Speaking of Briggs Pianos

Wilkes-Barre, Feb. 12, 1894. Gentlemen: Four years ago I bought a Briggs Piano. It has been in almost constant use since then, I giving lessons upon it and using it for my private practice also. Frequently it has been used six and eight hours in one day. Notwithstanding all this hard usage it is at present practically as good as new. Its power of standing in tune is marvelous, and its tone and action first-class. I have noticed the same excellent qualities in such Briggs Pianos as several of my pupils possess.

ANOTHER ATTACK ON THE PETITION

Exceptions Filed on the Part of M. J. Kelley to the Bill of Particulars.

THEY SET FORTH THAT THE BAD FAITH OF THE BILL IS SELF-EVIDENT FOR IN AT LEAST THIRTY DISTRICTS MORE ILLEGAL VOTES ARE ALLEGED THAN MR. KELLEY RECEIVED—COURT DID NOT MAKE A DECISION IN CASE OWING TO ABSENCE OF JUDGE ARCHBOLD.

In the Langstaff-Kelley contest Attorney-General Burns and McDonald filed exceptions yesterday morning to the bill of particulars, and a hearing took place before Judge Edwards in the main court room.

The exceptions set forth that the bad faith of the bill is self-evident, for in at least thirty districts more illegal votes are alleged than Mr. Kelley received. And that it alleges a larger number of illegal votes cast by aliens than there are naturalized citizens in the whole county.

Mr. Kelley's attorneys argued that the bill is so repugnant on its very face that it need not be quashed, the court should at least order it corrected so that it comes somewhere within bounds. For instance, in the township of Ransom Mr. Kelley, as the returns show, got three votes. The bill alleges that twelve illegal votes were cast for him. In one district of Mr. Langstaff's own ward Mr. Kelley got 21 votes and the bill charges him with 144 illegal votes.

MR. HOLGATE'S ANSWER. Mr. Holgate answered that the respondents should not be allowed to make new charges from time to time. This latter objection about the excess of votes alleged in the bill moves that Mr. Kelley received in the districts specified was not brought up until now. He said the respondents had had their day in court and that as much as they are entitled to, when the cases came up for argument Monday, the only objection to the bill was that it was not sworn to by three of the signers. The contestants obeyed the new rule of court covering that requirement, and they ought to stand.

Mr. Newcomb asked why the bill should charge more illegal votes in over thirty districts than Mr. Kelley received in them. Mr. Holgate answered to know everything, and Mr. Newcomb said he ought to have more than a nodding acquaintance with his own child.

Mr. McDonald argued that if the bill is allowed to stand it will pile up an unnecessary bill of costs on the taxpayers. Why should the court permit the contestants, he asked, to subpoena twice as many witnesses in one district as Mr. Kelley received votes there? He argued that they should at least be required to amend the bill in that respect.

After the argument Mr. Newcomb asked Judge Edwards to do something for the relief of the respondents, that they might have some idea of what district witnesses would be called. The court remarked that the witnesses might be visited. He found in his experience with election contests that this thing had been carried on by the other side. The outsiders of the court house are sometimes turned into favorite lobbying places for interviewing witnesses, and he thought the more secrecy about the subpoenas the better would be the progress in the contest.

NO ACTION TO QUASH. He also remarked that he would take no action on the motion to quash until there is a full consideration of it by the three judges. Judge Archbold is out of town and will not be in court until Monday.

Mr. Newcomb was seen late yesterday afternoon and asked about the conclusion, if any, of the respondents had come to concerning criminal action against Wade M. Finn, Sutherland S. Wert and Willard E. Perry. He said he was in favor of proceeding. Senator McDonald is also in favor of a warrant for Perry, and Mr. Burns is not opposed to it but is advising to defer action until the court disposes of the exceptions made yesterday. Mr. Kelley will be guided entirely by what his attorneys decide to do.

IMPROVING ITS ROAD.

Delaware and Hudson Putting in New Switches at Wilkes-Barre.

The new switch station for the Delaware and Hudson company at the intersection of that track with the Lehigh Valley near the Valley round-house is rapidly nearing completion, says the Wilkes-Barre Leader. "This intricate piece of work," the article is commented on favorably by all railroad men who have seen it. The work is the finest and the method of operation as well as construction and material is all modern in its character. From a central point at least twenty switches can be manipulated.

ON A TOUR OF INSPECTION.

Officials of the Erie and N. Y. S. & W. Go Over the Roads.

A special train carrying Erie and New York Susquehanna and Western railroad officials arrived in town last evening. They made the trip over the New York, Susquehanna and Western road, leaving New York city at 8:30 a. m., arriving in Wilkes-Barre at 7:40 p. m.

The party is composed of the following Erie officials: George M. Cummings, first vice president; Frank M. Harlow, general traffic manager; H. D. Chamberlain, assistant general traffic

CUT TO PIECES BY A MINE FAN

Frightful Death of Llewellyn Jones at the Glendale Colliery.

IT IS SUPPOSED THAT HE WAS OILING THE BEARINGS OF THE FAN AND FELL INTO IT—THE BLADES HACKED HIS BODY TO PIECES—HIS WIFE WAS ILL AND THE SHOCK HAS MADE HER CONDITION SERIOUS.

Llewellyn Evans, hoisting engineer at the Glendale colliery of the Greenwood Coal company, was killed and cut to pieces by falling into the jaws of the ventilating fan, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. He was dead for three hours before the horrifying accident was discovered. The body was dismembered into over one hundred pieces.

