STORM AGAIN CAUSES NO LITTLE DAMAGE

Lightning Spares the Flag on an Avoca School House.

MOTORMAN AND PASSENGERS FELT THE SHOCK ON A PITTSBURGH CAR BUT WERE NOT INJURED—SEWERERS WERE CHOKED AND STREET CAR TRAVEL WAS IMPEDED SOUTH OF THE CITY—BIG WASH-OUT ON PROSPECT AVENUE AND LESSER DAMAGE TO OTHER SOUTH SIDE THOROUGHFARES.

Heavy local showers, accompanied by terrific flashes of lightning, spread over the city and lower part of the county from 11:30 yesterday morning for an hour. The sewers in the city were fully taxed in carrying away the water. What prevented an overflow was the fact that the downpour was not continuous.

As in the case last Thursday night the Scranton Railway company was hampered the greatest. Cars were not able to make schedule time on any of the roads south of the city for an hour. The rain washed so much mud on the tracks that some of the cars were derailed.

At Avoca a bolt of lightning struck the tower of No. 3 school and passed along the upper corner where it fell with full force on the city for an hour. The building at once caught fire. It being north of and no one in the building the neighbors were obliged to effect an entrance by breaking through the windows.

Hundreds of little birds that made their home in the tower were killed by the bolt, which, however, was believed to be of a patriotic nature since a large flag suspended from the pole was left uninjured.

On the Pittston line a car was struck by lightning near Greenwood hill and had to be towed to the city by the wreck car. Motorman Higgins was slightly shocked by the bolt. Some of the passengers also felt it.

A hole 50 feet long by ten deep and twelve wide was torn in the roadway at the corner of Prospect avenue and Locust street and extending for several feet to the east. The water from the storm passed, teams and workmen of the Connell Coal company filled in the washouts with ash.

In Minooka operations had to cease for two hours at No. 1 colliery of the Greenwood Coal company, owing to the fact that the colliery being badly damaged. A two-story dwelling on Gilmore avenue in that vicinity, tenanted by Peter Walsh, was struck by a bolt of lightning.

Pocono, thence to Water Gap, twenty miles away, by wheel, where the tracks about the colliery being badly damaged. A two-story dwelling on Gilmore avenue in that vicinity, tenanted by Peter Walsh, was struck by a bolt of lightning.

When united, all will have dinner and later go to Dingmans Ferry. From here at 7:30 p. m. the run to Port Jervis will begin and the night will be spent there. Monday, Decoration Day, at 9 a. m. the whole party will leave for Goshen, N. Y., a run of twenty-two miles. A stop will be made for dinner and the return will be made by way of Middletown to Port Jervis, thence by railroad to Scranton.

EVENING FUNERAL SERVICE. Were Held for the Late James C. McClure.

Services were held at the residence of Mr. James C. McClure, on Quincey avenue, last evening for his late wife, Mrs. Clara McClure. The rooms were filled with friends who gathered to pay a sorrowful tribute to the dead whose keen intelligence and gentle manners had been so much appreciated by those who were often in her pleasant home.

Rev. R. F. Y. Pierce and Rev. Dr. S. C. Logan conducted the service and made brief remarks. The occasion seemed exceptionally impressive in the quiet gloom of the flower perfumed rooms, while the soft night air of spring gently stirred the curtains at the windows.

Final services will be held at Lewisburg today, whence the family and friends will accompany the remains on the West Side, was in charge of the funeral.

FIRE ROSE CONTRACTS. Committee Made Awards to Three Bidders Last Night.

The joint fire department committee of councils met last night to discuss the extension of the fire limits and the new rules of the department, and to award the contract for new hose. There is an appropriation of $2,000 for new hose, and at the last meeting of select council a dozen or more bids were opened.

The committee had such a tedious job in arriving at a conclusion on the hose contract that the fire limit extension and the new rules were left slumbering. The contracts were awarded as follows: One thousand feet of White Anchor brand, to R. T. Goodrich, of Akron, O., at $1 a foot; 600 feet of Maltese Cross brand, to the Gutta Percha and Rubber company, of New York, at $1 per foot; 400 feet of P. F.

H. Co. brand, to the Fabric Fire Hose company, of New York, at 80 cents a foot.

HOTEL GUEST ARRESTED. A. K. Detweiler, of Baltimore, Locked in the Central Station on Warrant from Reading.

