SENTENCE DAY IN CRIMINAL COUR

Judges Mete Out Punishment to Persons Convicted During the Week.

PENALTIES WERE RATHER MILD

The Largest Term Was Given John Barrett Who Served Nine Months for Burglarizing a South Washington Avenue Clothing Store .- Grandanetti Gets Eight Months for Making Use of a Big Knife -- Other Sentences That were Imposed.

Saturday's sentences in criminal court were comparatively light, nine months being the largest term meted out. This imprisonment was prescribed by Judge Edwards in the case of John Barrett who, with John Kelly plead guilty of burglarizing a South Washington avenue clothing store. Kelly was given six months.

The next biggest sentence was imposed upon Alfonzo Grandanetti, of Winton, who stabbed Frank Guyden twice in the head during a drunken quarrel. The jury, taking into consideration the mitigating circumstance that it was a give and take fight, convicted Grandanetti of simple assault and battery. Judge Swartz half intimated in imposing the sentence of eight months that the size of the knife Grandanetti carried was responsible for the THREE MONTHS FOR CONWAY. P. J. Conway, of Old Forge, who was returned guilty Saturday morning of the charge of perjury preferred by Peter Dougher, was sentenced to three months in the county jail, but after his attorney, M. J. Donahoe, made application for a new trial and pointed out what he believed were good grounds upon which to base such a the sentence down to 45 days and when he had done this the petition for a new trial was withdrawn.

Besides the Barrett and Kelly sentences Judge Edwards imposed the fol-aused By a Small Blaze at 738 Monroe Avenue.

An alarm of fire from Box 29, corner f Pine street and Monroe avenue, Saturday evening at 9.40 o'clock, was caused by the discovery of fire in the cellar of the residence at 738 Monroe avenue, occupied by Owen Irish.

A spark from the furnace or a match thrown carelessly down probably started the fire. Little damage was caused and the house and furniture were fully covered by insurance. The dwelling was but recently erected and is a double frame dwelling owned by Mr. Richards, who resides at 740 Monroe avenue.

New York, April 23 .- Today the stock market was "discounting peace" in the language of brokers. This was done by lifting prices a notch higher. The advance hesitated at the opening, ow-ing to a reactionary tendency in the London market, following the receipt of the report there that the Paris had been captured by the Spanish and the cruiser Topeka sunk in a collision. There was reported an active demand for securities in London but the buying here for London account was not large as prices here ruled above London parity. There were periods of reaction, but the publication of the bank statement caused renewed buying and lift ed prices to the highest. Total sales of stocks today were 122,400 shares.
