WHY HE WEPT.

'Neath the blue cap's visor shaded, The dark eyes mistly shone; And the beareded lip did tremble. As he left her solbing alone In the doorway, while the nod brating Of drums and the marching feet. And the shouls of the throng re-echoed Adown the bannered street.

"Keep up courage," a comrade while "To go is not forever and sys.

And the coming will be the sweeter With the victory some blessed day." And the quivering lips did answer: "'Tis for gladness I weep and rejoice That mayhap for a year or forever, I am free from her magging voice -H. C. P.

Mrs. A. de'Orville Blackinton gave a reception on Thursday at her beautiful residence "the Homestead" 113 honor of the tenth anniversary of the Ladies' Aid goclety of the Dunmere Presbyterian church. An interesting programme was given by the society. Mrs. Blackinton was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. L. M. Smith, Mrs. Charles Farrar, Mrs. George Allen, Mrs. K. A. Werley, Mrs. John Fowler. At the table in the dining room, Mrs. W. F. Gibbons and Mrs. P. H. Prooks, of Wilkes-Barre, presided. The young ladies who assisted Miss Cornelia Galpin, Miss Osborne, Miss Brooks and the Misses Bone, Mrs. G. du Bois Dimmick sang a number of solos to the vast enjoyment of the many listeners.

Miss Celia Case, the well known artist, was married Monday morning to Mr. Wesley C. Shipman, of Baycune, 2% J., at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Washburn, on the West Side. Rev. J. B. Sweet officiated.

Many plans had been made for a gay season in the brief time clapsing before summer, but owing to the mourning in so many homes over the loss of dear ones no attempt will be made to entertain in any save the most quiet and informal fashion.

Judge Hand and family are now occupying their beautiful home on Jefferson avenue and are more than gladly velcomed by a multitude of friends after their long absence.

Miss Eva Brown, of the Colliery Enginerr entertained a company of her young friende last evening at her home on Capouse avenue, when a flash light picture was taken of the party by Mr. Odgen.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Farnham have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Stella Morcor Farnham to Samuel Dexeter Warriner on Wednesday, May 18, at 12 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church. A reception will follow immediately after the ceremony at the home on South street. Mr. Warriner until recently was a resident of this city, but lately he removed to Michlgan, where he has charge of a large copper mine. A handsome new home has been just completed for them.-Wilkes-Barre Times.

SUMMANIA VIEWS ONE WOMAN'S VIEWS. MANMAMAMAMA

We call ourselves patriotic in Scranon and no doubt we are as patriotic as any other people on earth but we certainly don't make the same fuss over our patriotism, at least not as much as they do in New York. If we without some such insignia is almost garded with suspicion. Of course, if you are a girl, the very imbition of your soul is to have a hat band which belonged to a sailor laddle on one of our great battleshins. You don't wear it on your hat but around your slender waist so that plainly can be read the brave legend it bears. A fair maid with a "U. S. N. Indiana" belt was probably the most envied individual in a merry group of shoppers the other morning and she had to take it off for her friends to see that it was fastened with a curiously bent piece of metal which she said was a "splinter" from one of the deadly projectiles used in the recently famous target practice, Even people who don't "belong to us" wear the flag of the Union. A group of straight nosed and straight haired, but dark visaged young men at an adjacent table the other day in a restaurant attracted considerable attention, but they were all right although the looked "Spaniardy," for each wore a red, white and blue badge. But indeed, why should they not-for it afterward transpired that they were

Cubans. 10.00 This flag craze may be carried a little too far. We overdo our patriotism in some directions and are in danger of cheapening it in the eyes of the world. We want to hear the eagle scream until he gets to be as big a nuisance as a continually crowing hen. We want him to be practically flopping his wings Mr. David Boies has returned to school and screeching out to the universe "Here am I. The Bird of Freedom, Greatest Thing on Earth!" when he might be profitably employed at times in preening his feathers a trifle and illness of several weeks Dr. Edson Green and bride are at home from their wedding burney. Mr. J. H. S. Lynde is considered out of sharpealing his claws. A shabby, been-out-all-night looking engle, with a shaky jaw and claws unprepared for shaky jaw and claws unprepared for a scrap isn't as valuable a bird as one that is always in fighting condition even when there's no prospect of a battle. It is the same way with our flag. Suddenly we realize that the flag is a very important adjunct to our national greatness, and straightway we have it made into door mats, sofa pillows, handerchiefs, pug-dog blankets, Organ Prelude, "Star Spangled Banner, chest protectors for mules, and wrappers for bologna sausages. The ordinary purpose of a handkerchief is a bad use to put the flag of our Union to, and as we ought to draw the line some- Postlude, "March Triumphant" ..... The official minutes and year book of the recent Wyoming conference of the Methodist Episcopal church has just been received from Secretary J, B. Sweet, pastor of Simpson church. It ost creditable pamphlet and has ls a mo for its title cover a fine portrait of Bishop Fowler. The frontisplece is the beautiful new gymnasium given by Mrs. Pettebone to the Wyoming seminary. The present volume contains many new features. Among these is a group of excellent portraits of the presiding elders of the conference and also a full-page collection of portraits of the clergymen who died during the past conference year. Engravings of Dr. M. S. Hard and Dr. L. T. Sprague are prominently placed. The volume is a great credit to Secretary Sweet in its admirable arrangement and in the celerity with which he has completed the arduous work of publication.
