The number of applicants for aid at yesterday afternoon's regular meeting of the goor board was small. All the members of the board were present.
President Langstaff brought to the courd's attention its possible liability to litigation through its system of examining and transporting some insane applicants for admission to the Home's insane department. The law provides that physicians connected with an insane institution shall not examine applicants, The point raised by President Langstaff involves the question of whether the poor board's outdoor district physicians are connected with the Home. Some of the members held that examinations by them were permissible by law; other members took counter view. There was also the question of the legality of the transportation of insane persons to the Home insane asylum under the direction of the officials of that institution, The opinion of some of the members was that it was an illegal act for an official of the insane department to participate in any way in transferring an insane patient to the Home. It was further held that evidence of insanity must be made by affidavit before a magistrate by two physicians not concted with the board, even as outdoor district physicians. The whole matter was referred to the board's attorney for an opinion.

The prossect of a disagreement is probable Late in the afternoon Attorney I. II. Burns, of counsel for Mrs. Callendar, made a motion before Judge McPheron that the jury be called in and given binding instructions to find a verdict for the plaintiff, the court at the same time to enter a rule for a new trial. Mr. Burns said this would be preferable to a disagreement of the jury, necessitating a trial of the case all over again at some future term of court.

Major Warren, for the defendant, opposed the motion with vigorous argument, and claimed it was a matter for the court to give a binding instruction for the defendant rather than the plaintiff. Judge McPherson said he would pass upon the motion this morning. If the jury shall have found a verdict before then, his ruling will not be

CLEVER METHOD OF PLUNDERING A STORE

Louis Gordon Was Just a Little Too Cautious and His Arrest Followed.

FOOK ABOUT FOUR HUNDRED DOL-LARS WORTH OF CLOTHING FROM THE BOSTON CLOTHING STORE AND SHIPPED IT TO ELMIRA, N. Y., WHERE HE WAS ARRESTED YES-TERDAY AFTENOON AT THE RE-QUEST OF THE POLICY OF THIS

Louis Gordon, supposed to be guilty of a burglary of the Boston Clothing store at 228 Lackawanna avenue Thursday night, was captured in Elmira late was never more significantly illustrated | Yesterday afternoon by the police of that city. Gordon's method of operations were clever and he might have escaped suspicion but for his baste to leave the city and his tell-tale caution in so doing. He rented a room over the store on Tuesday and used this apartment now is laid away temporarily the aged | to gain access to the store and to conceal his plunder. It is thought he made his descent to the store by a rope ladder through a skylight. He was once employed there and was familiar with the interior and the stock, it contained.

Gordon "skimmed" the piles, that is he removed only one or two garments from the middle or nottom of each, and by employing this method the theft Was not revealed through the absence of the goods. He made the mistake of hiring a drayman, Thomas Johnson, remove two new and heavily loaded trunks at as early an hour as 6 o'clock vesterday morning. kins and Thomas Beynon sang Tenny- trunks taken to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western depot. Later the drayman's suspicions were aroused by the fact that his customer did not leave with his trunks until 9 o'clock.

INVESTIGATION BEGUN.

Johnson communicated his suspicions to several persons, among others to a man named Rosenburg, who told the drayman's story to Proprietor Driesen, of the store. An examination of some f the piles showed that a number of presence and bright companionship articles were missing. Further invesigation revealed the fact that Gordon's vo trunks were new and were empty when brought to his room on Tuesday. The woman from whom he rented the com said she found him walking in and out of the hall after midnight on t was temporarily placed near that Thursday night. He explained his nocturnal exercise by saying he had a headache and couldn't sleep.

Mr. Driesen was then satisfied he was on the right track. He went to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western baggage room and ascertained that Gordon had checked his plunder to Elmira and had left for that city on the 9 o'clock train. The numbers of the checks were obtained and all the facts in the case hurriedly told to Sergeant Dieter at police hendquarters. Scrieant Dieter telegraphed the Elmira police about 2 o'clock. Late in the afternoon a message was received here to the effect that Gordon had been captured. The details of his arrest are Mr. Driesen, armed unknown here. with a warrant obtained from Alderman Millar, went to Elmira or the 1.55 afternoon train.

ROBBED ONCE BEFORE.

Mr. Driesen estimated the value of months ago and reported the theft to the police department, but no clue to lation of 24,239, about the same as it and family row on the the guilty person or his method of getting in and out of the store was found. The police department will this morn ing communicate with Harrisburg and secure the requisition papers necessary to bring Gordon to this city. Even though the prisoner should consent to come without the authority of requisition documents, the New York law would not permit it.

At the convention a candidate for legislature will be cominated and four state delegates chosen. Up to this time Attorney P. E. Timlin, of Jermyn, is the only person mentioned in connection with the legislative nomination. For state delegate the following are spoken of as available persons: Hon. J. J. Fadden, Dickson City; John Gibbons, Dunmore.

This afternoon the convention of the Second district Democrats will be held in the arbitration room of the court house. Hon. John P. Quinnan will not al-low his name to go before the convention for the legislative nomination and the honer will go to either Attorney D. J. Reedy or Martin Flaherty with the chances in favor of the former. For state delegate no great struggle is being made and it was last night stated that a slate had not been made. The district is entitled to three delegates.

The polls were not opened, there being no competition. There does not appear to be any hustle the honor of going as a state dele-e from the Third, and Messrs. Coyne and Brown, the only two recking it will nominated by acclamation.

There was a buby in the cradle in the kitcher and Dennyon, it is alleged, picked it up and threw it and the child into the card after her.

It chanced that Book was not far away. Hearing his wife's screams he ran back, and engaged with Dennyon n a struggle in the yard.
