INSPECTOR O'MALLEY NOW,
He Took the Oath of Office Before Mayor Bailey.

M. F. O'Malley, the plumbing inspector, whose appointment was confirmed by select council Thursday night, was sworn in by Mayor Bailey yesterday afternoon and immediately entered upon the duties of his office.

For the present his headquarters will be in the office of Building Inspector Nelson on the third floor. After being sworn in yesterday he had a long consultation with Building Inspector Nelson, who has heretofore given such time to his other duties would permit to the work of a plumbing inspector.

Before actively beginning the duties of his office, Mr. O'Malley will visit some of the large cities of the east and by personal experience ascertain the manner in which the inspectors of these cities conduct the work of their departments.

The money to pay the inspector's salary has not been provided for as yet, but will be in an ordinance now before council providing a fee for various tests and examinations the inspector will have to make.

REPORT IS FINISHED.
Finance Committee of the Board of Control Finishes Its Work.

The finance committee of the board of control met last night and put the finishing touches to the report on appropriations and levy which will be submitted at next Monday night's meeting.

Nearly all the items were subjected to the piling process to bring down the appropriations to fit the estimated revenues. This was satisfactorily accomplished and the committee unanimously signed the report. The biggest slicing was done on the building committee's requisition, the committee using an ax rather than a knife in dealing with the allotment for new buildings.

The tax levy will be 14 mills. If the committee's recommendation is adopted, it will be proportioned as follows: Sinking fund, .0042; building fund, .0032; general school fund, .0025. The estimated valuation is $22,569,000. This would give a total revenue of $315,000.

COMMISSARY MEN ARE CALLED OUT

Colonel Ripple and Sergeant Simpson Summoned to Harrisburg.

THIRTEENTH IS STILL WITH US
No Word Received Yet as to When Regiment Will Be Called—Colonel Coursen Receives Assurance from General Stewart That There Will Be No Hurdled Summons—Patriotic Day with an Enthusiastic Citizenship—Volunteer Companies Organizing.

At 4:41 o'clock yesterday afternoon Colonel E. H. Ripple and Sergeant W. T. Simpson left for Harrisburg via the Delaware and Hudson road, in response to a call from Adjutant General Stewart.

Colonel Ripple is commissary general and Sergeant Simpson is commissary sergeant on the governor's staff.

Major W. S. Miller, inspector, and Major J. W. Oakford, judge-advocate of the Third brigade, have received no communication whatever from their chief, Brigadier General J. P. S. Goldin.

Colonel H. A. Coursen, commanding the Thirteenth regiment, has not as yet even received notice that his command will be called out.

Such is the status of affairs in the National Guard, in division, brigade and regimental circles, as viewed from a local standpoint. The division officers are preparing for the calling out of the militia, and the militia expert to be called out. Further than that, everything connected with the calling out of the guard is supposititious.

STORY WAS FALSE.
When a bulletin came last night announcing that Colonel Dougherty, of the Ninth regiment, had received a message from Adjutant General Stewart, intimating that his command would be called to arms tonight, a Tribune reporter sought out Colonel Coursen and, laying the message before him, asked him if he had received anything of that character from Harrisburg.

"No, no," said the colonel somewhat testily, "and it isn't true that Colonel Dougherty received any such message. It is a false rumor. I am positive."

"Have you received anything whatever from headquarters that you can make public?" was asked.

"Yes, I received a communication from Adjutant General Stewart today assuring me that there would be no hurried call of the troops. If there is a call, he did not say that there would be a call, but I expect that there will be one, and that it will come within a few days. I am satisfied, however, from the information contained in the adjutant general's communication that if the call comes there will be a couple of days or a week possibly for preparation."

All the other prominent militiamen interviewed shared Colonel Coursen's opinion. They laughed at the report that the call would be made in readiness at the depots—rumors placed a special train at each of the depots—and investigation proved that their risibilities were being aroused. The Jersey Central did not send two cars up yesterday from Wilkes-Barre; the Delaware and Hudson had no special train for the soldiers standing in any of its yards, and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western officials knew nothing whatever of any special train coming in their road and did not expect to know anything about it.

THEY ARE READY.
When the call does come the Thirteenth will be found ready and waiting. Regimental baggage is packed; companies have every detail of preparation attended to and the individual members almost to a man have taken home their knapsacks to pack them.

