Farmer Jackson Discovers a Pool of Indige Blue Water.

EFFECT OF RELIGIOUS FACTS ON A LANESBORO YOUNG MAN - A until after the summer normal. TOOTH IN THE WRONG PLACE. SUSQUEHANNA'S SECOND WATER EVAPORATED.

Susquehanna, May 17 .- Farmer Jackson, of the Cascade, is in a quandary. Some of his family and much of the stock upon his farm have "the blues," in a chronic form. Ten days ago his two boys waded into a pool, just under a large rock, to secure a turtle. When they emerged from the water their lower limbs were colored an indigo blue. The turtle was of the same hue. The lads were unable to remove the coloring and it remains today. Pleased with the novelty, the boys gave several sheep, the house cat, and a predatory goat a bath in the pool, and they are as blue as the Queen of Spain. Farmer Jackson's cows are blue to the knees, and the geese and ducks do not display a single white feather. There were four white turkeys upon the farm, but since the boys gave them a morning bath they sit in the trees, bluer than the vaulted heavens above Housewives in the neighborhood are bottling water from the pool for laundry purposes, and a Carbondate syndicate thinks seriously of putting a new brand of blue ink upon the market. Some scientists contemplate visiting the pool in the immediate future, to ascertain the exact minerals which give the waters their discolor-Farmer Jackson's blue animals are the talk of the two counties.

THE CREAM OF THE NEWS. Lewis Freedman, formerly and for very many years ago a prominent Susquebanna business man, is critically ill at his home in New York.

Owing to his continued ill health, it is reported that Rev. B. H. Abbott, of Carbondale, rector of Grace Episcopal church in Oakland, will tender his resignation, and that the congregation will unite with Christ church in Susque-

There is a strong suspicion that the proposed second water company in Susquehanna, to be composed of Scranton capitalists, has already gone glimmering 'mong the things that were. The aged and enfeebled members of the Methodist church were on Sunday furnished with carriages. Judging from the attendance in some of the churches on that damp day, carriages ought to have been furnished to a large number of younger people. Free carriages and refreshments would perceptbly increase the attendance in a good many churches, not only on Sunday but at the midweek prayer meeting, There is no patent upon the sugges

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review New York, May 17 .- Todays advances in he prices of stocks was the result of a ovement among professional operators o renew the upward course of prices. There are a number of stocks, which en-joy the special support of friends and inside interests, and these imparted firm-ness by sympathy to the rest of the mar-ket. The combination of these circumtances made the bulls feel warranted in ishing up the prices of their favorites without waiting for more definite developments of the naval situation in West Indian waters. There was no evidence of any large outside interest, and any slack-ening of the professional demand precip-itated duliness. The day's extreme advances were curtailed from half to % by this movement but net advances of be-tween 1 and 2 points for all the principal stocks still remained. Tobacco led the list in point of activity and vibrated very feverishly all day over a range of nearly 5 points. Enormous single blocks of this stock figured in the dealings both in the lownward movement and on the recovery. The stock shows a net gain of 14 The bull campaign was accompanied by reported Spain as sueing for peace. Total sales of stocks today were 435,000 shares.
