JOHN R. FARR IS AGAIN THE NOMINEE

Unanimously Chosen by the Republicans of the First Legislative District.

IT IS THE FIFTH TIME CONSECUTIVELY THAT HE HAS BEEN NOMINATED IN THAT DISTRICT BUT IT IS THE FIRST TIME HE HAS BEEN UNOPPOSED—JOHN H. WILLIAMS AND JOHN B. OWENS ELECTED STATE DELEGATES BY ACCLAMATION.

For the fifth time Hon. John R. Farr was yesterday honored with a nomination for the legislature by the Republicans of the First Legislative District and for the first time the nomination was tendered to him unanimously. No other name was presented to the convention. It was the most harmonious gathering of Republicans that has been held in the First district in years.

Besides nominating Mr. Farr, the convention elected John H. Williams, of West Scranton, and John B. Owens, of North Scranton, as delegates to the state convention and instructed them to use every honorable means to secure the nomination of Hon. William Connell as the party's candidate for governor. M. G. Dinmick and Harry Birbeck were chosen alternate delegates.

Rules were adopted providing that hereafter the primaries in the district shall be conducted according to the Crawford county plan.

Dr. W. A. Paine, in his capacity as chairman of the district standing committee, called the convention to order and after appointing William J. Owens, of Scranton, as secretary and Secretary John H. Reynolds, the latter read the call of the convention and then received the credentials of the delegates.

After they had been recorded, Eisenhower moved that a committee on resolutions be appointed and the convention agreeing to this proposition Chairman Paine named the following: John J. Davis, Daniel H. Evans, J. U. Hopewell, W. L. Campion, T. D. Dunham, James Phillips, and Ebenezer Williams.

PERMANENT CHAIRMAN.

While waiting for the committee on resolutions to report the Chairman called for nominations for permanent chairman of the convention and Henry J. Perkins nominated John Fern of the Fourth ward. The nomination was seconded by Thomas Miles and Mr. Fern was chosen by acclamation.

Mr. Fern was escorted to the platform and made a speech in which he said that though they were early in the field it was essential that a good man should be named for the legislature in the stirring times that are apparently before us.

For permanent secretary, John H. Reynolds, Adam Bonn, John D. Davies, John J. Davis, William J. Owens, Hugh John, John U. Hopewell and Henry J. Perkins were nominated, but all declined except Mr. Bonn and Mr. Owens. It was decided that two secretaries would be necessary and both Mr. Bonn and Mr. Owens were chosen unanimously.

The report of the committee on resolutions was read by John J. Davis and was as follows:

We congratulate the American people on the glorious fact that the Stars and Stripes now wave over a united country; that there is no north or south, but one great, united country solidly united and determined to relieve and succor an unfortunate people from the cruelties and oppression of Spain's wretched government of the world for the betterment of the people's interests.

We send hearty greetings to Admiral Dewey, his heroic officers and noble band of seaman for their wonderful victory at Manila, establishing by one stroke the supremacy of American brains, valor and strength and indicating to the world the possibilities of our great power in naval warfare.

PRESIDENT ENDORSED.

We heartily endorse the wise and patriotic administration of President McKinley and his judicious course in the present war crisis.

Our congratulations are extended to Governor Hastings for the expeditionary manner of mobilizing the state troops at Mt. Gretna and upon being the first to respond to President McKinley's call for troops with a full quota of United States volunteers.

We extol the patriotism of our own gallant frontiersmen who, regardless of man's selfishness, have nobly responded to the call of their country.

We commend the Hon. William Connell for his faithful attention to his official duties; we cordially endorse his candidacy for governor and instruct the delegates to the state convention elected this day to use every honorable means to forward his reelection for that office.

Hon. J. C. Vaughan's faithful services in the state senate deserve the hearty approbation of the people. We commend him for his earnest stand for education, for his good work in behalf of Lackawanna charitable institutions and his successful securing of an appropriation from the state treasury to appropriate money to aid in the kindergarten instruction of children.

We point with pride to the admirable record of our own representative, Hon. John R. Farr. The influence of his work for education is felt for good in every school and corner of our commonwealth. The treatment of our poor cases at the West Side hospital since its opening a year ago last January demonstrates its need and the good it has done for afflicted humanity. We commend Mr. Farr for his success in securing this valuable institution for this district. We applaud his efforts for the cause of labor in the enactment of the American law, looking toward the universal shorter working day and the advancement of the people's welfare; for the enactment of the measure to protect the American farmer from importation and degradation and his success in securing one and a half per cent. interest on fully balanced state deposits placed in banks.

