BEFORE BREAKFAST.

The Binghamton Republican tried to be funny yesterday in commenting about the 1,200 visitors who went from Scranton to the Parlor City on Wednesday. Among the other silly things in the "funny" comments was the following:

As they reached the outskirts of the city many of the Scrantonites were observed to watch out for some sight that would look familiar, such as pigs and cows disporting themselves in fields, or goats climbing over fences or feeding in the back yards. They soon ascertained, however, that such sights are familiar only to residents whose back yard is marked by a calm dump, and who nightly utter wondering how many feet their domestic will scuffle some mine during the night.

As a final example of Binghamton courtesy is remarked that "taken" together the visitors were not as bad a lot as might have been expected to come from the mining town. Now a still funnier phase of the situation may not have occurred to the writer of these complimentary lines and that was the condition of the grand stand at the bicycle races. Of all the fifty, hundred unspicably unclean places imaginable that grand stand was the dirtiest. Parlor City indeed! At Scranton "rooters" had to sit in such a decrepit and dirty stand as Binghamton tolerates they would not only fill the unclean but massacre the park association. Every one from this town who went to the races complained bitterly of the conditions which they found. Now, one would think that when a thousand or more people were coming to see their city and spend money or lose money there, they would have had a triennial cleaning up of that grand stand and vicinity, and after all the advertising we gave them, too! Well, we won't do that any more.

A resident of Quincy avenue, whose lawn is one of the most beautiful in the city, said yesterday that the electric light which costs a strong radiance over a certain shaded corner has a most beneficial effect on the grass in that spot. A few years ago it was impossible to secure a fine growth of turf there, but under the electric light it is luxuriant and velvety. This may be a hint to those who have found their lawnsome trees to be discouraging to their roses and other flowering plants. Just pull a wire on a coumman if you don't happen to own a corner lot and get him to put a big arc light where it will do the most good to your flowers and grass.

Mr. George M. Halstead has perhaps the most interesting flag in the city, flying out from the ridge pole or the cornice of his residence on clay avenue, but from a fine sturdy pole set on the lawn, where the starry folds can wave to an unlimited degree.

A very small pond in an open box labeled "My name is Belle. Give me water at Buffalo," attracted much attention on the platform at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western station the other morning. The pond was directed to Mr. Charles Springer and was yesterday afternoon carting on the streets, as if it had not just finished a long journey.

Professor Anna Whitney, the widely-known vocal teacher and choral conductor, formerly of the Boston Conservatory, is in this city, to which he has come for his health and where he will probably locate. Professor Whitney is the brother of the prominent oratorist of that name and has had for his pupils some of the most famous singers in the world. At present Mr. Whitney is at the Nash.

PERSONAL.

Dr. C. J. Barrett, of Princeton, visited friends here yesterday.

Charles McMeans has returned from Carlisle, where he has been attending Dickinson Law school.

P. S. Barrett, a member of Creston Clark's company during the season just closed, is home to spend the summer vacation.

Myer Davilov, the Lackawanna avenue shoe man, returned yesterday from New York, Boston, Lynn, Brockton and Haverhill shoe markets.

John Jordan, of this city, son of the late J. Jordan, graduated Wednesday from the law department of the University of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards, D. E. Taylor and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Connell, Mrs. C. E. Silliman and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Conroy, were registered at the St. Denis in New York this week.

Charles E. Danield received his diploma from the Dickinson Law school at Carlisle, Pa., at the graduation exercises Wednesday. Upon motion of Attorney John Hays, a member of the Cumberland bar, Mr. Danield was admitted to the bar of that county. Mr. Danield is representing the Truth at Camp Alger as special correspondent at present, and after admission to the bar of Lackawanna county he will begin the practice of law here. Judge Archibald was made a trustee of Dickinson Law school at Westchester's exercises in the vacancy caused by the death of Jacob Forno, of Maryland.

WAS MURPHY MURDERED?