Every company reports more than a full quota of men and scores of applicants. Company D, last night mustered in four new members, ex-Regimental Clerk Charles R. Smith, who served in the company in the company; ex-Sergeant Lona B. Day, with a record of eight years; George C. Merriman also an ex-member and Fred Woodhull. Twenty applications had to be held over.

Corporal Sloane, of Company A, drilled twelve recruits last night at the armory, after Company D vacated the floor. Nearly every company had an informal meeting and headquarters on the second floor was open until a late hour, officers coming in and out to look after this or that detail, or to find out "the latest."

There were fully five hundred spectators at the armory during the drill, many of them being ladies. When the drill had been concluded and the order to "break ranks" given there was spontaneous outburst of cheering from soldiers and onlookers. It could be heard a block away. Somebody suggested a parade and everybody fell in with the suggestion. Soldiers and civilians, in a fairly well kept line, formed in the armory corridor and headed down town, yelling and cheering like mad. The Tribune was serenaded and cheers given for everybody and everything American and Cuban. All around town the enthusiastic throng wended its way, marching with yells and cheers until after 10 o'clock.

It was a fitting climax to what was unquestionably the most enthusiastic day of the war period so far. The enthusiasm began to show itself shortly after noon in the raising of flags throughout the central city. This was prompted by the announcement that a Spanish ship had been taken, indicating that hostilities were on at last in earnest.

EVIDENCES OF PATRIOTISM.
One building after another raised "Old Glory," and then the stores took it up, decorating with bunting and small flags, until in about three hours the principal avenues bore a regular Fourth of July appearance. It is needless to say that the bulletin boards were more crowded than ever, and that the rumor feld got in some excellent work.

The Sons of Veterans met at Memorial hall last night and after deciding to form a company for volunteer service, agreed to put off the organizing until the regular meeting next Tuesday night. One hundred and fifty of the one hundred and seventy-seven members of the camp are of acceptable age.

Twenty members of Nay Aug Engine company and twenty other men enrolled last night in the military company that the Nay Augs are organizing.

Some time ago Camp 322, Sons of Veterans, appointed a committee of nine to arrange for an excursion in June. The committee met last night at the home of D. H. Anthony, voted to let the excursion go by the board, and after agreeing to enlist themselves, called a special meeting of the camp for next Tuesday night to form a military company.

Providence had a celebration last night, consisting of an impromptu parade, headed by a boy dressed as Uncle Sam.

Rev. P. J. McManus yesterday presented his valuable saddle horse to Colonel Coursen, of the Thirteenth, for use in the field. The colonel accepted it with the greatest feeling of gratitude and appreciation of the patriotic spirit which prompted the gift.

Colonel Kee's regiment is getting into shape and as soon as the call for volunteers comes it will be formally organized. There will be regiments in this city, Wilkes-Barre, Nanticoke, West Pittston and Hazleton.

FOR PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

Vigorous Effort is Being Made to Revive the Organization.

SOME AGGRESSIVE STEPS TAKEN
At a Meeting in the Board of Trade Rooms Yesterday Afternoon a Number of Persons Who Are Interested in Having Animals Properly Treated and Cared for were Present. Important Business That Was Transacted by Them.

The first meeting of the society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals since last October was held in the board of trade rooms yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. There was present President J. M. Kemmerer, Secretary-Treasurer Dolph B. Atherton, Vice-Presidents Thomas Sprague, Mrs. William Silkman, Mrs. Walter L. Henwood, Mrs. W. E. Thayer, Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. Hazzard. The meeting was presided over by President Kemmerer, and the minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary Atherton, which were approved.

The treasurer reported as having received from Oct. 1, 1897, to the present date $186, out of which $136 had been paid, leaving a balance in the treasury of $50.58. Out of the latter fund $15 is due the society's agent, Brooks A. Bass, there remaining a cash balance of $35.58. The secretary read a letter from Agent Bass, who has been unable to attend to his duties lately, owing to illness. He referred to his identity with the society during the last eleven years and felt as though he ought to give up the work on account of his failing health.

His services have been invaluable to the society during that time, but at times he has been incapacitated by rheumatism. During Mr. Bass' recent illness Mr. Kemmerer and others have looked after the work, but it requires an active man to perform the duties necessary.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS.
Reports of an encouraging nature were received from agents of the society in Madisonville, Moscow, Dunmore and Priceburg, and President Kemmerer thought additional agents ought to be appointed in Carbondale, Taylor and other places. The state law relating to violators provides that they are subject to immediate arrest, and it was suggested that the police officers be directed to act as agents.

