

GRAHAM IN CHARGE.

Has a Force of Artesian Well Sinkers Employed at Camp Alger.

AN ABUNDANCE OF WATER

Promised as Soon as the Improvements Are Completed.

GENERAL GRAHAM INFORMED COLONEL COURSE THAT HE INTENDED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE TO BRIGADE THE VARIOUS REGIMENTS, FOUR PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENTS WILL COMPRISE A BRIGADE, PRIVATE SPARKS, OF THE THIRTEENTH SUFFERING FROM WHAT APPEARS TO BE A MILD CASE OF TYPHOID FEVER.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Camp Alger, Va., May 23.—The representations made by aggrieved congressmen from Pennsylvania and other states regarding the condition of affairs at the camp have evidently had their effect, for today a corps of artesian well sinkers arrived on the ground and began searching for water. Major General Graham also came on the field to personally superintend the work of bettering affairs and by way of bringing assurance to the complaining men lost no time in sending out a formal notice that he had taken active command and would hereafter have permanent headquarters on the ground.

It was given out with General Graham's coming, that the war department had definitely decided not to change the camp location, being satisfied that the plans it has under way for the betterment of the water supply and the improvement of the roads will overcome all cause of complaint, regarding the fear of a water famine and the delay in getting of supplies and equipment.

General Graham, accompanied by Colonel Girard, has chief surgeon made a personal inspection of the camp this afternoon and at its conclusion they expressed themselves as being satisfied that with the completion of contemplated improvements the camp will be satisfactory in every way. Now that there is a head to the division some system in the management of affairs is promised.

BRIGADES TO BE FORMED.

General Graham informed Colonel Course that he will in a day or two, if possible tomorrow, brigade the various regiments and place them in charge of the senior colonel who will act and be rewarded as a brigadier. The four Pennsylvania regiments, Sixth, Eighth, Twelfth and Thirteenth, will form one brigade and Colonel Schell, ex-brigadier of the first brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania, now colonel of the sixth, will be placed in command.

Surgeon General Girard made an announcement during the visit to the Thirteenth that caused a big flurry among the doctors. Tomorrow he says he intends to establish a division hospital. The regimental hospital will be nothing more than a dispensary for Esdaiche and slight cold medicines and the like. Hospital corps will be no more and the staff of surgeons will be run down from three to one. Some of the deceased surgeons will be given a place in the division hospital, but all those who cannot be thus accommodated will have to accept discharge.

So much of this as is detail, is liable to change, Colonel Girard said, that the general plan, he believed, would assuredly be followed. Two stories went out today that I feel called upon to correct. One was that a man had been arrested while attempting to poison a spring from which the Pennsylvania regiments obtain water. The other that typhoid fever is already in camp. Neither story is true.

RESEMBLES TYPHOID.

The only thing resembling typhoid was a case in our own regiment, that of Private Sparks, in which there are some typhoid symptoms, but which the doctors are loath to say is such, because of the extremely mild nature of the case.

There has been just enough rain every day to give assurance that the springs will be kept at their free flow until the artesian wells and mountain reservoirs are completed and after that there need be no further worry about scarce water supply. The weather continues temperate and the men are in good health and spirits, there being but two men in the hospital, the one above mentioned and another who is sweating out a cold.

Not a word is heard of the department's intention regarding the soldiers at this camp. One thing is sure, though if the talked of immediate invasion of Cuba takes place, none of the Pennsylvania regiments here can participate. It is suspected here that the matter of equipping the camp of Alger troops will be disregarded until the department has finished the equipping of the troops at more southern points, who are, it is said, to be hastened across Florida straits.

The Thirteenth is having a very lazy time of it, doing only enough drilling to keep the stiffness out of their bones; eating fairly good rations since Sunday, fixing up their tents and company streets and scouring the woods and fields for wild strawberries and some that are not wild make up the routine of the day.

EASY GOING CAMP.

