PUPILS' QUARTERLY CONCERT.

Given in the Scranton Bicycle Club House Last Night.

That the Scranton Conservatory of Music receives to some degree the recognition it deserves, was proved last evening by the large and distin-guished audience that repeatedly gave evidence of delight at the fine programme presented at the Bicycle club. It was the occasion of the first quarterly concert. Under the direction of Professor J. Alfred Pennington the enservatory pupils acquitted themelves with great credit. The numbers, oth vocal and instrumental, were rendered with the proficiency only quired by conscientious teaching. This as evinced in many directions.

The pupils of Professor Pennington. Professor Hemberger, Miss Timberman and Miss Hardenburg all left little oom for unfavorable criticism in their work of last evening. Especially was this true of Miss Emma Bone, daughter of Druggist J. G. Bone, of Dunore, whose technique was so admir-able in the Impromptu in A flat of Chopin, Miss Louise Slocum also gave evidence of remarkable execution in the Wollenhaupt Elude Brilliante.

Miss Clara Simpson, whose liquid, fresh young voice is such a delight to hear, sang with charming effect a Chaminade song "Summer," Miss Helen Matthews played with great lelicacy and taste a Chopin waltz, and Miss Gertrude Sprague, whose unmistakable talent gives great promise of future development, played an exquisite violin solo by Bohm, Mr. Ralph Williams sang two pleasing selections in a rich, well-trained voice, and Miss Isabel Clarke rendered beautifully a contralto solo. Miss Rose Gallen sang with spirited effect the pretty song, "Four-Leaved Clover." Miss Grace Spencer's solos, with violin obligate by

Mr. Widmayer, received much praise, and the songs by Mr. Fred. Emerich were among the most enjoyable features of the programme. Miss Ethel James sang two numbers with feeling and beauty of tone. Miss Sophie Price. Miss Anna Voris, Miss Anna Ansley, Miss Clara Browning and Miss Marion Hutchinson rendered pleasing piano Perhaps no part of the programme han the violin number by Fred. H. Widmayer, whose talent has achieved such hearty recognition. He played the Third movement from the Eighth Concerte, by Spohr, and played it well indeed. The sextet by Miss Timberman, Mrs. Chapman, the Misses Simpson, James, Clarke and Spencer was greatly enjoyed, as was the concluding number, the ladies' chorus. Miss Richmond accompanied many of the vocal elections on the piane, Altogether the concert was a proounced success and Mr. Pennington and his assistants at the conservatory to produce in this city a musical atmosphere that is far removed from medlocrity.

The meeting was held in the board of trade offices. Hon, Alfred Hand, the president, presided. The others present were Conrad Schroeder, Cap-tain W. A. May, T. H. Dale, C. R. Man-ville, and D. B. Atherton, the secre-

Secretary Atherton reported thirteen applications for relief. The cases were distributed in every section of the city and one was from Dalton and one from Dunmore. He cited the difficulty already experienced by the relief committee in investigating the applica-tions and recommended the employment of an agent. If such a person was needed now, he argued, there would be no question as to the necessity later on.

CAPTAIN MAY'S REMARKS. Captain May suggested that a permanent appointment be deferred until the general committee membership was increased. The finance committee he said, had been obliged to give assurance to many subscribers to the fund that money for salaries would not be paid except under some imperative contingency. In view of this understanding, he thought the enlarged committee should authorize the employment of the agent. He approved the suggestion, however.

The matter of employing an agent temporarily and of fixing regular days for meetings of the relief and finance committees to distribute relief and endorse vouchers, respectively, was referred to the former committee with power to act. The person to act as agent temperarily and probably permanently was suggested by Secretary Atherton and the suggestion was agreed to. It was decided not to re-veal his identity for obvious reasons. He is a Christian gentleman, conversant with and for a long time actively engaged in charitable work.

Secretary Atherton stated that many applications did not need relief al-though the stories of this class had silenced the most plausible. He cited several of these cases for the information of the committee. One case was that of a young woman whose pitiful warded by him to the association. A case of great importance to the roughs of the state as well as to the telephone and telegraph companies, as argued yesterday in the Superior ourt room before Judge McPherson, of Harrisburg.