There was no work yesterday at the Glendale, and Jones the Evans fell into the fan is not known; but the supposition is that he was oiling the bearing and lost his balance. A ladder goes up to the journal boxes and it is most likely that he had gone to the top of it and was brushed into the swiftly revolving fan. His body was hacked with every revolution. The blades of the fan sweep within a few inches of the floor.

On the same day it was his custom to do jobs of repairing on the machinery, and his absence from the engine room was not noticed so much for that reason. At 10 o'clock Mine Foreman David Jones gave the signal from the foot of the shaft to be hoisted, and that after no one saw Evans alive.

RESIGNED FROM THE BOARD.

Rev. P. J. McManus Retires from Library Board of Trustees.

Rev. P. J. McManus, pastor of St. Paul's Catholic church, Green Ridge, has resigned from the board of trustees of the Scranton Public Library. The resignation has been submitted to Mayor Bailey. It was prompted by burdensome parish duties, especially on Saturdays, the days on which the meetings of the board are held.

Two other vacancies exist on the board, one caused by the resignation of William T. Smith and the other by the removal from the city of Rev. Dr. Joseph K. Dixon, who was pastor of the Penn Avenue Baptist church.

Mayor Bailey will not fully decide who to appoint, but after consultation with the two church denominations concerned it is probable Rev. Dr. J. Maetdriek will be named to succeed Father McManus, and Rev. Thomas De Gruchy to succeed Dr. Dixon. The civil appointee has not been a definitely considered.

SUPERINTENDENT OF CONNELL PARK

Park Commissioners Will Soon Fill the Vacancy That Now Exists.

The office of superintendent of Connell park has been made vacant by the death of Matthew Mallia and will probably be filled in the near future by the park commissioners.

Among those who are mentioned in connection with the appointment are Mr. Mallia's son, Matthew Mallia, William Roach, John Eiden, Peter Foy and Thomas Collins.

THE GREATER includes the less. Hood's Sarraparilla cures hip disease and sciatic neuralgia and it may be depended upon to cure boils and pimples and humors of all kinds.

CONCRETE IS FAVORED.

Scranton Railway Company Will Adopt New Method of Paving.

If the North End councilmen can bring it to pass, the paving between the rails of the street car tracks on the Providence road and North Main avenue is to be done according to the same method as will be employed in paving the main roadway. At the instigation of these councilmen there has been much going and coming and consultation between the city engineers and Scranton Railway officials lately with the result that the system of track paving has good prospect of being improved upon.

Heretofore the brick between the tracks has been laid on sand which, in turn, has been supported by crushed stone. Between the ties this kind of base has settled and the brick pavements which have been laid for any length of time between the rails resemble the surface of a washboard on a large scale.

When the company was first asked to make the base concrete by the use of crushed stone and cement an objection was raised. It has, however, been pointed out to the company officials that the present paving ordinance, and many earlier ones, provides that the car track paving shall be the same in material and method as that employed on the main roadway. The only exception has been the use of a brick instead of a sand base.

Yesterday the company has practically withdrawn its opposition to the use of concrete. That kind of base will be used. It has been shown that this construction means reduced expenses, not only in re-paving but in wear and tear on the cars as well.

Winton School Board Restrained from Closing a Contract.

An injunction was granted Thursday afternoon by the court to restrain the school board of Winton borough from closing a contract with Collins & Brennan, of Carbondale, for the construction of a new school building. There will be a hearing on Thursday, June 2, at 9 a. m., to determine whether or not the injunction shall be permanent.

The plaintiffs are Eugene Taylor and Charles R. Burnett, taxpayers of the borough. They allege that on April 28, 1898, the board met and determined to erect a school house near the center of Jessup; and plans and specifications therefor were submitted to several contractors; and that Collins & Brennan made a bid of $10,815. The Dunmore Lumber company a bid of $10,713 and the Peck Lumber company a bid of $8,750, and that each of them is a responsible bidder, but that the contract was let to the highest bidder.

SHE FOLLOWED THE MUSIC.

Child Wanders from Home and Lands at the Police Station.

Another little child turned up at police headquarters yesterday afternoon. It was a two-and-a-half-year-old girl, not fully dressed, who was found on Spruce street by two ladies and was led by them to the police station. Within an hour a frantic mother reached the station in a state of collapse and claimed the runaway. The woman was Mrs. Morris Hilsen, of 118 Raymond court. She said the child was playing in the yard but was tempted away by the strains of a hand organ. The organ and the child became separated when Spruce street was reached and it was then that the two ladies found the little wanderer.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES.

Conducted in St. Paul's Parochial School Hall, Green Ridge.

At St. Paul's parochial school, Green Ridge, Memorial Day exercises were conducted yesterday afternoon. The school hall was attractively decorated in the national colors and the children wore red, white and blue. An address was given by Rev. P. J. McManus, pastor of the church, in observance of which the entertainment was held, was delivered by Rev. P. J. McManus. The following programme was also rendered in a very creditable manner:

Roll Call, Naval Heroes, "The Battle of the Clouds," School Dialogue, "Grandma's Memorial Day," Missions, "Star Spangled Banner," School Dialogue, "The Soldiers of the Future," Boys Song, "Patriotic Musicians," Boys Song, "The Brethren Through Calvary," School Dialogue, "Memorial Day," Helen Smith Song, "Old Glory," School Dialogue, "Lincoln's Address at Gettysburg," Harry Grantan Dialogue, "Fidelity Our Honor," Boys Solo, "Heroes Grave," Louise Fay Chorus, "We'll Gather Bright Flowers."