An instance of the happy-go-lucky way in which this camp is being run, or rather in allowing it to run itself, is found in the fact that Lieutenant David J. Davis, the Thirteenth's advance detail, located and staked out the regiment's position, without advice or instruction from any source. When he arrived on the ground Thursday morning he went to headquarters and inquiring for the officer in charge was directed to General Gunther. Lieutenant Davis made known his business and asked for instruction as to where his regiment were to be located and what steps had been taken to lay out the camp. General Gunther did not know that any arrangements had been made for the regiment's reception, but told Lieutenant Davis he might inquire from some of the other officers as to what was best to be done.

Diligent inquiry failed to discern any one who had or cared to assume the authority of receiving and locating the regiment, so Lieutenant Davis proceeded on his own responsibility to pick out a suitable spot and had the headquarters of Lieutenant Wellington, an engineer of the District guards, laid it out. The Thirteenth is encamped where Lieutenant Davis stationed it.

There is no open complaining, as said in a previous letter, but quietly the men and officers are having their little say and if the powers-that-be heard it, they would not be highly edified thereby. "If we were out on an active campaign and at an inconvenient distance from a supply station, the men and officers would not be accepted without a murmur, but here in a permanent camp, only a few miles from the national capital, there is no reason for such neglect."

Some of the men have no shoes at all and no money to buy them. There have been instances of where the man who was assigned to picket duty had to borrow a pair of shoes from a comrade until his tour of duty was fulfilled.

ARE ACTING NOBLY.

The old guardsmen are acting nobly under the disagreeable conditions. They are their own masters to themselves and when a recruit is heard to mutter some complaint, silence him with a derisive laugh and a question as to "what'll do you expect, custard pie and rice pudding." The recruit remembers that he has no money and walks away, pretty well convinced that everything is all right and that, on second consideration, he is really being treated like a prince.

It must be said for the United States army officers on the ground, and particularly Captain Little, the commissary, that they are doing all they can to relieve the distressing conditions. By offering to exchange fresh meat and baked bread for the field rations salt pork and flour he has secured the Thirteenth and the other Pennsylvania regiments from famishing, for no ordinary man's digestive apparatus could put up for ten days with salt pork of the kind that the government issues.

Mrs. Planinich's famous interrogatory is being hourly applied here. It was understood when the Thirteenth was hastened from Mt. Gretna that it was coming to a camp of equipment and instruction. In fact it was so stated by the war department. Nothing has yet occurred, however, to indicate that the regiment has reached its prescribed destination. There is no equipping going on and the only instruction received is what the regimental officers give and that is necessarily of a limited nature because of the lack of the first requisite of military instruction, a suitable drill ground. There hasn't been a regimental drill since the arrival in camp and there cannot be one until a drill ground is made, and as far as a layman can judge, no drill ground can be made on this particular plot of 1,500 acres leased from the influential Mr. Campbell, of Washington.

GOSSIP OF THE CAMP.

From a Staff Correspondent. Camp Alger, Va., May 23.—The residents of the neighborhood cannot do too much for the soldiers. They seem to think that because the soldiers are from the North they have a double call on Southern hospitality. The same suit of blue that was once so detested in these parts is now the one coming to the warmest welcome and open-handed generosity. In front of one house on the road to Falls Church, yesterday, was a big tank of ice cold lemonade bearing the legend: "Free to all soldiers."

Every shady lawn along the route was strewn with bolling soldier lads and at every pump and well extra glasses invited the tired and thirsty men from the camp to come in and refresh themselves. Many a boy returned to camp after his walk to town gleefully rubbing the neighborhood of his belt-plate and telling his envying companions of how the lady came out on the porch and invited him in and gave him the "greatest layout that ever happened to him." There are but a few examples. Everywhere our boys are treated as if they were neighbors' children. It is a grand contemplation and will no doubt be a favorite theme with the writers of the history of this war.