Peculiar Case That Coroner Longstreet is Investigating.
Anthony Murphy, 40 years old and single, of Olyphant, died at the Lackawanna hospital at 4:20 yesterday morning. Patrick Cawley, of Olyphant, is in the county jail under suspicion of being instrumental in the man's death. Coroner Longstreet conducted a preliminary post mortem examination yesterday afternoon, and as far as he has gone there was no tangible evidence that Murphy died from violence. The coroner will complete the post-mortem this forenoon, empanel a jury, and prepare to hear testimony. Murphy, there seems to be no doubt, died from injuries to the brain, but the skull was not fractured, and there isn't any contusion or laceration on the scalp.
Stories were about in Olyphant that he had been brutally beaten Saturday night by Patrick Cawley, and on the strength of these a warrant was sworn out for the accused man by County Detective Leysion before Justice of the Peace M. W. Cummings, and he was committed to jail, pending the investigation of Dr. Longstreet.

Crystal Hose Company Celebrated Its Silver Jubilee Last Night.

THREE CHARTER MEMBERS OF THE ORGANIZATION WERE PRESENT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE CELEBRATION—ONE OF THEM IS PRESIDENT OF COMPANY, D. J. NEWMAN, WHO WAS PRESENTED WITH A HANDSOME PEN AND INK PORTRAIT OF HIMSELF.

Firemen, city and county officials and men prominent in almost every walk of life thronged the apartments of the Crystal Hose company on Linden street, last night to help the members celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the company. During the quarter of a century that the Crystal boys have been fighting fires there have been few big blazes in the city at which they did not render distinguished services. By reason of their location in the centre of the business district a great portion of the work has always fallen upon them.

The Crystal company was formed on the night of May 13, 1873, in the office of Hon. R. H. McKune on the second floor of the building now occupied by Mangum's hotel at Lackawanna and Penn streets. At that time the centre of the city had but two fire fighting organizations, the "Gay Anns" and the "Good Will Hook and Ladder company." The latter soon after went out of existence.

After organizing the roster of the Crystal company was as follows:
President, Hon. R. H. McKune; vice president, Carl W. McKinney; foreman, Frank J. Newman; first assistant foreman, J. M. Keller; second assistant foreman, George S. Throp; recording secretary, E. A. Needham; financial secretary, John P. Gray; treasurer, E. H. Phipps; T. J. Newman; assistant pinman, Eugene Reed; M. J. Hunsman, Daniel Landy, Samuel H. Talley, C. R. Schreiber, Elmer M. Phillips, H. P. Forber, A. M. DeBore, Warren M. Teets, Charles Maddox, Fred. P. Frick, George Houzes, W. L. Kriehbaum, Isaac T. White, David Turnbull, D. M. Foster, Joseph Phillips, Edward Murray, J. H. Coyne, Charles P. Walters, Peter Roth, A. Dinck, A. R. Read.

THREE CHARTER MEMBERS.

Daniel J. Newman and Isaac Ties are the only charter members of the company who now belong to it. Es- Chief Morgan F. Forber, another charter member, was also present last night. Hon. R. H. McKune, the first president of the company, died three years ago. Soon after the company was organized he was elected mayor of Scranton and served during the troublesome year of 1877. Since the company organized, many have to say, it has had but two presidents. Mr. McKune served from 1873 to 1883; and D. J. Newman from 1883 down to the present time. Five times the company has been honored by having a chief engineer, the department selected from among its members. They were H. P. Forber, S. V. D. Huntington, Enoch Page, E. Zielemann and H. R. Madison.

At last night's anniversary many of the former members of the company were present and reminiscences of former days flowed in a never-ending stream. The historian of the Scranton Fire department could have obtained some mighty interesting data last night if he had been privileged to hear the stories of the veterans who gathered around the Crystal's hospitable roof.

It was agreed by the veterans that the target and fire-test fire the company has attended since it was organized occurred in 1876 when the chief works were entirely destroyed by fire. After organizing, the first fire attended by the company was in the Eagle hotel on Penn avenue. A year after organizing the company secured a steamer and the first fire it was used at was in the rear of what is now the White house at Penn avenue and Center street.

PRESIDENT REMEMBERED.

Early in the evening the members of the company and the guests who arrived early proceeded in parties on the second floor where H. R. Long, chairman of the anniversary committee in a neat speech presented to President Newman an artistically executed pen and ink portrait of himself surrounded by a handsome oak frame heavily ornamented with gold. The picture was the work of artist P. W. Costello, who is a member of the company. A feeling response to the presentation speech was made by Mr. Newman.

