opinion was handed down at Harrisburg Monday and affirms the decision of Judge F. W. Gunster, of this county who held that a constable by the provisions of the act of 1892, is entitled to receive fifty cents for serving a subpoena on every person whose name appears upon it.

It was held by the commissioners of this county that the constable could only receive a fee of fifty cents for serving the paper on all those named in it.

This interpretation of the act led to conflict between the commissioners and the constables and the organization formed by the latter determined to test the matter. Constable Richard Barron, of Dickson City, was named as plaintiff in the test case and the county of Lackawanna was defendant. Attorney Fred W. Fleitz and J. W. Carpenter, representing the plaintiff, and County Solicitor H. A. Knapp agreed upon a statement of facts with reference to the case and it was presented to Judge Gunster in the form of a case

JUDGE GUNSTER'S DECISION.

As set forth above he decided that a onstable is entitled to a fee of fifty cents for every name that appears on the subpoena. An appeal was taken to the superior court by the county and in arguing the case Attorneys Fleitz and Carpenter said in their brief:

Section 2 of the act of May 23, 1893, provides "That from and after the passage of this act the fees to be received by constables in this commonwealth shall be as follows: For executing warrant on behalf of the commonwealth one dollar; * * for serving subpoena, fifty cents.'

Attention is called to the change in the phraseology of the act when it comes to treat of a subpoena. To execute, as deined by Webster, means to follow out or through to the end, put into absolute and final effect, to finish; while service is defined as the communication of process to a party or witness, so as to sub-lect him to its operation. It follows, therefore, that writ is executed only when o a person named therein For executing a warrant, which mofrequently is to apprehend but one person, the fee is one dollar; while for serv-ing a subpoena, which usually contains the names of several persons, it is fifty cents. If the officer serves the subpoena every time he communicates its contents to a witness, it follows that for each time does this he is entitled to a fee of fifty cents. In Murphy vs. Fayette county, 19 C. C. Rep. 99, this act was passed upon in an opinion by Ewing, P. J., to which we wish to refer as it is founded upon reasoning regard as unanswerable mistake of many of the judges who have cassed upon this act is in supposing that it requires a strict construction. While statutes imposing costs are to be strictly nstrued, statutes fixing fees of officers are not.

SETTLES THE QUESTION.

An appeal to the supreme court from this decision can be taken but Solicitor Knapp said yesterday that he hought such a step would not be taken, Many of the constables have not accepted fees from the county commissioners for some time past. They were waiting for this decision that they might be entitled to the larger fees in case a decision was given in their fa-

Albert Butterman, brother and uncle respectively of the plaintiffs gave a judgment note to John S. Bortree on which an execution was issued and a property in Dunmore, which it was alleged was owned by Butterman was sold by the sheriff and purchased by Bortree, the execution creditor.

Butterman refused to give up possession and the usual proceedings in such cases were had before Alderman Wright after which the sheriff dispossessed all those he found on the premises. It is claimed by the plaintiffs in the present suit that each of them is owner of an undivided one-fourth interest in the property from which they were ejected and they want to be recompensed for the damages done them. They are represented by Attorney T. J. Duggan and C. B. Gardner.

OPPOSED THE CONSTABLE.

Mink Had Trouble in Serving a

Search Warrant in Oakford Court. The attempt of Constable Frederick Mink of Alderman Wright's court to serve a search warrant Monday night at the house kept by Mrs. Coburn, in Oakford court, resulted in quite a scrimmage.

The warrant was issued at the instance of John C. King to aid him in locating a bedroom suite. When Mink started to search the house he was opsed by John Gigle and William Schultz. Mink cut Schultz's scalp open with a club. The latter escaped from the house but was caught by Special Officer Egle and committed to jail by Alderman Wright.

Gigle was also arraigned before the alderman but settled the charge against him. The bedroom suite was found, but was not seized.

Do Well to Consider at This Time.

At this time of year, when we are changing over from winter to spring, there is always a low order of vitality—a reaction from the strains of the seasons. The blood does not flow so full or rapidly—the strength is less.

For these reasons all kinds of diseases have a much better chance than at any other season. We all know this from our own experiences and those of our friends, and we are aware what a terrible amount of grip, pneumonia and other diseases there is floating in the air and drawn in by us with every breath. It is a time for exercising special care, for keeping the blood in circulation and the system toned up generally.