There is no little complaint over the delay in distributing the state pay for the Mt. Gretna service. The boys are nearly all dead broke and are sighing anxiously for the coming of the commonwealth's golden chariot. Adjutant General T. J. Stewart assured Colonel Course just before the regiment left Mt. Gretna that the pay-rolls were about made up and the pay would be distributed at Camp Alger in a few days. No tidings of the pay have been received as yet, let alone the pay itself, and there is much worrying in consequence.

Colonel Course has secured accommodations for Mrs. Course in a farmhouse within a stone's throw of the Thirteenth's camp, and as soon as she is able to leave she will come on here to remain while the regiment is continued at Camp Alger.

Private Fortin, of Company A, has been assigned to permanent duty at headquarters mess.

Rope beds stretched on frames made of young saplings and supported on crocheted sticks take the place of cots in many of the tents. The ingenious soldier boy has not allowed himself to be inconvenienced any by the absence of the comfortable lodging equipments that the state furnished. Every body has some kind of other of an improvised bed and while they may not be a thing of beauty they are just as good a job as if they were of the rarest rosewood, o'ercreped with immaculate linen, and costily eiderdown and canopied with the richest lace.

Quartermaster Keiper, of Company B, will bear watching. It is times like these that bring forth the qualities of greatness. Sergeant Keiper has purchased a sorting hen with her brood of young chickens from a nearby farmer and gone into the poultry business. Company B is to have spring chicken and fresh eggs for every meal, so Sergeant Keiper says, if the regiment remains here any great length of time.

A letter mailed in Washington at 5:30 p. m. is delivered here at 10 o'clock the following morning.

Among the visitors to the Thirteenth regiment yesterday were Rose G. Brooks and Charles McMullen, of Scranton, who are in Washington on a business trip; D. H. Davis, of Brazil, Indiana, father of Lieutenant D. G. Davis, of Company F; James Hill, Edward Fitzgerald and Patrick Keenan, Scranton boys who are attending Georgetown university; and Professor Burroughs, formerly principal of the John Raymond Institute, now a teacher in the public schools of Washington.

Captain McCausland, of Company G, was officer of the day, yesterday; Lieutenant Roberts, of Company B, commanded the guard and Private Fatty Williams, of Company F, orderly at headquarters.

Company streets, mess tents and officers' headquarters have been beautified with young fir trees cut in the neighboring woods. Company B has made a pretty little park with rustic seats in a vacant space on its streets and it has grown to be the favorite place for "setting together" and talking it all over.

William Pike, private secretary to Congressman Grow, is a frequent visitor at Company G street. John Courtwright, a leading Montrose citizen, was among yesterday's visitors.

When Congressman Grow was passing among the Company G boys yesterday he surprised everybody by the readiness with which he addressed the most of them by name. More remarkable still, he carefully named two boys whom he had never seen before, Private Carpenter and Van Scoten. "Knew them out of their fathers," he explained.

HARRITY CONDEMNED.

Monroe County Democrats Indorse Billy Bryan. Stroudsburg, Pa., May 23.—At the regular Democratic May meeting held this evening the following resolutions were adopted by the county convention: W. Decker, B. F. Morey and Jeremiah Fotherman. No instructions were given.

FORTIFYING CEUTA.

A Spanish Stronghold in Morocco Is Being Prepared. Gibraltar, May 23.—This afternoon the Spanish steamer Rabat, of the Compania Trans-Atlantic line, embarked a battalion of Algerians, on the west side of the bay of Gibraltar, and sailed for Ceuta, Morocco, opposite Gibraltar.

Ceuta has many points of resemblance to Gibraltar. It is the chief of the Spanish presidios on the African coast, the residence of a military governor, is well supplied with water, and if it is properly garrisoned, can be made all but impregnable.

SPAIN LOST TO THE POPE.

