CITY OFFICIALS KNOW.

Can Give Housewives Pointers of One Bit of Spring Cleaning.

A mass of vermin whose volume it is difficult to comprehend was yesterday brought to light when five iron cages were taken from the central postation in the city hall for removal to the new sub-station in Center

It was at once realized that the iron work, which was unbolted and taken out in sections, could not be used again unless some extraordinary treatment was devised. Chief Hickey of the fire department, hit upon an effective plan- hot steam.

Nay Aug engine was brought to the city hall's alley entrance where the cell sections were located and for several hours a shower of scalding steam from a small hose and jet was directed upon every crack and crevice. A large quantity of every conceivable kind of small vermin was killed and dislodged in the process.

The work was not ended until a stream of water from a fire hose was played upon the ten cells remaining in the old cell room and upon its wainscoting, doors and floor. After this flushing, men wearing rubber boots swept the water into a drain leading from the floor to a sewer.

LEHIGH VALLEY POLICY.

Details of Management Will Be Left in Hands of President.

"At the recent meeting of the direcors of the Lehigh Valley the discussion of the enconomies to be practiced on the railroad were thoroughly discussed, and it was decided to adhere to the policy of leaving every detail of management in the hands of the president and the general superintendent,' says the Mauch Chunk Times. "About twenty changes will be made

At the Center street station the cells | in the force of station ad freight usents, There will be a number of freight sollcitors and division freight agents dropped in May. The station agents will be removed except in such cases where the agent can act as operator.

There will be no changes on the Wyming division on any account. It is likely that there will be a change of superintendents on the Easton and Amsoy division very shortly, but the exact date has not yet been settled. There will be some new trains put on for the summer, but if the public does not respond the trains will be promptly abandoned."

TRIED FOR A VERY SERIOUS OFFENSE

James Campbell, of North Scranton, Arraigned Before Judge Archbald.

ALDERMAN KELLEY ACCUSED-IT GUILTY OF MISDEMEANOR IN OF-FEES-D. E. WILLIAMS WAS RE-TURNED NOT GUILTY OF THE CHARGE OF STEALING.

James Campbell, 34 years of age, about six feet tall, muscular and well developed, a married man with three children, was put on trial before Judge Archbald yesterday, charged with attempting to criminally assault Annie Martin, the frail 7-year-old daughter of Alexander Martin, of North Scranton.

The alleged crime was said to have seen committed on May 6 last at the child's home. Her father testified to circumstantial evidence of Campbell's guilt. The child was put on the stand, and Attorneys Dawson and Vosburg for the defendant, objected to her as incompetent, arguing that she was too young to know the nature of an oath. Attorneys Dawson asked her if she knew where those go who tell lies on the witness stand. She did not reply. Judge Archbald remarked that the question might be a puzzle to some grown-up and ablebodied witnesses of quarter sessions. The child testified that Campbell attempted to make an assault on her.

The child's 10-year-old sister and two other girls of 10 and 12 years respectively, testified that Campbell was swinging Indian clubs in the garden for their amusement, and after awhile he sent them into the house and kept Annie with him. Mrs. Martin also gave circumstantial testi-

THE DEFENSE OFFERED.

The defense was a denial and previous good character. Campbell was an English soldier, good at gymnastic exercises, and fond of game roosters. He said he went to Martin's house with a man named Roche, who spoke highly of two game chickens Martin had. Two pails of beer were sent for in the course of an hour or two, and Campbell went to the rear of the garden. On the way back to the house he found the children playing with Indian clubs, and he began to swing them for their amusement.

The little child was well pleased with his exercises, and when he just took a notion to go to the coop to see the roosters, she followed him to the door of it. He denied absolutely that the child came into it with him. He was not charged with the crime until he went into the house and he called Martin a liar when he did charge him. Mrs, Campbell was the only other witness for the defense. She testified that at the office of Alderman Roberts the mother of the child was telling her what to answer, that the little one could not then identify Campbell or give any evidence except as she was coached. Judge Archbald's charge was favorable to the defendant. The jury retired for deliberation at 4.45 and will bring in the verdict this morn-

Alderman John P. Kelley, of the Eighteenth ward, was tried before Judge Edwards with misdemeanor in office. The prosecutor was George Potski, who had legal proceedings be-of his right according to the fee bill, captaincy in the reorganized and he took counsel of Constable Henin the matter of assessing costs, and under the direction of A. L. François, was informed the amount levied on president of the board. Potski was correct. The case went to Baylor defended Kelly. There was no verdict at adjournment.

PECKVILLE CASE.

The liquor case in which Anthony Bagnack, of Peckville, was defendant, went against him. He will be sentenced tomorrow. A verdict of guilty was returned against Maggie McArdell, of Providence, for a similar offense, but her mother, who was tried with her, was found not guilty.

