A Moosie Lad Who Lost a Leg Nine Years Ago Seeks to Recover from the Delaware and Hudson Company--Short Sentences Imposed on Counterfeiters from Forest County. Noock and Duck Get Six Months Each .- Penalty Imposed on Hovis.

That Mrs. Mindwell Dolph acted wisely when she preferred a new trial to accepting a $500 verdict in her case against the National Accident society of New York was attested yesterday by a jury again awarding her the full amount of her claim, with interest $4,788.56.

At the former trial a verdict for $4. 600 was rendered. The defendant company applied for a new trial and Judge Buffington granted it. He made a provision, however, that if the plaintiff was willing to accept $500 he would allow it to be entered as the verdict in the case. Mrs. Dolph refused to compromise and elected to have the case undergo another trial.

In view of the fact that Judge Buffington declared in his opinion on the motion for a new trial that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence, the attorneys for the defense were greatly surprised at yesterday's Another cause for surprise was that they sprung at the last mo-ment a bit of evidence that it was thought would drive the opposition to the woods and surely clinch the case for the defense.

COMPANY'S CONTENTION.

This evidence was in support of the main contention of the company that the deceased, Samuel Dolph, received the injuries which it is alleged caused death, whic he was working as a laborer at the saws, which, being the case, he was entitled to only $500, in line with a provision of the policy, instead of $4,000, the amount for which he was insured as a superintendent. The evidence was contained in a letter written by Mrs. Dolph to another insurance company, the New England Mutual Life, in which her husband German poem. was insured for $2,000. It contained a clause explaining the manner of Dolph's death, which read as follows: the elementary classes will entertain by recitation and music. An exhibition "When injured he was assisting at the saw mill, removing a slab, when the of work done in the Penmanship clars, under the direction of Miss Eva Durie, saw caught the slab and threw it against my husband's face and knocked him over,'

Mr. Hawley, in closing for the defense, laid great stress upon this point, showing how it verified their and attractive. All friends of the educational department of the association contention and contradicted in the are invited. strongest possible manner the testi-mony of the plaintiff, which tended to imply that the deceased was simply overseeing the work at the saws when the accident befell him. Mr. Hawley spoke for nearly an hour and a half and all the time held the closest attention of everybody present by his really clever argument.

Heat, sense of tenderness and swelling of a part, are all indications that there is need of instant repair -the stitch in time. Where these symptoms exist on the left or the right side of the womb, disease of the ovary is setting in, and soon there will be, if there is not already established, a discharge, trifling at first, but later copious and irritating. Soon, also, there will be felt dull, dragging pains radiating from the ovary.

Do not, my sister, let your malady go so far, but those of you who are already suffering in this way should begin at once a course of treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will restore the organs to their normal condition.

In this connection MRS. E. L. MYERS, Quak-ake, Pa., says: "My ovaries were badly diseased, and for almost a year I suffered with se-vere burning pains which were almost unendurable, and a dull, heavy pain in the lower portion of my back. If standing I was most relieved with my foot resting on a stool or chair. The doctor told me I would have to take my bed and keep quiet. I had not used half a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before it worked wonders with me. I now owe my health to the Compound. To those who are suffering from diseases peculiar to women. I would say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just what they need.

Mrs. Pinkham wishes to befriend you, and if you will write her at Lynn, Mass., telling her just how you feel, she will give you the very best advice free of charge. Think what a privilege it is to be able to write to a woman who is learned in all these matters, and willing to advise you without charge.

The jury retired at 2 o'clock and was out nearly three hours. The defense will ask for a new trial.

A suit for $25,000 damages against the Delaware and Hudson Canal company was called when the Dolph jury had returned. The plaintiff is William Ford, a sixteen-year-old Moosie boy, who sues through his guardian and uncle, James Butler, the well-known hotel-keeper and ex-postmaster of Moosic. O'Brien and Kelly and Col. F. J. Fitzsimmons appear for the plaintiff and the company is represented by Jessup & Jessup.

OCCURRED NINE YEARS AGO.

The suit is the result of an accident which occurred nine years ago. The Ford boy, who was then seven years old, was returning to his home in Stark's patch, to the east of Moosic, at noon time on July 22, 1889, after a day spent at play in a field on the westerly side of the Delaware and Hudson railroad. Arrived at the grade crossing at Spring street he found Delaware and Hudson coal train standing there blocking the roadway. He vaited for afteen minutes, and when there was no sign of the train preparing to move he attempted to climb across the cars.

He had gotten as far as the first number of the car which he had climbed upon when the train suddenly and without warning started and threw him to the ground and beneath the The left leg was completely evered and the right ankle was so adly crushed that it was only with greatest difficulty the foot was saved. As it is it is badly maimed.

In the opening by Mr. Kelly which contained the above story of the accident, it was contended that the company was negligent in not giving warning of its intention to start the train.

COMPANY'S SIDE OF CASE. The company's side of the case is that the boy was stealing a ride and when the train came to Spring street a sudden jolt threw him off. It is proposed to show that the Ford boy and two others were playing about the engine when the train was lying in the Erie and Wyoming Valley switch, that the engineer and fireman who were eat. ing their dinner gave the lads some sweetmeats from their pails and that when they were told to run away and go home they started down the tracks and bearded the train to steal a ride The case will likely take up all of today