Statement Made by a Priest at Phoenixville. Phoenixville, Pa., May 23.—Father John A. Wagner, senior rector of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, preached today on "The Duties of a Catholic." He said the cry that had been raised that Catholics were not willing to fight Spain because that country is Catholic is false, and that every true son of the church would fight for the Stars and Stripes, and every priest would go forth and serve his country as far as lay in his power.

He repudiated the claim that Spain and Italy are Catholic nations any longer. They are both lost to the true Catholic faith, he said.

Inaugurate Man's Suicide.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., May 23.—Daniel L. R. Libby, a universalist clergyman, of Watertown, a patient in the St. Lawrence State hospital, strangled himself with a screen curtain torn from the ward windows in the absence of the attendant. He was dead when found.

Both Claim Victory.

Bellefonte, Pa., May 23.—Tonight both the Stone and Wanamaker factions of the Republican party are claiming victory. The former claim to have watered delegates. The Wanamaker faction conceded, and claim 49 for Wanamaker and 18 unstructured and eight precincts yet to hear from. The county convention will meet tomorrow.

MAY BE A SPANISH SPY.

Tampa, Fla., May 23.—J. Castellanos, a young man who arrived from Key West about three weeks ago, was arrested today by order of General Sharkey as a suspected Spanish spy. Castellanos has been watched for two weeks. He was plentifully supplied with money. Castellanos wrote as many as one hundred letters a day and this, together with the discovery that he was travelling under an assumed name, resulted in his arrest today. The case will be thoroughly investigated.

MR. CONNELL'S CANDIDACY.

He Has Formally Notified Senator Quay That He Is in the Field. Washington, May 23.—Hon. William Connell, of Scranton, Pa., representative in congress from the Eleventh Pennsylvania district, tonight notified Senator Quay of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor.

Both the senator and the congressman were reticent and neither would have anything to say when questioned regarding the new entry into the gubernatorial field.

No Change at Martinique.

St. Pierre, Martinique, May 23.—There has been no change in the situation here today. The hospital ship Alicante lies at her new moorings and the departure of the torpedo boat destroyer Terror is still deferred. Reports continue current that Admiral Cervera's squadron will return here to coal; but they are without confirmation.

DALY WON ON A FOUL.

Fierce Fight With McPartland in New York. New York, May 23.—Jack Daly, of Wilmington, Del., got a decision over Ed McPartland, of this city, after having fought fourteen and a half rounds in the Lenox Athletic club tonight. This result was unlooked for, but McPartland has only himself to blame, as he lost his temper and after being cautioned, half a time, struck his opponent in a clinch. The bout was a rattling good one, while it lasted, but from the eighth round it was very evident that Daly would get the better of McPartland, as the latter lost control of his temper.

Daly's leg was injured in the last couple of seconds of the bout as it was bent under his body when Referee Charley White fell on top of him in his efforts to make McPartland break away.

NEGRO COLONY FOR LIBERIA.

Colored Doctor Organizing an Expedition in Northern Texas. Dallas, Texas, May 23.—Dr. D. L. Harris, a negro physician, recently returned from Liberia, has organized an expedition of 150 negro families from Fannin, Lamar, Hunt, Collin and Tarrant counties, making arrangements to colonize in Liberia. He is raising a transportation fund by subscription.

The expedition will start as soon as the grain crops are harvested, which will be by August 1. All who join the expedition pledge themselves to save their harvest money, so as to have it as a fund to depend on when Liberia is reached. No negroes are permitted to join who have records of thriftlessness or viciousness, or who are addicted to drinking or other serious disorders.

Recruits will be added during the summer, and the expedition is expected to start with from 300 to 500 families.

Hollinshead the Monroe Delegate.

Stroudsburg, Pa., May 23.—The anti-Quay people have done their worst in the field and their vote was divided. Hollinshead is said to favor Charles W. Stone for governor, although the Quay leaders claim that he will work in harmony with Senator Quay when the convention meets in the fall. Charles W. Stone is chosen congressional conferee, and Mayor John L. Palmer senatorial conferee. The congressional conferee will likely favor the nomination of Congressman Kirkpatrick.

