Appendicitis Patient Dies—Francis O'Boyle Passes Away.

Miss May Barrett, only daughter of Martin Barrett, of Forest City, died yesterday at 6 o'clock at the hospital. She was taken ill two weeks ago with what the doctors pronounced appendicitis, and on the Thursday following was removed to the hospital, where an operation was performed.

After the operation, her condition was favorable and her ultimate recovery looked for, but a relapse set in, and she peacefully passed to the great beyond this morning. Mr. Barrett was an exemplary young lady, having a gentle, unassuming manner and an exceedingly kind disposition, which won for her many friends, who grieve at her death.

Beside being possessed of these natural graces, she was a talented musician and one of the brightest scholars at the St. Rose academy, at which she attended and from where she would have graduated the coming June. She was immensely popular with her schoolmates, many of whom loved her as a sister.

Her father is the only immediate survivor. The funeral will take place on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Rose's church, and interment in St. Rose cemetery.

For Her Daily Bread

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a wonderful aid to working women of all classes.

Working women have backaches, headaches, and racking pains, but they keep on working because they have to.

Pretty faces in our factories and stores soon become drawn and pallid, figures lose their symmetry and energy flags.

Domestic service is another form of endless drudgery that destroys woman's health and nervous system.

Lack of care during monthly periods, necessity to keep on the feet all day and sometimes until late at night, or sitting in cramped positions for long hours, produce and keep alive troubles of all kinds with the female organs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for over twenty years has assisted women to bear their burdens. Sickness and pain vanish under its influence, and more than a million women have been benefited by it. We quote from three:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I doctored with four different doctors and found but little relief. I then wrote to you describing my troubles which were as follows: backache, sharp pains in sides of abdomen, falling and inflammation of womb, and pain at time of monthly sickness. I followed your kind and good advice. I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now able to walk around after having been in bed for ten weeks, and feel that I am a restored perfect health. I hope my letter may be a help to other suffering girls.—Miss ROSA HIXES, Le Sueur, Minn.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was troubled with female weakness, irregular and painful menstruation and leucorrhoea. The doctor's medicine did me no good. I have taken one bottle and a half of your medicine and, thank to your medicine and advice, my pains are gone. I advise all women suffering as I have to use your Vegetable Compound.—Mrs. EMMA J. PHIBBLE, Indianapolis, Ill.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I wrote to you I was troubled with menses appearing too often. I also had sick headache, was tired and weak, and could not do any work. The pain I had to suffer was almost unbearable at times. After taking five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was much improved in health; menses became more regular and were not profuse. My doctor had told me I could never expect to get well unless I went through an operation. I cannot recommend your medicine too highly. I beg of you to accept my thanks for what you have done for me.—Miss ALICE PARSELL, Keokuk, Ia.

Vegetable Compound, and thanks to your medicine and advice, my pains are gone. I advise all women suffering as I have to use your Vegetable Compound.—Mrs. EMMA J. PHIBBLE, Indianapolis, Ill.

Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., will advise you from her wide experience free of charge whenever you ask it. Write to her freely. Your story will be told to a sympathetic woman, and women only will see your letters. Remember! a woman best understands a woman's ills.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound A Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

THICKER THAN WATER.

We ain't the delight o' the nnytons, the dawlin' and pet o' the world; They think when they sees us a-comin', Mr. M. V. Morgan, at Mount Zion.

As we fight in the 'oldest causes, but we ain't no pines ter cornual.—As we fight in the 'oldest causes, but we ain't no pines ter cornual.—As we fight in the 'oldest causes, but we ain't no pines ter cornual.

As for as they're lib' ter chick us—thinks be us that time isn't fair, It's winkin', an' grinnin', an' jabbin', an' don't go no further nor that, But whichever's the popular notion, it isn't grite Britain—that's flat.

Dunno 'ow it is, but it is so, and us and the world don't agree; Fribs we likes up too much o' the atlas for us little speck in the sea.

