WEDDINGS.

Harndon-Mason Nuptials at Trinity. Married at Honesdale.

Moses Kenneth Harnden and Miss Edith Ellen Mason were married at Trinity Protestant Episcopal church on Saturday morning. The estomony was performed at 9 o'clock by Rev. Hollin Alger Sawyer, rector of the church. Miss Frances Maud Harndon was the bridesmaid and John Fornham Abbott. of Wilkes-Barre, was best man.

Although no invitations had been fasued, it was quite generally known that the event was to take place and at the appointed hour a number of the friends of the interested parties assembled to witness the coremony. On the stroke of nine the bridal party entered the church. The best man and the brides-maid, who is a sister of the groom, led the way up the aisle. They were followed by the bride and groom. The soft strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played on the pipe organ by Mrs. N. L. Moon, were wafted through the church as the party walked up the siste. At the altar the couple about to with. be made husband and wife took their stand in the center, the rector meeting them there. The short, simple, but beautiful ring ceremony was used. After the bendiction the party, reversing the order of the approach, walked down | Benion's father. That genileman had the aisle to the strains of the Lohengrin bridal chorus.

It has rarely been the pleasure of a Carbondale assemblage to witness so beautiful a bridal party. The bride was attired in a traveling dress of blue poplin trimmed with white slik. She wore a hat of blue and white, and carried a beautiful prayer book. Her natural beauty was increased by the taste and elegance of her costume. Miss Harnden, her maid, also looked very pretty. She too, wore a blus poplin. It was trimmed with silk crepe over pink satin, and her hat was trimmed with pink and white. The color scheme was most becoming to Miss Harnden's style of beauty and her rich complexion. She shared largely in the many compliments on the general taste and siyle of the event

After the corerrony Mr. and Mrs. Hainden were driven to the Union station, where they took the Eric fyer for an extended wedding trip. On their return they will reside in Olyphant, where Mr. Harnden is manager of the Weston Mill company's business. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Harn-den, of Salem avenue. He is very zenerally acquainted in this city, having street, is ill. been a continuous resident here until a comparatively recent date. Since going to Olyphant to reside he has maintained his connections with this city being a member of the Carbondale Cycle club and Trinity church. His bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Mason, of Olyphant. She is esteemed very highby the people of that borough, and Mr. Harnden is to be congratulated on and brickwork and plumbing for the his choice.

A number of the friends of both principals from out of town came to Carcipals from out of town came to Car-boadale to witness the ceremony. The next Thursday and Friday evenings bride and groom were the recipients of under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid. many costly presents. BRIGHT PROSPECTS.

Munley The common council has passed two readings the paving ordinances proiding for the improvement of South Main street, Eighth avenue, Sixth avenue and Park place; also the ordinance providing for the widening of North Church etreet. The measures have enlisted the interest of all progressive citizens and having been so far advanced there seems little dan-ger that they will be obstructed. Saturday's game of base ball played on the School house park between the home team, the Reds, and the Moosic Anthracitos, was a well contested game and can be termed a pitchers' battle. The attendance at the game was not very large, although considerable in-terest was manifested. The pitchers were Morris, for the home team, and llagan for the visitors. The features of the game were the batting and fielding of G. Morris on second base for the Reds. The catcher for the Moorie team also deserves credit for his manner of playing. The score was: R.H.E. Taylor Reds0 5 2 0 0 0 0-8 9 3

Accuracy of the New American Army Rifle.

TESTS TO ASCERTAIN THE NATUR-AL DRIFT OF ITS BULLETS AND THE INFLUENCE OF THE WIND. SOME SURPRISES FOR ORDNANCE EXPERTS AND MARKSMEN.

'rom the New York Tribune.

The modified Krag-Jorgensen rifle, which was adopted by a special small arms board for the United States army four or five years ago, has been the subject of considerable criticism, some of it unjust, perhaps, and some of it just. One of the respects in which, at first, it proved a disappointment was its seeming lack of accuracy in the hands of good marksmen. Partly on this account and partly for ther reasons an elaborate investigation was held during the summer and fall of 1896, and again in 1897, to ascer tain the average "drift," or deviation from a straight line, of the bullets, when fired at different distances from target. These tests were conducted chieffy at a range laid out between Chicopee Falls and Granby, Mass., only a few miles from Springfield, where the rifles are made. A number of different marksmen vere employed, and several rifles were ested, in order to secure a proper Werage. In all, about 25,000 shots were ired. Careful observations were made n regard to the wind. Those shots which were fired during a perfect calm showed the drift of the bullet due to pecultarities of the gun itself, while the others indicated the influence of the wind at various velocities. Each 'target" consisted of a series of ten onsecutive shots. The vertical and orizontal distances from the center of he bull's-eye were measured and tabulated, as a basis for future deductions.

INTERESTING FACTS.

One of the most interesting facts disovered by this investigation was that the mean drift with the modified Krag-Jorgensen guns is to the left and not o the right. It had been supposed that when the riding of the barrel twisted to the right the ball would deviate in that direction. The old Springfield rifle, with a 15-inch calibre, had a right-hand wist, and its drift was to the right. It now believed that the soldiers wh had used it took it for granted that the iew 30-inch army rifle would behave in the same way. This gun has a right handed rifling, too. But it now appears that their reasoning was unsound. At least, the facts do not fit their theory. The drift of the modified Nrag-Jorgensen riffs bullets is to the left. At short range the deviation in perectly calm weather is greater with the new gun than with the old At 100 yards the drift is 2.5 inches for the forner, and only 1.3 for the latter; at 200 yards, 2.7 for the former, and 3.0 for the atter; at 300 yards, the deviation is the ame in amount, 51 inches, though in opposite directions. From that point onward the drift is less for the Krag-Jorgensen than for the old 45-calibre rifle. At 1,000 yards, for instance, the formed showed a mean deviation of 21 nches, and the latter 43.2 inches. The deflecting influence of the wind has been found to be less with the new arm than the old, for two very good reasons. The bullet is smaller and it flies faster. The wind has less area to on and low th

They enjoyed a repast, which was served for the happy event.

PREVALENCE OF GAMBLING.

Crusade on the Vice by the Pulpit Would Be Opportune.

The prevalence of gambling in this city demands the attention of the preservers of morals. This vice is alarmingly on the increase and is carried on to a great extent outside the resorts maintained especially for that purpose. The facination of the element chance is taking deep root in many of our youths and even efficers of church societies have fallen victims, The newsboy, the ten dollar a week clerk and the professional man are playing the game. When passing a ominent business place which had just been closed the other evening one of a group of young men who stood inside, came to the door and said to another who on the step; "Won't you join us?"

"No, I have only a quarter," was the reply.

This was simply one of many poker games conducted under similar circumstances. Promising young men are being driven to financial disaster and moral ruin by this insidious vice and the nulpiteers of the city cannot better serve the moral interests of the community than by simultaneously de-