There is but one way by which a proper reaction, at such a time, can be brought about and that is by the use of a pure stimulant, preferably whiskey. This is universally admitted, but the trouble has been to secure a good, pure and reliable whiskey. Indeed, there is but one that can be confidently and certainly recommended for this purpose and that is Duffy's Pure Malt. It possesses qualities known only to Itself. It will bring about a reaction, cause the blood to circulate, prevent a cold check pneumonia and ward off grip. It has relieved more suffering and saved more lives by reason of these powers which it possesses than anything of a similar nature which has ever been discovered. You will be wise if you have it on hand and use it whenever you feel the least signs of disease or weakening. weakening.

The United States government is at present engaged in making an invesigation of more than usual public inerest. The intent of the inquiry is to get all the essential, economic facts elating to the construction and use of electric light and power or gas lighting plants and water works, whether owned by individuals, corporations or municipalities. The work of gathering this information is being done by agents of the department of labor at Washington, and a letter from Com-missioner Carroll D. Wright to each of the companies from which information is sought states that the facts, when published, will not disclose the identity of any establishment nor furnish any clue by which such identity could be determined. Every plant in the United States is be visited. Special agents now at work in this state.

A M. Dewey, of Washington, is waiting upon the officers of such corpora tions in this county. Mr. Dewey will be remembered by many as the editor of the Journal of United Labor. He is an uncle of N. H. Brooks, manager of the Linden, and is Mr. Brooks' guest during his stay in this region.

. . . The excellent record of the Thirteenth regiment in rifle and pistol practice for the past season, in which they again led the regiments of Pennsylvania National Guard in both of these arts, has been due to a number of causes. One of the chief of these has been the interest and encouragement received from the generous citizens. who presented to the victorious teams in the Citizens' matches some of the finest trophies and medals that have ver been won by our regiment. Company A as winner of the first prize, in the contest last season, recently received from Tiffany & Co., of New York, the finest bust of Washington that has ever been seen in our city. The bust is life-size, of bronze, after a model by Houdon, of Paris. It is handsomely mounted on a revolving pedestal of serpentine marble, which bears an appropriately engraved plate. With this trophy the members of the winning team each year receive medals of solid gold of a design which is both unique and artistic and unlike any decoration ever before won by our expert shots.

The second prize, which was last year von by Company G, of Montrose, is a beautiful engraving, representing a elebrated cavalry charge in the War of the Rebellion. The picture is richly framed in dark oak and also bears an nscription with the names and scores of the teams who win this distinction. Such valuable and appropriate trophies which are open for competition each season, to all the companies of the regiment, until finally won three times, nust continue to prove of great service in the department of rifle practice. The gentlemen who have so generously assisted the regiment in this matter are: Colonel L. A. Watres, George L. Dickson, William Connell, E. B. Sturges, Colonel H. M. Boies, F. S. Godfrey Henry Belin, agent, Dupont Powder company; E. L. Fuller, George B. Smith, W. H. Taylor, Major Everett

"Why, Carr's meat market!" an wered the woman impatiently. "Well, you haven't," was the reply.

From the Stones of Venice, for instance, is quoted the exhortations to those whose sentiments are excited "by painted glass and colored tiles"to regulate their creeds by their taste in colors, but to hold calmly to the right, at whatever present cost to their maginative enjoyment; sure they will one day find in heavenly truth a brighter charm than in earthly im agery, and striving chiefly to gather stones for the eternal building, whose walls shall be salvation, and whose gates shall be praise." SOCIALISM THE SUBJECT.

Discussed at the Scranton Open Par-Hamont Last Night. subject discussed at the meeting of the Scranton Open Congress last evening was "Socialism" and it was introduced by Dr. Szlupas in an excellent lecture. The hall was well filled with an intelligent audience. A number of members of the board of trade were present and showed great interest in the proceeding. The lecture was replete with statistics showing the increasing concentration of the wealth of our country into the hands of a few, to the detriment of the general welfare, resulting in a decline of manhood through the equaldecreasing opportunities for men to be independent or to become well to do by means of honest toil. The discussion was slow at first, but became so much the livelier toward the close. Mr. Richardson upheld the rich men for furnishing employment to the poor, but thought that the politicians were to blame for all our troubles. Mr. James denied the truth of the lecturer's formidable statistics and declared that they were not worth the paper they are printed on. Later on he declared that men like William Connell did not make more than one-tenth of one cent per day on the many men employed, but that the small employers of labor must make large profits on each man employed to be able to live. Captain Moir called attention to the history of the world which, he said, shows that substantially the same conditions have always prevailed. He referred to Joseph's corner in grain in Ecypt and compared it to the present operations in Chicago. He also pointed out that there are certain differences of conditions between now and then which make it necessary for us all to be socialists now so as to improve our government. In closing Dr. Szlupas laid special stress on the fact that there can be no political liberty where there is economic oppression.