And sometimes we 'as bin in error—it's no good a shirkin' the fact—It's somebody else 'as sort whackit. 'Arrever it is, 'ere we're standin'—ere, but we're standin' alone, And knows if we wants a thing done, then we've sort ter do that on our own.

CO-OPERATIVE LIVING.

A Plan that Furnishes a Meal for 7 1/2 to 9 Cents. From the Globe-Democrat.

None of the most solid and respectable families in Burton, Kan., have thrown away their stove lids and packed their dishes on the back kitchen stoves. Whether they have imbibed somewhat of the restless somethingness spirit of their maternal commonwealth or not, they have shocked the ordinary ideas of economic propriety, and have formed a co-operative living association, wherein the food question is settled upon a co-operative basis.

Burton is a small village, without any immediate prospect of growing large. Located in the midst of a fair farming community, it has no opportunity for importing choice land products, nor, indeed, enough means to procure a city variety. The size of the town does not warrant the location of a bakery, and all the wheat stuff must be bought from the neighboring cities. As a consequence of the limited population, there is a very small supply of hired help, even smaller than the limited demand. The heavy burdens of the household are upon the housewife alone, and very little social intercourse can be enjoyed. In such a condition of affairs, the Co-operative Living association was organized for the economic and social benefit of its membership.

In order to insure a reliable, orthodox relation, the association has enrolled among its members bankers, merchants, druggists and a representative preceptor and dominie.

The practical advantages of the club may be noted as follows: First, the saving of from fifteen to twenty-five hours of "kitchen worry" per week. Second, the providing of well-cooked and well-served meals, ranging in cost from 7 1/2 cents to 9 cents per meal. It may be well to note that low rents ($5 per month for an eight-room house) and the comparatively low wages paid to the cook ($25 per month, with use of house, and with board for herself and family of three children) may not be duplicated in larger towns.

A WORN-OUT FAD.

"Spring Medicines," "Blood Purifiers" and "Tonics" an Old-Fashioned Idea.

Pure blood, strong nerves and muscles, firm, healthy flesh, can only come from wholesome food well digested. "Blood purifiers" and "nerve tonics" do not reach the cause of the mischief. The stomach is the point to be looked after. The safest and surest way to cure any form of indigestion is to take after each meal some harmless preparation of this kind composed of vegetable essences, pure pepsin, golden seal and fruit salts, sold by druggists under name of Stuart's Dyspepsia tablets, and these tablets taken after meals assist digestion wonderfully because they will digest the food promptly before it has time to ferment and sour, and the weak stomach relieved and assisted in this way soon become strong and vigorous again.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are superior to any secret patent medicines because you know what you are taking into your stomach.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50c. per package. Write F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., for box on stomach diseases, mailed free.

JAMES BURNS. Ex-Collector of the Port of Kansas City.

Of the men who have occupied positions of public trust in Kansas City, either by gift of the people or by appointment, none has a more enviable reputation for ability, honesty and efficiency than James Burns, Collector of the Port of Kansas City under Grover Cleveland. He lived to the letter the maxim, "a public office is a public trust," and when he retired he carried with him the respect of everyone in the community—Democrats and Republicans alike.

James Burns has used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and he does not hesitate to say they have accomplished wonders.

"I suffered with dyspepsia for twenty years," said Mr. Burns yesterday. "Never knew what it was to enjoy life—in fact living seemed a burden, as it does to all who suffer severely with dyspepsia. A few months ago I began taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. From the first I felt relief, and now, although I am still taking them, I feel entirely cured. For the first time in twenty years I can eat anything I want and suffer no ill effects from it. You can't imagine the pleasure of this unless you have been a dyspepsia sufferer. I never gave a testimonial for any medicine before, but I feel as if every-body ought to know of this remedy, and while it is personally distasteful to me to appear in print in this connection, I feel as if I had no right to shirk the opportunity, to perhaps help some other sufferers from dyspepsia. I have been recommending the Tablets to all my friends. Only recently I took James H. Lillis, the father of Father Lillis, down to get some, and I understand he also is being wonderfully benefited. I can't recommend it too highly."