Firmly believing that this is a government of the people, by the people and for the people, we endorse the Crawford county plan or direct vote system as primaries as the surest means of keeping the power of making nominations where it belongs, in the hands of the people.

MR. FARR NOMINATED.

The resolutions were adopted without dissenting voice amid applause.

On motion of William L. Campion, the convention proceeded to the nomination of candidates for the legislature and Attorney Joseph Jeffers, through the courtesy of Mr. Oberdorfer, of the Fourth ward, was allowed the privilege of the floor and placed Hon. John R. Farr in nomination in a neat speech in which he referred to the legislative services of Mr. Farr in past sessions of the legislature. The nomination was seconded by John Neat and John U. Hopewell, of North Scranton. On motion of John J. Davis, the nomination was made by acclamation.

ITS CLOSING SESSION.

Special Exercises of Elm Park Chautauque Circle.

The Elm Park Chautauque circle held its closing meeting last evening in the Epworth League rooms of that church. An informal reception was held, after which an excellent program was rendered.

A. V. Bower presided and Vice-President G. T. Reynolds gave an interesting map exercise on the Spanish possessions. T. H. Dale followed with a clever address on "Our Circle." Mr. Roberts sang a song in a fine baritone voice.

Mr. Youm spoke on the unique topic, "Our Present and His View." This referred to President A. V. Bower and not Mr. McKinley and was delivered with many humorous allusions. It was really a remarkably brilliant talk and created great amusement. The audience consisted of Mr. Bower's chief vice in being a Bonacone instead of a Shakespearean.

Miss Clara Simpson delighted every one with her limpid beautiful voice in two sweet songs. Mr. Surdam gave a brief humorous address on "Our Pastor and Organizer." President Bower followed with a talk on "The Outlook" giving interesting suggestions for another year.

A quartette composed of G. T. Whitcomb, Charles Wenke, D. J. Phillips and W. H. Bower, sang stirring patriotic songs, after which refreshments were served.

GOOD START MADE.

Subscriptions That Have Already Been Received by the Soldiers' Relief Association—All Invited to Contribute.

There has been a splendid response to the appeal of the Soldiers' Relief Association. Although the first formal appeal was made public as recently as Saturday morning, when it appeared in the columns of The Tribune, $359 had been received by Dr. B. Atherton, secretary of the association, when he closed his office in the Board of Trade building at 4 o'clock yesterday.

The subscriptions included four of $100 each, one of $50, one of $30, eight of $25, two of $20, eight of $10, six of $5 and one of $10 per month as long as the war lasts. Following is the official list as furnished by the secretary of the association for publication:

Information was received by the officers of the association during the day that subscriptions were being raised among the employees of several banks, coal offices and stores. This announcement is made with little satisfaction as the association will aim to encourage the creation of a popular fund made up of contributions of any amount, large or small. A 5 cent subscription, if it is made, will reflect as much credit on the giver as will one of $100 from some other source, if the 5 cents is all that the first giver can afford.

It is expected that patriotic organizations, schools, churches, shops, mines, etc., will at once begin raising funds.

A letter from Homer Greene, of Honesdale, to whom was entrusted the work of securing co-operation of citizens of that borough was received by the association yesterday. This letter was to the effect that a call for a public meeting had been issued and that the result of the meeting would be communicated to the association at its meeting Thursday afternoon. From ex-Captain W. D. E. Aimey, of Montrose, of whom a similar request was made, no word had been received up to last evening.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MATTERS.

Will Be Considered in Joint Committee Session Tonight.

Several matters of importance are to be considered this evening at a meeting of the joint fire department committee of councils. These include bids for new hose, the establishment of a limit area and the application of Sanderson & Richard for a permit to build an oil storage tank in Green Ridge.

For some time it has been evident that the joint committee for the government of the fire department have been inadequate, conflicting and not calculated to insure good discipline. Chief Hickey and Chairman Thomas and Wenzel, of the two committees, have drafted a set of rules and revised them further consideration will be given them this evening and then they will be embodied in a resolution for adoption by councils.

