THREE VERY INTERESTING SESSIONS

Each of the Four Districts of the Lackawanna Presbytery General Organization had meetings at the Morning Session—Mrs. T. D. E. Chase's Review of the Work of the Montrose District During the Last Five Years—Address in Evening.

A meeting of the joint city and county committee that was appointed at the time Mr. Bryan was before expected, held at 10 o'clock this morning in Mr. Boland's office. It is probable that an outdoor meeting will be held if the weather permits. If not the armory and possible other hall will be secured. KELLY CASE IS ON TRIAL AGAIN

On Its Former Hearing the Jury Could Not Reach a Verdict.

NON-SUIT IN THE LOWRY CASE

It Was Granted on the Ground That the Plaintiff Was Guilty of Contributory Negligence—Another of the Deputy Cases Is on Trial Before Judge Gunster—A Complicated Third Ward Case in Which Retaliatives Are Mixed Up.

Before Judge Love in the Superior court the trespass case of Thomas H. Kelly and Elizabeth Kelly against the Scranton Traction company was called for trial late yesterday afternoon. A jury was secured and the opening address for the plaintiffs made before court adjourned. Attorneys C. L. Hawley, I. H. Burns and John P. Kelly appear for the Kellys and Major Everett Watson and P. W. Gallagher for the defendant company.

The case was tried at the December term of court and the jury disagreed. It is alleged by the plaintiffs that on Jan. 2, 1896, Mrs. Kelly, while sitting on one of the Traction company's cars on Lackawanna avenue, was injured by the sudden starting of the car, which threw her violently against the guard rail of the rear platform.

As a result of this accident Mrs. Kelly gave premature birth of a child which was still-born and suffered injury to her health of a permanent nature. For this and the husband's loss of his wife's services $10,000 damages are asked.

When court opened yesterday morning the jury in the case of James P. Boyle against the executors of E. P. Boyle's estate reported a verdict of $1,113 to Judge Love in favor of the plaintiff.

LOWRY CASE NOT SUITED.

The case of George Lowry against the Lackawanna Valley Rapid Transit company and the city of Carbondale was then called for trial. Attorneys I. H. Burns and John P. Kelly appear for the plaintiff Attorney J. E. Duer for the Rapid Transit company and City Solicitor Watrous for the city of Carbondale.

Lowry alleges that he was walking along Belmont street from Fell towards Carbondale, in Dunmore, in 1896, when he was run down by one of the defendant company's cars and seriously injured. It was a dark night and Lowry maintained that he did not see a light on the approaching car or hear it sound a bell. Judge Love granted a non-suit, holding that the plaintiff was guilty of contributory negligence in walking on or close to the track.

Judge Gunster in court room No. 2 charged the jury yesterday morning in the case of E. B. Deppy, of Dunmore, against J. M. Coleman, of the same place. The jury retired at 11 o'clock and had not reported a verdict up to the hour that court adjourned. Late in the afternoon the jury came into court and asked for instructions which would indicate that their verdict will be for Deppy.

After the E. R. Deppy case had been given to the jury a similar suit of Mrs. Minnie Deppy against Mr. Coleman was called for trial. Mrs. Deppy is the wife of Harry Deppy and she alleges that Mr. Coleman lured on and sold as her husband's property a horse and carriage and household goods owned by her. She seeks to recover damages for the injury done her. At the hour for adjourning all the testimony for the plaintiff had been heard. This morning testimony for the defense will be offered.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

In the main court room the case of Mrs. John Reap and her daughters, Mrs. Mary Ann Leach and Mrs. Sarah Jane Tipple, against John Gabogon was on trial all day. Some years ago Michael Gabogon died leaving three children, John and James Gabogon and Mrs. Catharine Kelly. Another son, Patrick Gabogon, had died some time before leaving a wife and four daughters. The widow subsequently married John Reap.

When Michael Gabogon died he owned a property in the Third ward of this city on which there was a mortgage. John Gabogon, the son, assumed this mortgage and then began proceedings to foreclose it and actually did foreclose the mortgage. At the sale he was the purchaser. When the proceedings were brought papers were served on the three children but Mrs. Reap and her daughters were ignored. The sale therefore did not wipe out their interests and began proceedings to recover their interest which would be about one-fourth of the entire property. Mrs. Reap suing for the interest of two of the three children but Mrs. Reap and her daughters were ignored. The sale therefore did not wipe out their interests and began proceedings to recover their interest which would be about one-fourth of the entire property.

THEY GAVE DEEDS. When the case was called yesterday morning deeds were presented by the defendant from Mrs. Anna Leach and Mrs. Sarah Jane Tipple and this removed them from consideration in the case and left the suit to be fought for the mother's right to the interest of her dead daughters in the property and the
