RADICAL MOVE IS THREATENED

Charges of Perjury May Grow Out of the Langstaff-Kelly Contest.

M'DONALD WHO REPRESENT M. J. KELLEY IN THE ELECTION CON-TEST HAD A CONSULTATION YES. TERDAY AT WHICH THE ADVIS-EILITY OF MAKING ARRESTS WAS CONSIDERED-SOME KIND OF AC-TION MAY BE TAKEN TODAY.

Whether to swear out warrants or not for the arrest of Wade M. Finn, Willard E. Perry and Suthard S. Wert on the charge of perjury was the ques-tion discussed at a consultation yesterday afternoon among Attorneys E. C. Newcomb, I. H. Burns and Senator M. E. McDenald at the latter's office. They decided to meet again this morning and agree then upon what action to take.

The criminal action against these three would be based upon their affidavit to the bill of particulars in the Langstaff-Kelley contest. Senator Me-Donald stated to a Tribune reporter that there are over thirty districts where more illegal votes are alleged than Mr. Kelley received. In one district of the Twenty-first ward the bill alleges 144 illegal votes and Mr. Kelley received all told only 31.

Other districts Mr. Kelley received fewer votes in than the number of legal ones cast for him alleged in the bill are the four districts of the Nineteenth ward, the four districts of the Twentleth ward, two districts in Carbondale, one in Dickson borough, one in the Second ward, and one in the Sixteenth ward. This is no hearsay, he said, but can e seen in the court records containing the returns of the election. Furthermore, the total number of alleged illegal votes is about 10,500, only a few thousand below half the entire number polled.

If they do not begin criminal proceedings, he said, it will be because the court will quash the bill; and they propose to argue today to have it quashed. When the hearing came up Monday they only pressed one reason o quash and that was predicted upon he new rule handed down by the court before the case was called, requiring to be sworn to by at least three of the igners of the petition. They propose today, he said, to move a invalidate the affidavit on the round that the bill possesses repugnant features that no man can swear o. The court will be asked to declare the bill unworthy of an affidavit.

COMMON PLEAS COURT.

Next Monday Will Be the Opening Day of the Term.

On Monday common pleas court will begin and continue three weeks. No cases will be called for trial Monday, it being Memorial Day, but the jury will answer, and the trial list will be called. Judges Archbald and Gunster will preside the first week.

The grand jury will make its final return tomorrow afternoon and adjourn. Yesterday the Archbald murder case was heard, in which Martin Kenny is charged with stabbing John Healey. The cases against the two women shoplifters arrested this week were also heard. One more case has been made against them, William Welcker, proprietor of the Fashion, was at the court house in the afternoon and he identified among the stolen goods several articles taken from his store. He immediately went before Alderman Howe and swore out a warrant.

Foreign Workmen at That Place in an Ugly Frame of Mind.

The feeling of unrest among the forign laborers at the Bird Coleman and North Cornwall iron furnaces of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company at Lebanon, assumed a marked critical aspect today. The American workmen were driven away Wednesday by the foreigners, because they refused to join the strikers in their demands for higher pay.

Yesterday the company's managers called upon the sheriff for aid, and twelve deputies were sworn in and lows, to wit: armed. They were placed around the works. There were no outbreaks. but the strikers are in a very ugly mood and threaten trouble. The shoriff today will probaly increase the number of deputies to seventy-five, and if disorder increased he will call upon the governor.