Will Work for Stone.

West Chester, Pa., May 23.—McCauley, Fisher, Griswell, Opea, Phillips, Winchester and Weadler, the seven delegates elected to represent Chester county in the Republican state convention tonight issued a carry in which they state that after having felt pulse of public opinion they are unanimously agreed that the prevailing sentiment in the county is favorable to the nomination of William A. Stone for governor, and that they will use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

Nominated by the President.

Washington, May 23.—Among the nominations sent to the senate by the president were those of William Woodley Rockhill, of the District of Columbia, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary and consul general, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Greece, Roumania and Servia; and Rounseville Williams, of California, now consul at Hong Kong, to be consul general at Hong Kong, China.

General Jackson Dead.

Savannah, Ga., May 23.—General Henry R. Jackson died here this morning. He was a colonel in the Mexican war and a general in the Confederate army, minister to Austria under President Buchanan, and to Mexico under President Cleveland.

Sir John T. Gilbert Dead.

London, May 23.—Sir John T. Gilbert, the historian of Ireland, is dead. He was born in Dublin in 1829.

LOOKED LIKE RAW MEAT.

Baby's face and neck were all raw meat, and something awful to look at. The way that child suffered, mother and child never had any rest day or night as it constantly itched, and the bites used to flow down her cheeks. We had doctors and the dispensary with no result. By using CERESKA Rosolvent, CERESKA ointment, and CERESKA Soap, the child was cured.

Mother, to know that a worn baby with Cereseka Rosolvent, CERESKA ointment, and CERESKA Soap, is now a happy child, and that she has a healthy baby, is a great blessing. It is not of our own doing, but of the goodness of God. It is not of our own doing, but of the goodness of God. It is not of our own doing, but of the goodness of God.

VERY BUSY DAY IN THE COURTS.

ward of Jermyan borough changed from its present location to the premises of Arthur Messet, of Main street.

Judge Archibald granted a new trial yesterday in the case of Ehrgood against the Missouri and Lehigh companies. The court believes the damages, if not excessive, were certainly large and decided to submit it to another jury.

Judge Edwards handed down a lengthy opinion yesterday dismissing the exceptions to the report of Attorney Charles H. Welles, trustee for Emile Haeblerly and Henry Arbustot, guardians of Amelia and Lena.

Judge Edwards discharged the rule to strike out the mechanic's lien in the Gibson & Male vs. Garovinto Bros. case. He also discharged the demurrer in the equity suit of Zinisa A. Conry against John E. Jenkins, and the respondent is required to answer within fifteen days.

In the equity suit of Charles A. Voss against James B. Doyle Judge Edwards dissolved the partnership existing between them and ordered that an account be taken in a manner hereafter to be determined by the court. The injunction is refused and the prayer for the appointment of a receiver is denied.

Court made an order yesterday fixing the fees of Attorneys J. R. Burnett and Joseph Jeffrey at $200 each for removing the bodies from the bodies in the various election districts of the county, and bringing them to court. The expenses of Mr. Burnett, $22.50, and of Mr. Jeffrey, $50.00, were approved. The whole amount was ordered taxed up as costs in the Langstaff-Kelly contest.

Judge Edwards yesterday refused to strike out the non-suit in the case of Thomas Zurich against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. The 3-year-old child of the plaintiff was killed by the defendant's cars. The non-suit was granted on the ground that the father was negligent in permitting the child to wander upon the tracks. The plaintiff lives at Taylor.

Judge Archibald reversed the judgment of the jury in the case of the city of Scranton against Sarah Dunleavy. She was arrested on a charge of nuisance and fined. The city's motion to have taken place in this city was granted. In the case of Whitbeck & Marsden against Henry Metters the rule to set aside the award of arbitrators was discharged.

