BEFORE BREAKFAST.

A pleasant home affair will be given at the home of Mrs. J. L. Cornell Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, when a company of little people known as the Brownie club will have a sale. Many beautiful articles of use and ornament have been prepared and it is hoped that the efforts of the busy little fingers will be appreciated.

The Jewish Passover began last evening at 6 o'clock. The strict Rabbinical interpretation of the law makes it necessary to not only banish all mixtures containing heaven from the house, but also to put away all dishes from which they have been served of cotton. In well-to-do orthodox families separate closets and utensils are employed for Passover articles, which during the remainder of the year are kept religiously locked. Generally this is the time for the eating away of all dishes which have caused to be useful.

The Tribune has received a copy of the "Little Chimes" base ball schedule for 1893, a publication which every base ball fan in the country would prize. This handy and useful little volume is of vest-pocket size, printed on the paper, bound in a leatherette cover, and in addition to the official schedule and rules of the National League has blank spaces for keeping the scores of each day's games, together with hits, errors and names of pitchers of each contest. The book also contains the names of the League presidents, managers, captains and umpires, and a large amount of reliable and useful statistical matter that makes it an invaluable handbook for every lover of the national game. Price of book ten cents. It is published by Emil Grossman & Co., Cleveland, O.

MEETING OF FIREMEN.

Business Connected with a More Thorough Organization of Relief Association Was Transacted.

Further business which contributed toward more thorough organization of the Scranton Firemen's Relief association was transacted last night at a meeting of the regular representatives of the companies at the city hall. The only companies not represented were the William Connell and Phoenix.

In accordance with the recently adopted by-laws and constitution all but the two companies mentioned and the Franklins, Columbus and General Phinney paid the 40 membership fee. The Franklins and Columbus will make provision for payment at their regular meetings next week. Payment will also be made by the William Connell and Phoenix companies.

The General Phinney delegates reported that the company disputed any obligation to pay the fee in order to share in the distribution of the state fund now in the possession of the city treasurer and created for the benefit of firemen who were injured or killed or who had contracted illness while in active service. The company contends its right to share in the benefits of the fund without having a membership in the association, no matter whether the latter is recognized or not by council as the city's regularly organized relief association of firemen.

A motion was adopted extending to April 25 the date on or before which the General Phinney company's membership fee should be paid. If the money is not forthcoming the association will dispute the company's right to share in the benefits of the fund.

It was reported that the application for a charter was made yesterday and that a resolution would be introduced in select council tonight directing the city treasurer to pay the fund to the treasurer of the association. A. B. Holmes, who has furnished bonds amounting to $5,000 approved by the city selector.

J. D. Birtley was elected to succeed L. W. Wright, resigned, as representative of Liberty Hose company. It was decided to request from all companies the names of active members in good standing.

BOARD OF HEALTH NOT AN ORNAMENT

Dr. W. E. Allen Makes Reply to Some Undue Criticism.

ITS RECORD NOT INSIGNIFICANT

Perfect Water Supply and Suppression of Contagious Disease a Part of the Board's Accomplishments. Good Milk Supply Indicated in Inspector Cullen's Reports of Thirtieth Through Thirty-Reports of Other Officials of the Board.

At last night's meeting of the board of health Dr. W. E. Allen, health officer, submitted a comprehensive report, evidently designed as part answer to recent criticism of the board in the estimate committee of council. The report follows:

I have the honor to submit the following report for the month of March: Forty-seven nuisances have been complained of and attended to. The general sanitary condition of the city is better than it was at this time of the year with our present resources. A number of cases of cerebro spinal meningitis occurred in Scranton during the past two months, and there has been some alarm, especially among people who remember the epidemic of 1872 and 1884, which was so widespread and fatal, being called at that time "black fever." I have inspected the premises where I have seen some of these cases and in every instance found the sanitary conditions as good as they ever are and have been unable to discover any local cause. While this disease is classified as infectious all authorities from the most ancient to the very latest say that it is not contagious, that is, not communicable from one person to another, and Horwood says: "The origin cannot be traced to accumulation of filth or other cause of ordinary febrile diseases." Having had the experience of both the epidemic mentioned in the report and the truth of the statement made by Professor Wood, but at the same time I think sanitary precautions should always be carefully observed whenever any disease is at all prevalent.

REPLY TO CRITICS.

As quite recently the board of health has been made the subject of rather severe criticism, I think it only fair to state for the benefit of many who are not familiar with the work of the board of health some of the things that have been accomplished during the past ten years. One of the most important matters, in fact the most important, to be considered in all cities is the water supply. All of Providence and a great part of Green Ridge are furnished with water by the Providence Water company. There are two reservoirs, one in the town of and Scott townships, the streams running from both coming together at the north end of Chinchilla. At the time of the first inspection of this water the stream ran directly through the village of Chinchilla to a supply dam below and was piped from there to Providence. At the upper end of the village was a slaughter house in constant use, and all the offal was thrown directly into the brook. Nearly all of the water closets of the town were directly over the stream, and the drainage of the rest, together with the wash from the tubs, passed straight into the brook. In the year 1879 cholera and scarlet fever were epidemic and that year one physician in Providence reported over 200 cases of typhoid fever in his own practice. A bacteriological and microscopic examination of the water was made by the state of the city of Scranton, and it was pronounced the water unfit for drinking or domestic purposes, in fact, the worst he had ever examined.