John Nealon, of New street, was found guilty of assault and battery on daughter of a neighbor, John Walsh, and a recommendation of mercy was added. Max Phillips was convictd of assault and battery on Joseph Slane, who went to collect a bill from him. A verdict of acquittal was returned in the common scold proceedings between Sarah Russell and Mag-gie Morgan. The defendant must pay two-thirds and the prosecutrix onethird of the costs. E. F. Lawler and Patrick Mahady were found not guilty of assault and battery on Edwin Smith and each side was directed to pay half the costs. Michael Duffy was found guilty of assault and battery on William F. Jones. A nolle pros was entered in the case of Bridget Garvey against Richard Walsh, the 70-year-old Lothario of the Twentieth ward. Attorney M. J. Donahoe, representing Walsh, asked that the court permit a nolle pros, as it is agreeable to the presecutrix, the child being dead, and Walsh does not earn any more than 70 cents a day. A noile pros was entered in the case of Emma Oakley against Paul M. Cure.

The jury is out in the case against John McFlale, prosecuted by Maria Flynn, both of the Diamond Flats. She places the paternity of her child at his door. He denied it. In the case of Mabel Mirts prosecuting George Makely for being the father of her child, the jury was also out at adjournment.

WILLIAMS ACQUITTED.

D. E. Williams was found not guilty of stealing $5 from the pocket of Thommony was performed in St. Nichojas as F. Lally in Krotosky's clothing store. A capias was issued for prosecutor and defendant in the cases of Zeller of selling fiquor on election day and selling it without a license. caplas was issued for Lizzie Smallcomb because she did not appear to prosecute Josie Leston. A verdict of ot guilty was taken in the case of Elmer E. Rice, charged with assault and battery by G. D. Osborn, the later to pay the costs.

Harry Dalton was found not guity ut must pay the costs. Andrew Campell was found not guilty and the costs were placed on the county. Tady Noone was saddled with the costs in the assault and battery case he had against James Fallon. The ball of Patrick Flannelly, indicted for selling liquor without a license, was forfeited absolutely und a rapins was issued for him. Verdicts of not kuilty were taken in A the larceny and receiving case of John ## and Mary Dunn in which Elizabeth

Bevan was prosecutrix.

John Moffit was found not guilty of assault and battery on Charles Sherman and the costs were equally di-vided between them. A verdict of not guilty was returned in the case of as-sault and battery against Mathew Fad-den, the prosecutor to pay the costs; and against Antony McAndrew was found not guilty, the presecutor to pay the costs. A verdict of not guilty was IS ALLEGED THAT HE WAS taken in the largeny and receiving case The case against Michael Haggerty, of Jackson street, Arigoni Ferdinando prosecutor, is on before Judge Edwards in No. 2. A mere statement of that relation would be sufficient to attest their loss as a cor-poration, but the directors of the com-pany desire to, and herewith do, give ex-pression to their grief over the severance of their personal relations with one whose heart was as kind as his judgment wase, and whose conduct in life was an inspiration to those who knew of, as well as those who knew him. In all activities of life that tend toward the betterment of the community, as well as the individual, he was conspicuous, by reason of his unwavering support, and singleness of purpose. Fortunate those who enjoyed his friendship, although deep

GROCERY WAGON NUISANCE.

Oil Delivery Injures Asphalt Pave, It Is Claimed.

It is probable that an ordinance will toon be introduced in councils regulating the method of transporting kerosene and other oils in grocery and other wagons. The reason given is that a small quantity of oil that has dripped or been spilled upon an asphalt pavement thoroughly disintegrates its surface and causes a small imperfection which often spreads to expensive pro-

City Engineer Phillips referred to the matter in his recent annual report In his office tests of the action of oil on asphalt were begun yesterday. Hard asphalt placed in baths of kerosene, turpentine, etc., were crumbled or disintegrated in two hours or over, according to the nature of the oil.

Asphalt itself is largely composed of oil which is released by contact with TRAVERSE JURORS other mineral oils. Thus the asphalt structure is robbed of its strengthening

OVERHEAD TROLLEY WIRES.

City Engineer Phillips Wants to Know Their Mileage.

City Engineer Phillips yesterday conferred with General Manager Silliman, of the Scranton Rallway company, relative to the number of miles of overhead trolley wire in the city. The information was sought by direction of a resolution recently introduced in com-mon council by Mr. Reese.

The father of the resolution has not indicated the purpose of the measure, It is believed the mileage is wanted for a basis of an overhead wire tax. Any onclusive action of that kind by councits would be illegal, however, unless the ordinance related to all companies owning overhead wires.
