ANOTHER LEGAL SNARL APPEARS

In Election Contest.

CONTESTANTS MAINTAIN THAT THEY HAVE A RIGHT TO EXAM-INE CERTAIN MEN WHOSE NAMES DO NOT APPEAR IN THE BILL OF PARTICULARS - COURT WILL BE ASKED TO GIVE A RULING-LACK-AWANNA TOWNSHIP VOTERS EN

In the hearing yesterday in the Langstaff-Kelley contest, witnesses from the South district of Luckawanna township were examined, and the proceedings were anything but

Timothy Lydon, one of the oldest settlers in the valley, who owns property and has voted forty years, was on the bill of particulars. He was not in the most gracious mood at being challenged, and raised his cane to strike some of the lawyers a blow, choever it was that was responsible for bringing him in. Though that long in the country he has never been able o learn enough of the English language to communicate his ideas. Michael P. Lydon had to be called in to translate the old man's testimony from the Irish tongue. "Tommy" Burke, another old resident who is ranging toward his eightieth year, was called and he was as verbose as Lydon was restricted. Mr. Burke at first was quite contemptuous in his remarks. He was not at all pleased at being brought in, and produced his tax receipts with a lofty disdain. Mr. Holgate asked him if he received any money for his vote and his reply was: "Not as much as a half a pint of rat gut."

NOT ON THE BILL.

Eighteen were called who were not on the bill of particulars and there sioners Duggan and Lewis were unaninous of the opinion that a man whose name was not on the bill could not be who was called, may be certified to Judge Archbald for a ruling. Mr. Holgate instructed Stenographer Taylor to make a transcript and certify it. Thomas Joyce, a miner, was called,

There was no Thomas Joyce on the bill, but there was a Thomas P. Joyce. And it appears that there is but one Thomas Joyce on the list of voters. The witness was asked if he voted and he said he did. Mr. Newcomb objected to his answering any questions whatever, as his name wasn't on the bill The name on the bill is that of Professor Thomas P. Joyce, principal of No. 3 school, Minooka, for the past twenty-five years. Mr. Holgate that as there is but one Thomas Joyce on the voting list and the witness had said he voted, he should be examined even if the middle initial were at-tached to the name on the bill. The commissioners ruled otherwise. Those who were called and found not included in the bill are as follows: Michael Coyne, John Disken, John Fitzhenry, Michael Flaherty, Martin Gaughan, John Gallagher, Anthony Hart, John Hart, John G. Jennings, John Hart, jr., James Jennings, Martin Jeffers, Martin King, P. J. BIG AMERICAN FLAG.

This Afternoon It Will Be Raised at D. L. & W. Shops.

The patriotic fervor which since the war began has pervaded the several Delaware, Lackawanna and Western shops and led to the raising of flags at each, will reach its climax this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when an immense tlag 20x36 will be unfurled from a pole 110 feet high. Topping off the pole is a large globe, surmounted by the figure of an eagle with wings outspread. The eagle and globe are gilded. The raising is the outcome of a general action on the part of all the shop employes and the pole is located on Washington avenue, facing the main shop, The unfurling will be attended with appropriate exercises. Robert F. Me-