Today the drinking water is as pure as any in the state, and the epidemics have ceased. The water is piped through Chinchilla, thoroughly filtered and aerated, and all discharges from the upper end of the village was a slaughter house in constant use, and all the offal was thrown directly into the brook. Nearly all of the water closets of the town were directly over the stream, and the drainage of the rest, together with the wash from the tubs, passed straight into the brook. In the year 1879 cholera and scarlet fever were epidemic and that year one physician in Providence reported over 200 cases of typhoid fever in his own practice.

The board of health of the city of Scranton has expended vast sums of money and have an ideal watershed, but there was always a great source of danger in the fact that the water was not purified and the whole plant at great expense and removed it entirely. These things may be considered trifling by some people, but the citizens who know of the vast saving of life and protection of health have been realized.

BAD WELLS CLOSED.

Old disease-breeding wells have been closed and thousands of disease-breeding bacteria have been destroyed.

Small pox has shown itself twice during the past ten years, and has been, through the board of health, confined to the houses in which it originated and stamped out.

The garbage crematory, destroying thousands of barrels of filth every month, also stands to the credit of the board of health.

The Scranton board was the first to inaugurate the guarding of homes where contagious diseases of the kind are prevalent in the state, including Philadelphia, has adopted our plan. Dr. Lee, secretary of the board of health, now health officer of Philadelphia, has said that "the system and work of the Scranton board of health has no superior in the state."

It has been the custom to do everything in the most unskillful manner, and there surely has been very little playing to the safety or health of the people, but it seems to be proper at this time that it should be known that the board of health is of some importance.

A report was not present and the foregoing report, as well as the others was read and referred for adoption at the next meeting.

The excellence of the city's present milk supply was indicated in thirty-six reports made by the board of health inspector Cullen and reported by him last evening. Thirty-six tests averaged as follows: Specific gravity at 60 degrees, Fahrenheit, 1.022; per cent. of solids, 12.76; per cent. of butter fat, 2.52; per cent. of solids other than fat, 8.91; per cent. of water, 87.24. The Pennsylvania standard is from 1.025 to 1.032, specific gravity; total solids, not less than 12.50 per cent; water, not more than 87.50 per cent, and butter fat, not less than 2 per cent.

INSPECTOR CULLEN'S FORMULA.

The formula followed by Inspector Cullen was Holmer & Richmond's. That was that of Dr. M. E. McDonnell, of the Pennsylvania State college. The formula does not vary more than from one-tenth to two-tenths of one per cent, from the result attained in chemical analysis. One lot of watered milk tested showed this result: Specific gravity, 1.025; all solids, 10.11; butter fat, 3.10; solids other than fat, 7.01; water, 89.89. For the month of March, Food Inspector Cullen reported: 569 stores and meat inspections, 245 milk inspections (dacto. test), 36 milk inspections (Babcock test); provisions destroyed, 46 pounds of beef, 79 of pork, 89 of veal, 209 of spare ribs, 126 of hog kidneys, 278 of poultry and 2.707 of fish, 35 barrels of cabbage and 14 of onions, 37 gallons of oysters.

In response to the board's recent request that Building Inspector Nelson examine the fire exits of the Lyceum theatre, Mr. Nelson reported to the board that the exits were ample. There were none on the Penn avenue side of the building, but the gallery and balcony exits by stairways and fire escapes, four double doors lead from the auditorium and all exit doors opened outward.

The mortality report of Secretary Murray for the month of March showed 144 deaths, about the average for that month for several years. The births for the month numbered 198. Of contagious diseases, 42 new cases were reported, of which 32 were of diphtheria, 11 of measles and 5 of scarlet fever. Of these 3 had died. During the month 31 marriages were reported.

Superintendent Thomas, of the crematory, reported 1,678 barrels of garbage cremated during the month. Fourteen tons of coal was required to do this work. Dr. Paine, president; Dr. W. E. Allen, health officer, and M. J. Kelly, of the board, and the secretary, food inspector, sanitary policeman and crematory superintendent were present.

RAISING THE FUNDS.

Energetic Committees at Work Raising Money for New Y. M. C. A. Building—Meeting with Success.

A vigorous campaign is just now being organized and pushed for the securing of the funds with which to erect the new building for the Young Men's Christian association. Representatives from the trustees and board of directors are calling upon the business men and other prospective large givers and good progress is being made.

It is expected that a considerable portion of the total amount needed will be secured in smaller subscriptions from the employes of the various business houses and manufacturing concerns. This part of the canvass is being looked after by a committee, of which D. B. Atherton is chairman, and which consists of about fifty men, each man being responsible for the employes of one or more establishments, appointing a sub-committee to cooperate with him wherever necessary.

The first work in this direction was done yesterday morning, when in less than an hour nearly seven hundred dollars was raised through seven subscriptions from bank clerks, Every profession, calling and trade represented.

sent in the city will be covered in this canvass, and since the subscriptions are all payable in five equal annual installments it is expected that a large sum will be realized from this source.

The exact location of the new building has not yet been decided upon, but the trustees have taken options upon two or three sites and hope to settle the matter soon. The new building of the Scranton association, when completed, will be one of the finest and best equipped in the country, providing facilities in all departments far superior to anything to be found in the old building.

The board of directors have secured the services of Fred. B. Shipp, one of the International Young Men's Christian association secretaries, to cooperate with Acting Secretary E. J. Frank in the direction of the canvass for funds.
