Congregation of Simpson M. E. Church Want Their Pastor Returned.

THE RESOLUTIONS THEY ADOPTED

Last Meeting of Official Board Before the Beginning of the Conference Year Was Held Last Night—Meeting of the Hawthorne Literary and Debating Society—John W. Reynolds, of South Main Avenue, Tendered a Surprise Party.

Last evening the full board of officials of the Simpson Methodist church met at the church to transact the business of the fourth and last quarterly conference for the fiscal year.

Reports from the pastor, Sabbath school superintendent, and all class leaders were read and accepted. William Crawford reported in reference to the Allis mission, which comes under the church's supervision, and John Fern, as treasurer of the official board, reported in reference to the church's financial standing.

The several church committees were formed with the following members: G. L. Peck, F. Hagen and Mrs. Margaret Crawford, missions; George Saxe, E. J. Williams and A. B. Ridgeway, church extension; C. W. Lull, Alfred Thuring and W. N. Chase, Sabbath school; Otis Altemus, Fred Crawford and Miss Anna Broadbent, tract; J. E. Peck, H. Kriebbaum, J. Patti, Mrs. C. A. Moser and Miss S. Slecuta, temperance; Gaylord Thomas, esp., George Flory and Miss Rachel Jones, education; J. F. Randolph, H. D. Jones, M. Neely and J. B. Snyder, Freedman's aid; S. Wrixley, H. Bigelow and William Munson, church records; C. W. Lull, W. M. Bass and S. Wrixley, church music; W. W. Davis, J. Fern and A. W. Chase, estimates, and the officers of the board of trustees and Ladies' Aid society comprise the committee on parsonage and furniture.

Resolutions were then read asking for the return of Pastor J. B. Sweet to this pastorate. This will be his third recall and the unanimity for this step grows stronger each succeeding year. The resolutions were unanimously adopted and are as follows:

Whereas, This being our last quarterly conference meeting before the convening of the Wyoming conference and the proposed time in which to make known our desires for the coming year, and Whereas, Our present efficient pastor, Rev. J. B. Sweet, has been diligent and useful to all our interests, endeavoring himself to our church and the community by his Christian character and sermonic ability, therefore

Resolved, That this quarterly conference of the Simpson church urgently request of our presiding elder, Rev. J. G. Eckman, D. D., to so present our desire to the bishop of the conference, as to secure the return of our present pastor for the coming year, with the prayer that both pastor and people may be still further blessed of God in the work of the Redeemer.

Resolved, That this quarterly conference of the Simpson church urgently request of our presiding elder, Rev. J. G. Eckman, D. D., to so present our desire to the bishop of the conference, as to secure the return of our present pastor for the coming year, with the prayer that both pastor and people may be still further blessed of God in the work of the Redeemer.

ARCHER-LINNVILLE WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Lurinda D. Archer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Archer, to William Linnville, of Pittston, occurred Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, 227 North Sumner avenue. It was a quiet home affair, the couple being unattended. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties were present.

The bride was prettily attired in a tailor-made gown of cadet blue poplin. She wore a corsage bouquet of bridal roses. At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests sat down to a dainty collation. Mr. and Mrs. Linnville will reside with Mrs. Linnville's parents for the present. They are both well known young people.

The guests present were: Rev. and Mrs. S. P. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. George Jacoby, Mr. and Mrs. William Dolmetch, and Miss Annie Richards, of this city; and Mrs. A. Linnville, of Wyoming; Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchingsberger, Mrs. Mary Lloyd, Mrs. Jane Lloyd, and Mrs. James Lane, and Miss Emma Lloyd, all of Pittston.

LITERARY SOCIETY MEETS.

A regular meeting of the Hawthorne Literary and Debating society was held last evening at the residence of Miss Emily Darling, 217 Chestnut street. The society's proposed constitution was read and adopted. A short social session followed the close of the business. The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday evening, April 5, at the residence of Willis Sweet, on North Hyde Park avenue.

The programme as arranged for that evening will consist of a debate upon "Resolved, That electricity is greater than steam." Miss E. Fraunhofer and Ed. Morse will support the affirmative and Miss B. Wade and W. Osland, the negative.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MURRAY.

