FUNERAL OF THOMAS FAHEY.

Many friends and relatives were in attendance at the funeral of the late Thomas Fahey, which was held yesterday morning from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Bridget Cannon, 321 Twenty-second street. Quite a number were from out of town. The remains were borne to St. Patrick's church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated. Father Richard, of the Passionists Fathers, now assisting in the conduction of the mission at the church, was celebrant. He also preached an eloquent sermon. Rev. J. B. Whelan and Rev. D. A. Dunn assisted at the mass.

At the conclusion of the services, the remains were borne to the cathedral cemetery, where interment was made. The pall-bearers were James Carroll and Patrick Murphy, of Pittston; Patrick Gibney, of Honesdale; John Lavelle, Frank Crane and Martin Sammond, of this city. Those present from Pittston were: Mr. and Mrs. James Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hart and Mr. and Mrs. James Carroll.

MR. LLOYD APPOINTED.

Upon Joseph D. Lloyd, of North Main avenue, falls the mantle of Thomas J. Williams as foreman at the Manville mines, Green Ridge. Mr. Williams having been made assistant general superintendent of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western mines.

Mr. Lloyd does not go to a strange place, as he occupied the same position at that mine previous to 1878. He assumed charge during a series of reverses at the colliery and brought system out of confusion.

Mr. Lloyd has already taken up the duties of his new position, leaving the double position of inside foreman of the Archbald and Oxford mines, two other Delaware, Lackawanna and Western collieries. He has been connected with the company in various capacities for nearly thirty years and has been in charge of the Bellevue, Diamond, Tripp slope, Archbald, Manville and Oxford at different times in a period of twenty years. He took charge of the Oxford about April 1, just previous to the burning of the breaker.

Born in Breconshire, South Wales, February 22, 1844, he came to America in 1863 and located in Scranton. A few months later he joined the three months men. Again in May, 1865, he enlisted in the army of the Cumberland and was mustered out in October, 1865. In 1875 he went west to operate a silver mine in Utah, but returned in about eight months, owing to ill health.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS.

The ladies of the Simpson Social circle conducted a sale of fancy and useful articles last evening in the lecture room of the Simpson Methodist church. Many articles were sold. The booth for the sale of articles was in charge of Mrs. W. H. Hagen, Mrs. G. Easterlee, Mrs. Elias Jones, Mrs. P. C Hall, comprising the committee.

William Pryor gave several selections on the phonograph during the sale. Refreshments were served at three tables by the following ladies: Mrs. L. Hook, Mrs. J. Ansley, jr., Mrs. S. Snyder and Miss G. Van Camp, table No 1; Mrs. H. M. Bass, Mrs. J. Paff, Mrs. M. L. Blair, and Mrs. G. L. Peck, table No. 2; Mrs. W. W. Davis, Mrs. J. Edinger, Mrs. J. B. Sweet and Mrs. J. P. Acker, table No. 3.

Misses Elizabeth Beermans and Augusta Blair had charge of the ice cream and the Misses Kate Mason and Emma Lewis the cake. Mrs. R. J. Williams, president of the circle, presided and Miss Bertha Wheeling acted as cashier.

The pupils of the room at No. 14 school in charge of Principal James R. Hughes observed the closing exercises of the school season yesterday afternoon. Many visitors in the persons of relatives and friends were present and appropriate decorations were used. Principal Hughes presided. An excellent programme had been arranged and was carried out.

Recitations were given by the Misses Mattie Hughes, Loretta Cannon and Alice Williams. James Davis delivered the address of welcome in an eloquent manner. A paper on the "President Conflict" was read by George Paine. Miss Cora Decker was class prophet and her prophecies were decidedly interesting. Miss Mae Phillips was class historian and was equal to her task. Piano solos were played by the Misses Eva Roberts and Mary Morgan.

Several songs were sung by the school and an autoharp and guitar duet was played by Miss Alice Morgan Hattie Zintel and Morgan Evans. The closing address was made by Charles Acker in a very creditable manner.

Louis Allen Osborne delivered his lecture on the United States navy last evening at the Summer avenue Presbyterian church to a large audience. Interest did not lag at any part of the lecture. POLICE NEWS

Thomas Sheridan, 21 years old, who said he was a laborer, staggered up to a pedestrian on Lackawanna avenue yesterday morning and struck him. He was arrested by Patrolman Matthews who was told by a storekeeper that he had missed $2 while in Sheridan's company Thursday night. He was unwilling, however, to make any specific charge. Sheridan got a twenty-day sentence in police court.

Robert Hughes, of the West Side, threw a stone through a house occupied by Lou Guise on Center street yesterday afternoon. He was arrested by Patrolman Palmer but was released on payment of a deposit of $5 to appear in police court this morning.

A veteran police offender, Michael Delaney, was in the toils last night again. Neighbors sent word that Delaney was drunk and disorderly and abusing his wife and smashing the furniture in the house at South Wyoming avenue and River street. Patrolmen Matthews and Collins found affairs to be about as stated and removed Delaney to the central police station.

Seven tramps were sent to jail for thirty days from yesterday's police court. They comprised the gang arrested on West Lackawanna avenue Thursday evening. Explicit orders have been given the police to arrest on sight every mother's son of the genus hobo who shows his face these days. Ordinarily they welcome for a period the peacefulness of a secluded cell, but not during this kind of weather. It is believed they will scratch Scranton from their time book for the summer if a good dose of jail is properly administered during the next ten days.
