CHAIRMAN GARMAN TALKS POLITICS

Expects to See the Democracy Reunited at Altoona.

HE DOES NOT EXPECT THAT THE COMING CONVENTION WILL BE A QUIET AFFAIR—BUT BELIEVES THAT MORE OR LESS ACTIVITY WILL BE DISPLAYED.

Philadelphia, June 16.—Chairman John M. Garman, of the Democratic state committee, came up to Philadelphia from Atlantic City today accompanied by Chairman Howley, of the Allegheny county committee, and later in the day met and discussed subjects concerning the approaching convention with local leaders of the party.

While refraining from expressing any precise opinion regarding the make up of the platform or the election of the candidates, Mr. Garman's remarks would lead to the inference that every effort will be made to unite the party on an all round acceptable platform.

"From what I can gather," said Mr. Garman, "there is a clearly defined disposition to frame and adopt a platform at the Altoona convention upon which all good Democrats and all good people can stand. There will not be any humiliating surrender of party principles, but neither will there be. I imagine, any declarations that will drive good citizens away from the support of the ticket. The gist of sentiment appears to point in the direction of bridging past differences and mutual forgiveness and forgetfulness of any irritating elements that have kept the party asunder."

"Do you expect the convention will be a quiet one?" Mr. Garman was asked.

"Where there will be so many hustling candidates for places on the ticket," he replied, "there will necessarily be greater or less activity and energy displayed. But I do not anticipate that there will be anything else than a becoming and dignified convention, for, as I have already said, there seems to be a general disposition to have the platform made broad enough for every reputable class of citizens in the commonwealth. I expect a numerously attended convention—a big convention. In every section of the state the greatest interest appears to be taken in the Altoona gathering, and I have every reason to believe that the attendance of Democrats generally, outside of the delegates, will be unusually and remarkably large."

Chairman Garman left this evening for Harrisburg. Wm. Mc. Hoyley he will go to Pittsburg tomorrow for a brief visit.

BREWERS' CONVENTION.

The Pennsylvania License Fees Are Condemned.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 16.—The Brewers' association of the United States today elected the officers for the ensuing year. The principal officers chosen are: President, C. William Bergner, of Philadelphia; vice presidents, Rudolph Brand, of Chicago, and Ira Dannenburg, New York; treasurer, William G. Ringler, New York; secretary, Richard Katzenmayer, New York.

The permanent vigilance committee communicated its views to the convention upon the question of prohibition and legislation affecting the brewing industry. The report expressed the belief that there exists in the Prohibition states of South Dakota, Iowa and Kansas, a growing sentiment in favor local option laws. The outlook, the report says, is favorable to legislation of this character at an early day. Concurrently, the committee reported that there is evidence in many states of a tendency to enact laws designed to harass and interfere with the brewing industry in the use of materials and the utilization of ex-products. However, the report says, the trade has been successful in checking such legislation and is aided by state boards of health in so doing.

The committee declares that the dispensary law of South Carolina is a failure; while the rates of brewers' license fees in Pennsylvania are condemned as excessive and burdensome.

The convention adjourned this afternoon after selecting Detroit, Mich., as the next place of meeting. This evening the members attended a banquet at the Hotel Windsor.

NET AROUND CLEMMER.

Damaging Testimony Introduced at the Norristown Murder Trial.

Norristown, Pa., June 16.—The trial of James A. Clemmer, charged with complicity in the murder of Mrs. Charles O. Kaiser, which is now going on before Judge Weand, was full of sensational testimony today.

Miss DeKalb again took the stand and told of a plan conceived by Clemmer by which Frank P. Geyer, the Philapelphia detective, was to have been killed. Geyer was working on the case, and was hot on Clemmer's trail. Clemmer met Miss DeKalb in Philadelphia, and unfolded a plan to her by which she was to lure Geyer into a house. While there Clemmer was to come into the room and strike Geyer with a black jack or some other instrument, and then do away with the body. Miss DeKalb said that Clemmer threatened to kill her if she refused to go into the scheme. She did refuse, however, and the plan fell through.