That was the only formal number on last night's programme. After that everything that was said and done was distinctly informal. The Lawrence band, which was stationed on the first floor, played patriotic airs and popular ditties with great impartiality and a delegation of the members of the company who had donated white aprons served substantial and liquid refreshments to the hundreds of visitors.

When the meetings of select and common council adjourned the members of these bodies proceeded to the hose house in a body and there spent a great influx of Elks when that body adjourned after its regular weekly meeting.

Then came a period of impromptu speeches. H. R. Long acted as chairman and short addresses were made by many of the city fathers and other notable persons.

That the Crystal company is composed of the following large list of its members who are now with the volunteer army:

W. S. Foster, Company C; John Galine, Company B; Charles Hamilton, Company B; Charles Hines, Company B; George Robling, Company C; Carl Gunster, Company C; Jacob L. Moser, Company A.

WEDDING AT DELAWARE WATER GAP

Edward M. Green and Miss Mary B. Broadhead United.

In the presence of invited guests that nearly filled the Presbyterian church of the mountains, at the Delaware Water Gap, at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the marriage of Dr. Edgar M. Green, of Easton, to Miss Mary B. Broadhead, of the Water Gap, was solemnized. Dr. Green is the only son of the late Dr. Traill Green, one of the founders of Lafayette college and himself a trustee of that institution. The bride, Mary Harcroft Broadhead, is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Broadhead, of the Kittanning. The bride's only attendant was a sister, Miss Helen Broadhead, who, as the maid of honor, was gowned in white organdie over pink silk. She wore a picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The best man was Charles Green, of Easton, a cousin of the groom, and the ushers were Dr. Edgar Peitz, Henry Mack, Morris Kirkpatrick and Herbert A. Broadhead.

Dr. and Mrs. Green will sail for Europe in a few days on a three months' tour. They will reside in Easton on their return.

NO MORE MEN FOR ENGINEERS.

Those Already Enrolled Will Be Examined at Once.
The following telegram was received last night from Lieutenant C. C. Conklin, who is in Philadelphia:
"No more men will be enrolled for Scranton detachment of engineers, but those already enrolled will be examined at Scranton at a subsequent date and those coming up to the requirements will be mustered in."

CONVENTION OF WOMEN

Was Held in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Green Ridge—Object of the Meeting.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Archdeaconry of Scranton, held its fourth regular meeting at the church of the Good Shepherd in Green Ridge, yesterday. The first session began at 11 o'clock with Holy Communion. Rev. J. P. Moore, of Honesdale, Rev. Rogers Israel, of St. Luke's church and Rev. F. S. Ballentine were in the church. At the conclusion of this service elaborate luncheon was served in the parlors by the ladies of the church. Masses of beautiful roses adorned the tables and the occasion was most pleasant.

Those in charge of affairs were Mrs. J. E. Corral, Mrs. J. Gardner Sanderson, Mrs. J. Ben Dimmick, Mrs. J. A. Robertson, Mrs. H. B. Reynolds, Mrs. F. S. Ballentine, Mrs. W. D. Russell, Mrs. T. E. Jones, Miss Sanderson, Mrs. Sareth, Mrs. E. H. Davis, Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. Wint, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Guernsey, Mrs. Colborne, Mrs. White, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Simmel, Mrs. Bunting, Mrs. Beebe, Mrs. Ackerly, Mrs. Bennett, Miss Robinson, Miss Moore.

At the afternoon session Mrs. Rogers Israel presided. Mrs. J. E. Corral was chosen secretary. After roll call, Mrs. Corral gave an interesting and valuable paper on missions in China. A portrait of the child for which this auxiliary provides, was shown. Mrs. R. Wood, of Wilkes-Barre, read an excellent paper on the Navajos, and reports from all the parishes were heard. Mrs. Israel spoke of the missionary funds. A collection of $25 was taken and was voted to be sent to Fort Delaware, where Miss Elizabeth Thackeray is in charge of mission work. The next meeting will be held in To-

A number of representatives from various towns were present. Among them was Mrs. J. B. Phillips, a lady whose lines being cast in what most people would consider unpleasant places, still in accomplishing more work than perhaps the most earnest church woman in city parishes where work abounds.