VERY BUSY DAY IN THE COURTS

Many Opinions Heeded Down and Much Other Business Transacted.

NEW RULE OF COURT WITH REFERENCE TO ELECTION CONTESTS. OBJECTION MADE TO THE BILL IN THE LANGSTAFF-KELLY CASE. OPINION OF JUDGE PURDY, OF HONESDALE, IN FELLOWS-SMITH CASE—IT IS IN FAVOR OF THE SMITHS.

After a suspension of several weeks, due to an interval between terms, court resumed its sessions yesterday morning. An unusual amount of business was disposed of during the day. A large number of opinions were handed down during the morning session.

The bill of particulars in the Langstaff-Kelly contest came up for argument in the morning before Judges Gunter and Edwards. Before the contestants shall file a bill of particulars setting forth in detail the names of persons claimed to have voted illegally in that election, in contrast, the districts in which they severally voted, the numbers of their respective ballots and the particular grounds with regard to each vote under which it is alleged that it was voted illegally. Such bill of particulars shall be verified by affidavit of at least three of the petitioners. Following is the bill of particulars named in the bill voted illegally at the said election for the reasons specified:

Within sixty days after the contestants' bill of particulars has been filed, the respondent shall file a like bill of particulars under which it is alleged that he voted legally, which bill shall be verified by him in like manner, without which no testimony on his part shall be taken.

ARGUMENT HEARD.

When the case came up for argument Attorney Newcomb argued that the bill of particulars was not supported by affidavit. Messrs. Holgate and Hamilton, attorneys for Mr. Langstaff, objected to bringing the bill of particulars under the new rule. Mr. Hamilton argued there is no statute to warrant the rule. The court announced that there would be an order made respecting the bill in a few days. The objection to the bill is the same in substance as was made to the first one.

Mr. Newcomb said that witnesses from Old Forge township have been examined in the contest and out of sixty-six named in the bill as being aliens only seven were found to be without papers, and sixteen were native-born citizens.

The grand jury met yesterday morning 10 o'clock and was charged by Judge Edwards. William L. Atherton, of Glenview, was appointed foreman, and the jury retired at 10.30 to its room and took up the consideration of cases.

The constables made their returns and six of these officers reported violations of the liquor laws. Constable Seth Smith, of the First ward, returned Michael Durkin, Constable Ross S. Davis, of the Third ward, Dickson, returned John Kozlowski, Constable Matthew Bean, of Old Forge, returned Jacob Urban and returned Amos Robinson and William Studowski for keeping disorderly houses. Constable Henry Dieckel, of the Second ward of Nelson, returned Frank Wentzelski, Constable J. W. Clark, of the Eighth ward, and Constable Bernard Davis reported a Polish speaking place in their respective wards.

THE FELLOWS CASE.

Prothonotary Copeland received from Judge Purdy, of Wayne county, an opinion yesterday in the equity suit of Joseph Fellows against Cornelius Smith, et al., and his son, Stanley Smith, to the effect that Judge Purdy is in favor of the defendants.

Mr. Fellows alleged in his equity pleadings that he conveyed without consideration a certain interest in 61 acres of land to the defendants and he asked the court to have the deed annulled. Mr. Fellows several years ago engaged Mr. Smith to defend his interests in a suit against F. E. Loomis, and gave a judgment note of $1,000 for services and expenses in the trial of the case. Mr. Fellows was not able to pay the money to carry out the obligation. Later on he conveyed a one-half interest in the land for $5,000 to Mr. Smith, and subsequent to that he conveyed a one-fourth interest to Stanley Smith. The opinion of Judge Purdy is to the effect that the land was a fair one and the deeds should stand.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

In the case of the commonwealth vs. Wilson S. Pezley, the rule to strike off the forfeiture was discharged yesterday. Pezley was under bail and returned out. His bondsman will have to satisfy the record.

The bond of George P. Gethman, collector of West Abington taxes, was filed yesterday and approved by Judge Edwards. The amount is $2,490 and the sureties are W. S. Rees and H. E. Capwell.

TWO FAITHFUL COMPANIONS.

Had a Flaxen Haired Little Boy Who Was Taken to City Hall.

Many people who happened to be on Lackawanna or Washington avenues yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock were interested in a queer little procession that passed down the street. It was headed by a big policeman, next followed a baby scarcely three years old, its yellow curls floating from under a white cap, and with tired little feet, mud-laden and wet.