District Attorney Strassburger submitted a number of letters, written by Clemmer while he was a fugitive, to Miss DeKalb, who was then under arrest in connection with the crime. These letters urged Miss DeKalb to stand firm and keep her mouth shut. He also promised to raise money in order that he could engage counsel and go on the stand in her behalf when her trial came up and prove an alibi for her. The prosecution considers these letters most damaging and say that they alone should convict the prisoner.

Mrs. Oliver, a cook in a Norristown hotel, and C. J. Harold, a justice of the peace, were called as witnesses and told of having seen Clemmer and Miss DeKalb together on the day of the murder.

During the afternoon session a number of witnesses gave testimony regarding footprints about the scene of the murder and the hearing of the murder and the hearing of screams following the firing of two shots. Testimony was also given which showed that life insurance policies aggregating $10,000 had been taken out on Mrs. Kaiser's life. Ex-Mayor William B. Smith, of Philadelphia, testified that Clemmer was the agent through which a joint policy for $5,000 had been taken out in favor of Kaiser and his wife. Court then adjourned for the day.

IRON AND STEEL TRADE.

Little or No Change to Report—All Branches Continue Rather Dull.

Pittsburg, June 16.—The American Manufacturer will say tomorrow:

"Again there is little or no change to report in the iron and steel trade. Our reports from the various centers show that in nearly all business continues about as it has been for some time past. In the east all branches of the market continue rather dull. In pig iron operations are small, as the rupture of the southern furnace combination is still affecting prices. But it is stated that the decline has not amounted to more than 25 cents per ton so far. At Philadelphia some encouraging features are observable, as more foundry iron is being sold. A large amount of merchant steel has been expected from the western mills, and about 4,000 tons of plate is expected to be placed within the next three weeks. At Chicago there is more call for structural material, and quite a good aggregate of business has been closed during the past week. There is a fair inquiry for pig iron. Bar iron is being bought by the agricultural implement makers and there appears to be something of a revival in car building. The demand for sheets has dropped off considerably, but there is more buying in merchant steel. Attention in the Cincinnati market has been taken up largely by the foundrymen's convention recently held in that city. It is hard to tell just where pig iron prices are, but the furnaces are slow to make contracts running to the end of the year. It is held that general conditions are shaping themselves for a strong movement. Plates are active, and the best equipped mills are taking the big contracts for bars. At Cleveland some sales of Bessemer iron have been made at figures below the valley agreement. The billet market is quite dull. At Wheeling there is little or no change in the situation. The sheet and plate mills are working up to capacity."

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review

New York, June 16.—There was a small bear panic today which caused an upward rush of prices in the first hour such as has not been seen on the Stock exchange for days. Blocks of 1,000 shares and upwards of leading stocks were snapped up with avidity. The prominent specialties and the Grangers had the most conspicuous advances, but the strength was quite well distributed in the list and gains in the railroads were nearly uniform. After the opening rush the market fell into dullness and drifted rather aimlessly below the high point but without falling to the opening level. The later transactions were limited in volume and the closing was also animate but firm. The absence of any large general demand after the rush to cover shorts, considered in connection with yesterday's downward movement, indicates that the market is near the point of stability. The demand from the shorts was very pronounced in Tobacco, Sugar, People's Gas and the Grangers. There was also a morning demand for London account which lifted the price of internationals. During the morning a sustained buying movement in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, Chesapeake and Ohio and Baltimore and Ohio developed, carrying the prices up from ½ to 4 points. The demand for the two former stocks is currently supposed to be connected with a far-reaching project for the consolidation of the Ohio soft coal interest under the controlling influence of the dominant interest in these roads. Baltimore and Ohio may have felt some sympathetic effect but there were also rumors of the approaching issue of the reorganization plan. Hocking Valley common stock rose 7/8 on small transactions. Total sales of stocks were 399,900 shares.