Mrs. Phillips life is the arduous one which any woman must find where a farm is her home. Yet she seems to find time for many things. She lives nine miles from a railroad, at Stealing, Wayne county. Yet in her small sphere she is determined to have those about her instructed in the Protestant Episcopal faith, and has services in a chapel where she is rector, sexton, Sunday school superintendent, curate and all the other duties necessary to conduct a church. She has a Sunday school of 35 pupils, besides looking after the spiritual welfare of other little ones. With almost no facilities for work, with few books and little help, she is carrying on the lines as well as she believes it to be, and is weaving an everlasting influence about those in her vicinity.

Among the delegates present were: Mrs. E. G. Scott, the illustrious president; Mrs. C. R. Wood, Mrs. Woodworth, Mrs. J. B. Phillips, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Howe, Miss Julia Butler, Mrs. Sterling, Miss Gertrude Jones, Miss Majorie Ricketts, of Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. D. W. Cox, wife of Archdeacon Cox, of Alden; Mrs. Rollin Manville, Mrs. William Leonard, Mrs. B. H. Abbott, Mrs. N. L. Moore, Mrs. C. E. Reiter, Mrs. J. P. H. Tingley, Mrs. E. Bell, Mrs. R. A. Sawyer, Mrs. S. N. Bailey, of Carbondale; Mrs. G. L. Dickson, Mrs. E. S. Moffatt, Mrs. W. B. Culver, Mrs. C. E. Durman, Mrs. Sidney Hayes, Mrs. Joseph Bezel, Mrs. Everett, Mrs. Mrs. Halderman, Mrs. Pettigrew, Mrs. Hollister, Miss Dickenson, Miss Haight, Miss Emily Stevens, Miss Emma Sanderson, of St. Luke's parish.

RELIEF COMMITTEE IN REGULAR SESSION

Agent's Work and System of Investigation Thoroughly Discussed.

THE WORK OF THE AGENT WILL BE CONTINUED INDEFINITELY. PLAN TO SECURE FROM CHAPLAIN STABLE INFORMATION CONCERNING FAMILIES IN NEED WHERE PRIDE DETERS THEM FROM ASKING FOR AID—FUND HAS GROWN TO NEARLY $150.

There was a large representation of the executive committee of the Soldiers' Relief association at yesterday afternoon's regular weekly meeting in the board of trade rooms. Captain W. A. May presided in the absence of Judge Alfred Hand. The others present were H. B. Reynolds, Hon. L. A. Waters, Colonel E. H. Ripple, Colonel H. M. Hoies, Hon. John R. Farr, T. H. Dale, C. G. Boland, C. H. Manville, J. B. Dimmick, C. S. Weston and D. B. Atherton.

Over a half hour was devoted to a discussion of the necessity of employing an agent permanently and of the proper method of ascertaining the identity of families in need of aid but too proud to ask for it. The relief committee was finally given power to employ the present agent for such time and in such manner as the committee deemed necessary. Action on the agent's proposition to work for $20 per month and street car fare and to be permanently engaged, was deferred. The terms had been sought in pursuance of action taken at a previous meeting.

Several plans were suggested for ascertaining from cards the names of families that might need help but would not make application for it. Some of the committee suggested that the information be obtained through Colonel Courson and by him through the captains.

CHAPLAIN WILL ACT.

Others believed communications should be operated with the captains direct. Secretary Atherton suggested that an emissary be sent from here to Camp Alger for the purpose of personally obtaining the information from the men. It was finally decided on Mr. Watrous' motion that the delicate duty be assigned to the chaplain of the regiment, Rev. N. F. Stahl, and the secretary was directed to write him at once concerning this conclusion. The following financial statement was made:

Total subscriptions	$158.73
Cash subscriptions	1,098.90
Subscriptions monthly	55.90
Expeditious relief and incident	170.90
Balance, cash on hand	$27.05
Subscriptions previously acknowledged	$1,520.60

Employer, North Steel works, and since from flag fund	5.55

The contribution from the employees of the Susquehott mill was brought to the meeting by Colonel Ripple. The cash was contained in a big canvas money-sack and remained on the secretary's table during the meeting.