The funeral of Miss Della Murray was held yesterday afternoon from the residence, 131 Cameron avenue. The remains were borne to St. Patrick's church where a blessing was pronounced. Later they were taken to the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery. The pallbearers were: Patrick Harrison, James McArthur, William Murray, Michael Monaghan, Patrick Barry and Thomas Durkin.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Ray Morgan, of Philadelphia, has returned to that city, after visiting relatives here. Mrs. Haydn Evans, of North Bromley avenue, entertained Miss Stella Bailey, of Watery, yesterday. Mrs. R. Collier, of Chestnut street, is visiting friends at Moscow. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moninger, of North Garfield avenue, have as their guests, Mrs. James Catterson and daughter, Miss Susan, of Goudsburg. Mrs. John Higert, of Lafayette street, is visiting at Tolyhama. H. C. Himmam, of Tenth street, is in Hawley on business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Yoke, of Sweetland street, are entertaining Miss Cora Shepherd, of Plainfield, N. J. Mrs. John McKeever, of Jackson street, has returned from a visit at Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Savits, of South Filmore avenue, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hunsinger, of Newton Centre.

ANOTHER BARROOM FIGHT.

Another barroom fracas, similar in some respects to that of last Wednesday evening on North Main avenue, occurred last evening at the "Morning Star" hotel, at 129 North Main avenue, of which George Kneirim is proprietor. About 9:30 o'clock passers-by were startled by the cry of "Police! police!"

Patrolman Klah Peters, who is substituting Patrolman Thomas on the North Main avenue beat, was coming down the street and answered the summons. Just as he entered the door he was literally covered with a shower of broken glass, caused by the breaking of the plate glass window on the left side of the entrance and one of the smaller panes in the door itself. Inside all was turmoil, at least a dozen men being mixed up.

Patrolman Peters rapped for assistance and Patrolman Matthews responded. William Reese and Jack Stagwall were arrested, placed in the West Side station house. Stagwall, who is a large-sized man of 290 pounds weight, resisted arrest and force was necessary. In fact, the two officers had to handcuff him and carry him bodily to the station house. The trouble arose from the interference of William Reese in an argument which was taking place.

MINOR NEWS NOTES.

All persons interested in the organization of the male voice party, under the leadership of Prof. Joseph P. Reser, preliminary steps for which were taken last Saturday evening, will meet at Evans' hall, on South Main avenue, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The organization will be perfected and work commenced immediately in rehearsal. The party will compete at the Wilkes-Barre contest, May 20, upon the $100 prize piece, "The Destruction of Gaza."

Rev. Peter H. Gorman, of Olyphant, will occupy the pulpit of the Plymouth Congregational church at both services tomorrow. A number of friends of John W. Reynolds, of 209 South Main avenue, gathered at his home, Thursday evening, and tendered him a hearty surprise. The evening was a season of enjoyment, games and other diversions were employed, and later luncheon was served. The following guests were present: Miss Alice Phillips, Minnie Morgan, Marie Doran, Lizzie Barker, Irene Reynolds, Margaret Davis, Ella and Hannah Jones, Anna Reese, Cassie and Lizzie Evans, Blodwin and Nora Davis, Minnie Jones, Alvira Brown, Mrs. Desmon, Leonard Day, George Williams, George Day, John Williams, William Griffiths, Reese Evans, David Williams, Will Edwards, Daniel Davis, Robert Gray and Stanton Ringler.

Thomas McNamara underwent a successful operation at the West Side hospital yesterday for the removal of a malignant mole. Eu-caline, the new anesthetic, was used. Reese Jones was also operated upon yesterday at the same institution with satisfactory results. A fatty tumor was the cause of Mr. Jones' trouble. The funeral of David I. Jones will be held at the residence, 510 South Main avenue, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be made at the Washington street cemetery. Miss Elizabeth James, of Taylor, and William Price, of North Bromley avenue, were married Wednesday evening by Alderman Kellow, at his office in the fourteenth ward. Mr. and Mrs. John Warner accompanied the bridal couple. Mr. and Mrs. Price are well known on this side and will reside here.

The members of Hyde Park lodge, No. 206, Knights of Pythias, will meet at the hall this afternoon at 2 o'clock to attend the funeral of David I. Jones. Yesterday afternoon was held the funeral of Mrs. P. J. Clancy, at 1715 Luterne street. The remains were taken to St. Patrick's church where a blessing was pronounced and later to the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery where they were interred. The pallbearers were: Patrick Crane, Patrick Toomey, Thomas Begon, Joseph Rafter, Eugene McTiernan and William Rafter.

KAESTNER'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Charles Kaestner, the hotelman of Cedar avenue, had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday morning at his place of business. Recently all of his building, but the barroom, was torn down to make way for the erection of a new building, as told in The Tribune Monday. Now, from a door, that heretofore led into the dining room is the open cellar 12 feet deep with a lot of stone in it to be used in building the foundation. Mr. Kaestner, not remembering that the room was no longer there, hastily opened the door, stepped and fell into the cellar, striking his head on the pile of stone. He lay unconscious for several minutes, and after reviving shouted for assistance. He was conveyed to his residence and Dr. Kohl sent for. Upon examination it was found that Mr. Kaestner's injuries consisted of a few slight cuts on the scalp. He was around last night.

