Preparations Are Under Way for an Observance of Easter Sunday.

SPECIAL MUSIC IN THE CHURCHES

New Officers of Silurian Lodge of Odd Fellews Were Installed at Fri- league team. day Nig'it's Meeting .- David Cadwynn and That Lodge Honored by Coyne Sunday. Being Selected District Deputy. Sidewalks to Be Laid and Curbing Done on Washburn Street .- Other Matters.

This week is marked on the calendar as Holy week terminating with Easter Sunday, and including the only Friday which the superstitious minded person will grant is good. These seven days mean much to the milliners, the ladies, the ministers and the choristers. For the milliners will sell and the ladies buy those beautiful creations known as Easter bonnets: the ministers will be preparing their special sermons, and the choristers will be considering how the choir will render the special pieces upon which so much effort has been expended during two weeks passed. And in this respect the choristers' work has been doubled, as most of the choirs have been augmented and new material has to be gotten used to.

On this side Easter week and the day itself so far as the church services are There concerned means very much. are seventeen churches and two missions and each congregation will listen to something special both in sermons and in choral service. Easter Sunday in West Scranton might rightfully be styled a "Feast Day of Song." In addition to the singing, many of the church choirs will have additional instrumental accompaniment,

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

The members of Silurian lodge, No. 763. Independent Order of Odd Fellows, met in regular session Friday evening at Evans' hall on South Main avenue, and after transacting the regular business, the officers elected for the ensuing term at the last meeting were installed. District Deputy Chas. Huester acted as installing officer and was assisted by a degree team from James Connell lodge, No. 178, of South Scranton. The officers installed were: Adam Newell, noble grand; William Hopkins, vice grand; William Lewis, secretary: Thomas J. Thomas, assistant secretary: John H. Kelly, treasurer, and David W. MINOR NEWS NOTES.

The members of the West Scranton Male party held a well attended and enthusiastic rehearsal yesterday afternoon at Ivorite hall on South Main avenue. About 50 members were present, and under the direction of Professor Iorwerth Prosser, the piece "The Destruction of Gaza" was gone over.

The funeral of Kate May, the 3-yearold daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David A Jones, was held yesterday afternoon from the residence and many friends of the bereft parents were in attendance. Rev. J. B. An out-bound Taylor car and a heavy top wagon of Funeral Director Price & fault we have to find with them is that in a good many last evening on South Main avenue cases we are unable to renew many of the patterns near Fairchild's hotel, but fortunately without any serious results. It was not quite plain whether the motorman or the driver was to blame. The passengers were startled, some paint was scratched off the wagon body and a trace was broken.

A much needed improvement will soon be made on Washburn street in the block between Main avenue and Tenth street. Sidewalks and curbing will be laid on the northerly side of the street and gutters graded. A resolution to that effect was recently signed by the mayor, after its passage through councils. This measure is due to the Morts of Common Councilman J. H. Walker, of the Fifth ward. Its passage through select was looked after by Selectman R. H. Williams, of the same Bauer's orchestra. The election of Past Grand Master David Cadwgan, of Silurian lodge, No. 763, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, to the office of district deputy of Lackawanna county is gratifying to his friends. This office is much sought after and carries with it considerable honor and prestige. Mr. Cadwgan was opposed in his candidacy for it by Attorney A. A. Vosburg, of Lincoln lodge of North Scranton. The deputyelect is a comparatively young man but has stood high in Odd Fellow circles for years.

The Scranton board of trade has not nad a meeting in many months. At the last session of that organization it was decided to adjourn to meet again at the call of the president, upon the request of a quorum of members, and o, literally speaking, the body is dead. Among the few energetic members of to reach the step. The car having the organization a movement is now on oot to reorganize.

John Scheuer, M. P. Judge, Henry Spruks and Ambrose Hertz are circulating about among the many board of trade members and Mr. Scheuer, in an interview with a Tribune reporter, stated that the indications are that at an early date the board will be again alive and vigorously at work. When asked why an organization that has done so much to build up this part of the city should pass almost into oblivion, Mr. Scheuer stated that the query was not an easy one to answer, from the fact that he was at a loss to understand why the business men of this side do not more liberally appreciate the worth of the board of trade.

For the past four years the board has endeavored to have the Delaware and Hudson Canal company purchase the properties of Mrs. Melvin, Peter Mc-Govern, Mrs. Shaughsney, Mrs. Muldoon, the Crane and Barrett estates, on Remington avenue, to build a sultable passenger station and freight depot. The erection of a modern freight depot would be of great benefit to the Lackawanna mills, Stranton Button company, Scheuer Bros., the bakers; Mulherin & Judge, the lumbermen; the Scranton Axle works, the South works, Hand's and Casey & Kelley's breweries, Sauguoit, Harvey's, Meadow Brook and the Simpson silk mills, and scores of other South Side business establishments. Owing to the lack of shipping facilities at the Delaware and Hudson depot, the most convenient point for the industries mentioned, freight has to be carted over to the Central road, by the way of the Elm street bridge. At one time negotiations for the purchase of the properties adjacent to the present small building of the Delaware and Hudson, on Remington avenue, were under way, but the prices asked by two of the six owners were so high that the company abandoned negotiations. John Scheuer and M. P. Judge, ex-president and president of the board of trade, have undertaken the task of having Mr. Manville, of the Delaware and Hudson company, again consider the necessity of the purchasing of the needed ground. That gentleman has consented to meet them, and W. T. Hackett, the real estate man, who secured options on the properties. The prices asked are more reasonable than those at first demanded.

Messrs. Judge and Scheuer believe that with the reorganization of the board of trade and the injection of day night. some of the hustling spirit our business men are noted for, a deal can be consummated that will result in bringing about a much-needed improvement and at the same time put the board of trade on a sound basis.

The souvenir committee, appointed at the meeting of the Century Hose ompany Friday night, met in the company pariors yesterday afternoon to arrange for a suitable souvenir to be given away on the occasion of the annual picnic of the company, June 22, Nothing definite was done in the matter, but the committee was favorably impressed with one, issued by the Kansas City department last year. A copy of it was furnished the committee by Francis Hodur, pastor of the Independent Polish Catholic church, celebrated his thirty-second birthday Saturday, and the event was marked by big receptions given him in the church hall and his residence. In the evening his congregation assembled in the hall, and presented him with s bandsome plush covered kneeling bench; a cussock and several articles used on the altar. Several made speeches of congratulation, and at the conclusion the reception at Father Hodur's house was held.
