THE MARKETS.

New York, May 21.—The level of prices of stocks was lifted another notch as a result of todays trading. The dealings were not large and there was no general activity in the market. There was a large number of individual transactions small lots of the dividend paying ocks, indicating an investment demand. There was 10 evidence, however, of any widespread general interest in stocks and the speculative public evidently prefers to wait for a definite outcome to the to wait for a definite outcome to the naval manouvres in West Indian waters. The result of the day's transactions was an unsettled closing considerably below the best in some cases and with net gains as a rule only small. The total sales of