NUIS OF NEWS.

The funeral of the late Jacob Cordier took place yesterday from his late residence and interment was made in the Minoaka Protestant cemetery. Rev. Mr. Lisse, of the Cedar Avenue Lutheran church, conducted the services held at the house. The pallbearers were: Philip Werth, Gus Heveman, Peter Rehner and Jacob Sohns. Resident lodge of Odd Fellows attended the funeral in a body. Miss Francis Lippert and Fred Weichel will be married tonight at the home of the groom, 429 Hickory street, by Rev. W. A. Nordt.

A FEW POINTERS.

The recent statistics of the number of deaths show that the large majority die with consumption. This disease may commence with an apparently harmless cough which can be cured instantly by Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, which is guaranteed to cure and relieve all cases. HAPPENINGS OF SOUTH SCRANTON

An Effort Made to Destroy the Barn of Connell & Company.

WILLIAM DALLY IS A BAD BOY

Stole Money from His Father and Was Committed to the County Jail. Is a Candidate for the Reformatory. Samuel Druskens Had a Variety of Experiences Yesterday—Charles Kaestner Injured While Leaving His House on Cedar Avenue.

An attempt was made some time Thursday night to burn the large stable of Connell & Co., but owing to the failure of the slight blaze to gain sufficient start, a conflagration that would involve a loss of thousands of dollars was prevented. Yesterday morning, when Charles Simrell, barn boss for the company, reached the barn he discovered the dastardly attempt. The barns are located between Prospect and Pittston avenues, near Elphinstone street. Beneath the large door on the southern side the floor was saturated with kerosene oil, and the spot where a match was applied was plainly visible. Lying a few feet away was an empty bottle, with a strong odor of the oil. One of the stables is used for the sheltering of the mules used in the Meadow Brook mine, and tunnel, and the old structure contained supplies, farm implements, wagons and a team owned by Mrs. Edgar Connell. A narrow yard separates the building from John Gibbons, wife and daughter were returning from the theatre on Thursday night and when entering their home, Miss Gibbons called the attention of her parents to what was thought to be a reflection on the barns of blazes, and a heavy rain was not given any thought, and they retired.

Chief Hickey visited the scene yesterday and a thorough investigation was made, and to him it appeared that the work of an organized gang of fire fiends, and to this theory is laid the cause of the several fires that had occurred on this side recently. In a month the barns of Hugh Gilmore, Jacob Mock, Mrs. Patrick Donnelly, were burned to the ground, and in each instance valuable horses were sacrificed to the flames, and following on the destruction of Connell & Co.'s breaker Tuesday morning, the community is becoming much alarmed.

On the mountain at No. 6 a gang of tramps have a hut, and much suspicion rests on them. Chief of Police Roling has instructed Lieutenant Zaig to make the utmost efforts to run down the firebugs.

VERY BAD BOY.

William Daley, of River street, is a lad who has caused his father more trouble and anxiety than any ordinary boy would. He has promised to go to sleep in his room, but has been away from home for days, and to steal money. Returning from an extended stay on February 21, he arose at midnight and took from his father's clothes several dollars, and left on a trip, but he carried and sent to the city jail of a ward ticket. During his incarceration the father visited him in his cell and the son was penitent and implored forgiveness, and begged to be released.

Mr. Daley was deeply touched and repented, and immediately secured bail and was released. The very night of the lad's release, he again arose and stole $50 and departed, but after an absence of a week returned, and his father found him sleeping in his own barn yesterday morning.

He was taken before Alderman Donovan and when questioned stated the money was spent on a trip to Buffalo and New York city. The ball in his former case was returned, and he was sent to jail. Court will be asked to send William to a reformatory.

TROUBLESOME BOARDER.

Samuel Druskens, of 229 Willow street, was arrested, and a hearing, paid a fine of $2 and was re-arrested in twenty-four hours yesterday. He came into his boarding house after midnight and was arrested, and immediately secured bail and was released. The very night of the lad's release, he again arose and stole $50 and departed, but after an absence of a week returned, and his father found him sleeping in his own barn yesterday morning.

He was taken before Alderman Donovan and when questioned stated the money was spent on a trip to Buffalo and New York city. The ball in his former case was returned, and he was sent to jail. Court will be asked to send William to a reformatory.
