"Heaven gives its favorites early death," said Byron in the other days, of one who went away from earth in the bloom of youth. Seldom is pen called upon to chronicle the departure of one who, passing out of life, leaves such teneral gloom over the community as loss the death of Joseph M. Holes, not nly for the distinguished position held by his family in this city, but also for the depth of affection which his personality always has won. For the past few grief was expressed in all quarters, He had wanted to enlist with the Thir-teenth regiment, but had answered an-other call as the boys marched away. Everyhody who know to be the control of the contro Everybody who knew Joseph Boies loved him. There are not such multitudes of his type of noble, pure, blameless man-hood, to spare without regret one of the centlest most beautiful lives that can adorn home or society. Just how much his influence meant in the sphere he oc-cupied can never be told in words.

DEATH OF JOSEPH M. BOIES.

"We cannot say, and we will not say That he is dead-he is just away; With a cheery smile and a wave of the He has wandered into an unknown

He felt us dreaming, how very fair It needs must be since he lingers carre. Think of him still as the same, we say He is not dead-he is just away." Joseph Milton Boies, son of Colonel Henry Maynard and Elizabeth D. Boles, Henry Maynard and Elizabeth D. Boles, and eldest grandson of the late Thomas Dickson, was born Aug. 8, 1873, and was therefore in his twenty-fifth year. He prepared for college in the School of the Lackawanna under Professor Buell, entered Yale scientific department in 1892 in the class of '95, He was coxswain of the class crew while in college and had the honor of bringing home with him two banners of victory over Harvard.

After leaving college he took a clerkship in the office of the Moosic Powder company and in November, 1855, was made superintendent of the Holes Steel company and in November, 1855, was made superintendent of the Holes Steel Wheel company, which office he held until the transfer of the company, when he entered the employ of the Dickson Manufacturing company occupying this position until his death. He was a director of the Moosic Powder company, vice president of the Jermyn Electric Power and Light company, and a stockholder in the Ladlin & Rand Powder company. He was also a member of the Alumni association of Yale, and of the Phi Alpha society; the Engineers' chin and the Country club, and assistant treasurer of the Second Presbyterian church, of which he was a communicant. He was prominent in the Civies club in the last debate of which less than a fortnight ago he took an important part.

MRS. NELLIE PALMER GETS ONE YEAR

The Costs Were Imposed on C. W Traver In the Frank Grambo Case. The Jury Went to See if Grambe Has a Barroom and Finding None Found a Verdict Without Leaving the Box .- Three Cases Against T. E. Roland Quashed.

In criminal court yesterday the three cases coming over from the term be-fore last charging T. E. Boland, of Dunmore, with fallure to make returns to the county commissioners, collection of exonerated taxes, and perjury were quashed by taking verdicts of not guilty. The county will pay the costs. The jury in the case against Braman Green found him guilty of the second count of the indictment, and he was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and undergo imprisonment in the Eastern penitentiary for two years and three

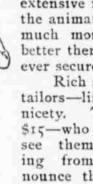

Mrs. Nellie Palmer, convicted of enticing a girl of tender years for im-moral purposes, was sentenced by Judge Olmstead to one year in the p nitentiary, Constable John Walsh. Lackawanna township, and James Dacey were found guilty of highway robbery and William McNicholas, tried with them, was acquitted, Judge Ed-wards called for them to impose senence, but they did not respond and a apins was issued.

John Nealon, of Pine Brook, was tried before Judge Edwards for pullng a bunch of hair from the head of the daughter of John Walsh, a neigh-bor. Walsh's daughter and Nealon's little girl had a quarrel, and the hairpulling episode was the result. Nealon admitted he pulled the girl's ears. He had no attorney, and the court would not assign any. Judge Edwards told the jury that if they believed the evidence of the defendant even he must be convicted, and the jurymen "hemmed and hawed" and put their heads together and took them away again so often without arriving at any con-clusion, that the judge got disgusted and told them to go out and deliberate. They had not reached a conclusion up to the hour of adjournment.

ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLER.

Andrew Kominski, of Priceburg, was tried and found guilty of seiling liquor without a license. T. H. C. Maloney was the prosecutor.
