The Annual Meeting of the Grand Castle Begins Today.

CASTLES IS THE FOURTH ANNUAL LITION. SESSION OF THE LADIES OF THE GOLDEN EAGLE WHO ARE ALLIED TO THE ORDER OF THE KNIGHTS. OPENING SESSION IN THE ACAD-EMY THIS MORNING.

The twenty-second annual session of the Grand Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, and the fourth annual session of the Grand Temple, Ladies of the Golden Eagle, will begin in this city this morning.

Up to midnight last night the five hundred or more delegates of the Knights and the several hundred of the Ladies' order expected here had not arrived. While the number of each order already in the city is large, it is not what was anticipated.

Headquarters for the grand officers of the Knights have been established at the Hotel Jermyn. At midnight all of the following had reported there: Grand Past Chief L. H. Tobin, Philadelphia: Grand Chief F. P. Hunsicker, Allentown: Grand Vice-Chief Walter H. Pelley, Philadelphia; Grand Sir Herald Charles H. Webster, Philadelphia; Grand High Priest D. Gray Lewis, Minersville; Grand Master of Records J. D. Barnes, Philadelphia; Grand Keeper of Exchequer H. C. The rate is abnormally low. Only three George W. Okell, chairman; picnic commitee, George W. Okell, cnairman.

The headquarters of the general and sub-committees are on the second floor of Ancient Order United Workmen's hall on Lackawanna avenue. Last evening a large party of Knights and Ladies were conducted through the steel mills. On their return to the central city they participated in the erenade given by Dorian castle, No. 274 of Philadelphia, to the grand officers at the Hotel Jermyn. Speeches were made at the Spruce street entrance of the hotel by Past Grand Chief Tobin, of Philadelphia; Grand Chief Hunsicker, of Allentown; Grand Master of Records Barnes, of Philadel-Grand Keeper of Exchequer Gearhart, of Philadelphia; Grand Vice Chief Webster, of Perkasic, Bucks county; Grand Chief-elect Pelley, of Philadelphia: Grand Trustee-elect Dyer, of Allegheny City: Past Grand Chief McKinney, of Philadelphia; Grand First Guardsman-elect Hutchinson, of Reading.

The castle was accompanied by Guth's band. Earlier in the evening the castle serenaded the grand officers of the Ladies' order at the Hotel Terrace and played in front of The Trib-une building. The paraders were led by Captain Walker and Lieutenant

THE PEERLESS BARITONE SOLOIST

Arrested for Rifling a Bureau in Mrs.

Benney's Boarding House. The Peerless Baritone Soloist," as he is professionally known, according to printed matter found in his pockets, is in the police station and repenting his evil ways. His name is George W. Carlston. He made the mistake yesterday noon of rifting bureaus and trunks in the boarding house of Mrs. Benney on Hallstead court while someone was looking. When detected, Carlston jumped off the top of the porch. He made his way to Spruce street and eastward on that thoroughfare across Washington avenue. He was followed by Mrs. Benney's daughter who told Patrolman what had occurred. Carlston was then standing at the corner of Adams avenue and Spruce street, where he was arrested.

At the police station a watch which was alleged to have been stolen from the boarding house was not found on the prisoner. He was slightly intox-icated and complained of having hurt is spine when he jumped from the porch. Linament was procured and was rubbed in his back during the af-

LOOKING FOR HER AUNT.

Fourteen-Year-Old Polish Girl Ray

Away from Home. Nellie Evaniske, a 14-year-old Polish girl, ran away from her home in Philadelphia and came to this city yesterday to find an aunt. She does not know her aunt's name, but she thought Scranton was so small she could go from house to house in less than no time and find her.

She was penniless and hungry when she reached here. She applied for assistance at the police station and Desk Sergeant Deiter turned her over to Mrs. Duggan. She is now at the emergency hospital.

HEARING IN THE ELECTION CONTEST

Eighty-four Witnesses from Seventh and Twelith Wards Examined.

ATTORNEYS FOR THE CONTESTANT CLAIM THAT FOURTEEN DEFEC-TIVE VOTES AND ELEVEN DOUBT. FUL ONES WERE DISCOVERED YESTERDAY-J. V. SCANLON, OF THE SEVENTH WARD, REFUSED TO ANSWER WHETHER HE RE-CEIVED MONEY FOR HIS VOTE,

In the Langstaff-Kelly contest yesterday eighty-four witnesses were examined. They were mostly from the Seventh ward, the remainder being from the Twelfth. Mr. Hamilton, who keeps the record for the Langstaff side, claimed that fourteen defective votes and eleven doubtful ones were the resuit of yesterday's hearing. Attorney Donovan admitted there were three defective votes and possibly four but not even the three are absolutely defeetive. So it is quite difficult to tell just how many defective votes were abown.

One of the witnesses, J. V. Scanton, of the Seventh ward, refused to answer whether he received any money or valuable consideration or the promise of any for his vote. Mr. Holgate spoke of obtaining an order from the court to compel Mr. Scanlon to answer the question, but that did not eventuate. The witness was quite resolute, and shook his head as much as to say that he wouldn't answer it for Judge Archbald or any other judge.

RECEIVED FIVE DOLLARS.

Another witness from the Seventh ward. Scanlon by name, admitted he received $5, but it was for his services watcher. He could not tell who paid it to him, but said was some man who came in a cab with Frank Fitzsimmons. Another reason for the present activity of the commissioners appears in the request of the bond ordinance committee for a detailed statement funds necessary for improving the parks. This information is being compiled with unusual care and accuracy as it is realized that provision for park improvements will be contained in the proposed bond ordinance. It is one feature which councils will have to include in the measure if they are governed by the clamor of the city at

HOTEL RUDOLPH.

Scranton's New Hotel Opened, Under the Management of Fred D. Cong-

Yesterday morning inaugurated what bids fair to be the beginning of the prosperous career of the new Hotel Rudolph, at the corner of Penn avenue and Spruce street. This house is owned by Mr. Rudolph Bloeser, one o Scranton's prominent business menalways to be found in the foremost of every public move towards the im provement of the city. There is no other hotel like the Rudolph; it is unique. The building was formerly the home of The Tribune. Exteriorly the structure has been greatly beautified as to its architectural details. Inside the Rudolph is a veritable vision of beauty. In fitting and decoration no expense has been spared to make every apartment and every nook and corner comfortable, with the general idea of combining beauty with comfort and utility. As the visitor pushes open the swinging plate glass doors of the main entrace from Spruce street, he finds himself ushered into the bright, cheerful reception corridor that reminds you of the Lafayetie, in Philadelphia. The eyes are charmed by the beauty and good taste which prevail. The walls are handsomely fitted in polished hard wood of light. cheerful shades. Opening on the Penn avenue side is the bar-room, which is one of the handsomest places of the kind in the city. It is fitted like the office with hard, polished ash,