Secretary Atherton reported that the society is provided with all facilities necessary to conduct the work, except money, and suggested the advisability of the lady members assuming the responsibility of raising a fund of $250 a year, necessary to carry on the work. On this subject Mrs. Henwood, seconded by Mrs. Thayer, the vice president, will act as a soliciting committee to raise funds. Contributors will be enrolled as members of the society, and contributions will be accepted by the secretary.

A committee of three members, consisting of Messrs. Thomas Sprague, Walter L. Henwood and J. M. Kemmerer, was appointed to secure an agent for the society to continue Mr. Bass' work, and on motion of Secretary Atherton, the committee is empowered to employ a suitable person at a salary of $29 a month.

WILL CONFER WITH MAYOR.
The suggestion of having police officers act as agents was acted upon by the appointment of a committee, comprising Mrs. Silkman, Mrs. Thayer and Mrs. Henwood, to wait upon Mayor Bailey and request him to instruct police officers to arrest all offenders of the law relating to cruelty to animals. The committee will wait upon the Mayor on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Much interest was manifested in the work at the present, and the efforts of the lady members adds much to the work being done by the society.

The lady vice presidents will constitute the soliciting committee, and each one will endeavor to raise $25 towards the expenses of the work. They will hold a meeting in a few days and decide upon a plan of action to raise the amount necessary to carry on the work. Contributions may be sent to Secretary Atherton, board of trade building.

Jeweler Cohen, of Spruce street, is not the only purchaser of "gold bricks" in Scranton. There are others, and it might be added, in Wilkes-Barre, too. Besides, a victim who makes a business of ensnaring gold in New York, was also duped, and in all probability the same man victimized them all. It was discovered yesterday that a merchant on Lackawanna avenue was induced to purchase a quantity of the metal.

The Wilkes-Barre man purchased a small quantity and the New Yorker acknowledged that he was swindled out of $60, and believed, from the description given, it was the same party that engineered all the deals.

SHE EVADES THE OFFICER.
A Woman Charged With Assault and Battery Feels the Law.

A warrant was issued from Alderman Miller's office on charges preferred by a neighbor, C. D. Spencer, who claimed that Mrs. Brander had assaulted his wife and threatened to kill his son. The woman appeared before the alderman and was liberated on her own recognizance, promising to present herself for a hearing on Thursday evening.

The prosecution and his witnesses were on hand, and waited until long after 8 o'clock, but the defendant did not put in an appearance.

The warrant was placed in the hands of a constable last evening at 6 o'clock and an effort was made to bring the woman before the alderman last evening for a hearing, when the prosecutor and his witnesses were again present. The constable's efforts were unavailing, as the woman departed from home when the officer approached and dodged around through the neighborhood. An effort will be made to place her under arrest today.

TURKO WANTED TO ENLIST.
Is Very Anxious to Don the Uniform of Uncle Sam.

One of the callers at the city hall yesterday afternoon was Frank Turko, a young Poleander, who wanted to enlist in the United States army.

He has been in this country for seven years, and during the greater part of that time has resided in the vicinity of this city. He speaks excellent English.

When he learned that he could not enlist in this city he was much disappointed and begged the authorities to furnish him with transportation to the nearest recruiting station. He was doubly disappointed when told that he could not be sent by the city authorities. He said he tried to steal a ride on a train going South earlier in the day, but was put off at Moosic.

JUSTICE WILL HAVE TO WAIT.
Judge Edwards Patriotically Winks His Judicial Eye.

D. Feldman, a member of the Thirteenth regiment, was unfortunately enough some time ago to be arrested on a trivial charge of false pretenses. His case is to come up for trial next June.

Yesterday, his bondsman, Simon Dorfman, fearing that he would not be on hand, when the case would be called had him arrested on a bail piece and surrendered him to the sheriff.

Attorney Nathan Vidaver went before Judge Edwards and explained the circumstances. Without much ado, the judge directed that Feldman be released on his recognizance. Mr. Vidaver intimated to court that Feldman might not be able to respond at the next term of court. Judge Edwards in a momentary way gave Feldman to understand that he should not worry himself into a fever about that.

It's a Mistake

To suppose that modern Patent flour is not healthful. Some people have an idea that all the best part of the wheat is thrown away. This is not so. Every bit of the digestible part of the wheat is put into the flour. Nothing but the bran or husk is thrown out.

"Snow White"
Flour contains absolutely all the nourishing part of the wheat. Not a bit of it is wasted. Not a particle that is digestible is thrown out.