Close after frisked two fox terriers, suspiciously much exercised over the destiny of the little one, as they alternately ran to its side or suspiciously sniffed at the heels of the urinals who, as usual, brought up the rear of the irregular march to the city hall.

It was without doubt a case of lost child, but no lost child surely ever had such faithful, devoted protectors as those two little creatures whose dogish hearts were plainly in great trouble over the strange surroundings of strange company which their loved charge had fallen.

At police headquarters the baby was the center of attraction as Patrolman Nouis came in with his "find," discovered wandering on Lackawanna avenue near Penna to city hall. It was proximity. The little fox was covered with prints of small paws. The big, blue eyes looked calmly upon the group of officers and as the tiny figure sat quietly in the great arm chair, upon either side climbed the little spotted dogs, and they expressed the wondering face with their moist tongues and put soft, muddy paws tenderly on the small shoulders, while the baby patted each affectionately, never intimidated by law, police or clubs with these sturdy protectors near.

That they thoroughly understood their duty was evident, for they looked askance at those who came too close, and showed rows of small, white teeth, although they whined in distress over the baby's situation.

When he was asked his name, the child answered something that sounded like "Johnny," but as he bestowed the same impartially on each dog, little information was hoped from his explanations.

Miss Duggan came in and gently removed the wet shoes and socks and carried the little fellow to the "emergency bed," where he lay contentedly munching cake, while close by his face nestled the nose of one little dog, and tenderly over his feet lay the paws of the other.

The policemen saw the picture with a dimness in their eyes and were unaffectedly glad after a few hours a young girl joyfully rushed in and a scene of excited joy not often witnessed on that stage where dramas are continuous, was enacted. The girl, the baby and the fox terriers were in such a wild mingling of delighted recognition that it was difficult to decide which one of the chief actors showed the greatest gladness. Lining on sullenly, with a strange light in her eyes that might be regret, that mingled in envy and despair, was a girl, whose face told the pitiful life she was leading and who also had found a brief shelter in that room. And this is only the record of an hour or two in the city hall.

The lost child was Willie Saunders. His father is an express driver living on West Lackawanna avenue.

FUNERAL OF MRS. THROOP.

Services Were Conducted at St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

While the rain fell in a steady, depressing flow outside yesterday afternoon, a throng of friends gathered at the old homestead on Wyoming avenue to look their last upon the face of Mrs. Harriet McKinley Throop. Such masses of flowers are seldom seen as depended from draperies, were massed against the walls and hid the casket with their mute sweetness and beauty. After prayers, a long procession accompanied the mourning family to St. Luke's Episcopal church, where a special service was held. The casket was covered with white flowers, while the greater portion of the floral gifts were conveyed to the cemetery.

A quartette, composed of Messrs. Warren, Jones, Bunnell and Stevens, rendered the burial chant, "Lord Let Me Know Mine End." The services were conducted by Rev. Rogers Israel, assisted by Rev. Mr. Pendleton of Shenectady, N. Y., and Rev. E. J. Houghton, curate of St. Luke's parish. The Woman's Guild, of which Mrs. Throop was president since its organization, attended in a body and occupied a large portion of the nave. Among the tributes to the dead was a massive wreath presented by this society.

A special service for the dead was conducted. "Hark! Hark! My Soul," and "Gloria Who From The Labor Rest" were sung, also the beautiful

Now the laborer's work is o'er,
Now the plowman's work is done,
Now upon the farther shore
Lands the voyager at last.
Father in thy gracious keeping
Leave me now thy servant sleeping.

At the conclusion of the service a large concourse of friends proceeded to Forest Hill, where interment was made for the family plot, after a brief burial service. The grave was sheltered by a canopy which was festooned with flowers, while blossoms hid the gloom of the earth and were massed about in the greatest profusion.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. McDonald, William J. Thompson, William P. Hallstead, W. R. Storrs, John Jermay, Samuel Hines, Thomas Jifkins, C. M. Sanderson, G. L. Dickson, H. P. Warren. The carriers were William Ramage, Jacob Walters, George Klecker, Charles B. Rhodes, J. J. McDonald, William J. Thompson.

Among the out-of-town relatives and friends attendant upon the funeral were Mrs. St. Clair McKelway, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Dr. and Mrs. Heidemann, of Tunkhannock; Mrs. George