Detective Mohr arrested A. K. Detweiler, a guest at the Westminster hotel, late yesterday afternoon on a warrant forwarded here from County Detective W. Banknecht, of Reading. The only information the police department could give was that Detweiler was wanted for embezzlement and would be confined at the central police station until the arrival of a Reading officer here today.

Several days ago the Scranton police were notified by letter from the Reading police that a detective of that city had arrested and held him here.

Detweiler registered at the hotel on Thursday. With him was W. J. King. They registered from Baltimore and immediately began their work as school book salesmen, visiting surrounding towns and making this city their headquarters.

Late Saturday night King was arrested for drunkenness and insulting a pedestrian on Wyoming avenue and was fined $15 in police court Sunday morning.

CITY MISSIONARY HIGHLY HONORED

Miss Sarah C. Krigbaum Formally Greeted by a Host of Friends.

AT THE PENN AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH THE FAITHFUL WORKER WAS CONGRATULATED BY THOSE WHO ATTENDED A RECEPTION IN HER HONOR—A SUBSTANTIAL PURSE WAS AMONG THE MATERIAL AND TOKENS OF APPRECIATION SHE RECEIVED—FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY AS CITY MISSIONARY OF THE CHURCH.

Penn Avenue Baptist church has long been noted for its pleasant social features and many joyful reunions. In all its history, however, no more delightful occasion has been celebrated than that of last evening, when the city missionary, Miss Sarah C. Krigbaum, was tendered a reception in celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of her work in this field.

Certainly no one could receive more graceful and heartfelt tributes of affection and honor than those showered upon this faithful toiler. That all were eminently deserved needs no reiteration. As a parishioner said last evening, among others, the older representatives of the church, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Hallett. At her right was Mrs. Frutehey, while Mr. and Mrs. John Highfield occupied places at her left. Mrs. L. M. Gates and Mrs. J. W. Brown assisted in welcoming the visitors. The orchestra furnished music during the evening. The table bore a massive centerpiece of lilies of the valley, a tribute from a life-long friend, Miss Mary Bevan, of Clark's Green.

Mrs. A. D. Steel poured coffee and Mrs. Levi J. Northrup presided at the opposite end of the table. Later Mrs. H. J. Carr and Mrs. D. J. Thomas performed these functions.

THE DECORATIONS. The decorations in general were elaborate. Bunting was stretched from either corner of the room and flowers were seen in profusion. The affair was in charge of the Ladies' society and the willing workers, assisted by the teachers and the members of the primary department of the Sunday school. A very large number of guests were present.

Two surprises awaited Miss Krigbaum. One was the presentation of a beautiful bill from the congregation of the church. The token will be used by Miss Krigbaum to defray the expenses of a vacation and rest which she has justly earned. This was done most happily by the acting pastor, Rev. F. Y. Pierce. The second surprise was a beautiful reception by Little Florence Browning, of a poem from the pen of Scranton's gifted writer, Mr. A. L. Collins. She presented to the guest of honor a cluster of fifteen beautiful roses, the gift of Miss Krigbaum's classes. The following was the little poem:

Roses are love's sweetest tokens, And we bring roses to thee, Just stop for one moment to listen And hear what the roses say: The roses, they bid me tell you, Your life is so sweet, pure and true, That the fairest and sweetest of roses, Are only sweet emblems of you.

The procession was the most magnificent spectacle ever seen in Harrisburg and was reviewed by Right Eminent Grand Commander Harry M. Van Zandt, governor and other state officials. Governor Hastings reviewed the parade from a stand in front of the mansion.

A reception was given at the executive mansion this afternoon by Governor and Mrs. Hastings in honor of the visiting knights and their ladies. The mansion was elaborately decorated, the prevailing colors being red and white and black and white. The cross and crown was wrought in electric light in the large reception room on the first floor.

Mrs. Hastings served dinner to the ladies who assisted her in receiving at the close of the reception.

Rev. Charles M. Stock, of Hanover, the present grand chaplain, Joshua L. Lanes, of Lancaster, and John F. Leadley, of Williamsport, were candidates for grand junior warden. The election will be held tomorrow.

The grand commandery held a short session this afternoon. Important business will be transacted tomorrow morning, when the officers will be elected and annual reports read. The evening reception and the tour were held at Keller street hall, which had been handsomely decorated. There were reception rooms for the ladies and coat rooms for the gentlemen and on the first floor a section was set apart for a supper room. Over 300 Sir Knights and their ladies attended the reception. Tomorrow many of the visitors will have an excursion to Gettysburg and on their return in the evening will attend the installations of the officers in the opera house.