Judge Archibald yesterday refused to take off the non-suit in the case of Mary Coleman against the city of Scranton. The woman came to visit her sister in Green Ridge and while out walking one day she stumbled over a hole in the sidewalk and severely injured herself. The opinion says that the court adheres to the idea that the evidence disclosed no negligence on the part of the city, which would entitle the plaintiff to recover damages.

Quo warranto proceedings were begun in court yesterday by John Bonham, of Dickson, who alleges that William Summers has exercised the office of Michael Reap, a member of the council of that borough without lawful authority. Judge Gunster granted a rule on Mr. Summers to answer on June 12 next and show cause why a writ should not issue against him to show by what authority he exercises the office.

Attorney E. C. Newcomb, representing J. H. Whiting, began an action for divorce yesterday in Prothonotary Copeland's office. Mr. Whiting alleges that his wife, Josephine, made his life burdensome from the time she married him and to withdraw from their home. Her treatment was most cruel and barbarous, he alleges. They were married May 18, 1887, at Factoryville, and separated on Nov. 1, 1887.

Richard Womacott was yesterday appointed guardian of Lillie and John Joseph, the two minor children of his brother, Richard, deceased. John A. Jordan was appointed guardian of James and Nora Hoels, minor children of James J. Hoels, deceased. B. G. Morgan was appointed guardian of Stephen and Katie Reap, minor children of Michael Reap. Peter Roberts was appointed guardian of Mary Barron, minor child of Miro Barron, late of Dickson City.

Judge Archibald gave expression to a fine vein of humor in granting a new trial in the case of Harry Depp against the May Aug Coal company. He says in the face of the evidence of Dr. Helmer and Dr. Stone to the effect that the mules were sold to the defendant that the verdict was a travesty on justice. They testified to the possession by these animals of about all the diseases which mules are liable to hear to, chronic lameness, heart disease, bony enlargement of the hock joint, fractured crupper bones, spavin, etc., and that the mules were sold with one exception, of the ages between 15 and 25 years, and one had encountered a buzz saw. Two others were part of a wagon which was run in a jump for 425 miles, and the jury could have found the mules were worth over $1,000 more than the court can understand.

AMBULANCE IS HERE.

The Thirteenth regiment ambulance reached here from Mt. Gretna on Saturday along with other property of the regiment which could not be taken there. The vehicle is a comparatively sheltered at Gould's carriage works, but will eventually be taken to the armory.

Has a Temporary Shelter at Gould's Carriage Works.

The vehicle has a business look about it which obviates any question as to its ability to meet the purpose for which it was built by the Anthracite Wagon company, of Harrisburg. It is of light but substantial construction and has a top, sides and hood of canvas. The sides can be rolled up. Its gear is high. The body and gear are painted a dark green and trimmed with faint red streaks.

Along the body in large gilt letters is "13th Regt., N. G. P." the keystone and Red Cross emblems following "REGT. and "N. G. P." respectively. Affixed to the under side of the wagon floor are two water tanks, each with a faucet reached from the side. Beneath the driver's seat is an ice tank and drawers for surgical and other appliances. A folding stretcher is attached to each side of the vehicle. Its upholstery is of leather and all its metal trimmings are nickelled.

No approved detail seems to have been overlooked in either the construction or equipment. The double harness has been returned with the wagon.

JOHN MURPHY WILL REFEREE.

Will Be Chief Official at the Coming V. M. C. A. Games. Attorney John J. Murphy, recently the best all-around local athlete and who might possibly claim that distinction at the present time, has been selected to referee the Young Men's Christian association games at Athletic Park. Probably no more popular selection could have been made by the association.

Schenk & Spencer will present a banner of blue and gilt to the winners of the team relay race.

On Saturday the association and lace factory cricket teams will play. The game will begin at 2 o'clock. The Pittston and the association base ball teams will play here tomorrow.
