DAMAGING RAIN STORM.

Streets of the City Converted Into Rivers Last Evening. heaviest rain of the season descended upon the city last evening shortly after 6 o'clock and converted many of the streets into rivers. Cel lars were flooded all over town. Among those sustaining damage were the Palace creamery, Grand Union tea storand Hotels American and Anthracite. At the first named placed water entered the boller pit and extinguished the fire, leaving the place in darkness for several hours. A car load of salt in the cellar narrowly escaped destruction. The foundation wall was damaged and some of the machinery was Street car traffic was delayed and great boulders were distributed along the thoroughtares. It is thought the East Side surface water pipe line clogged, as no such volume of water ever before reached the central city.
