Every member of the police departnent and many city officials have been ooting for pleasant weather today, Arrangements have been made for a clambake at Maplewood in honor of ex-Chief Robling, now here recruiting men for the Thirtcenth regiment, and it is so seldom that the bluecoats have chance to get a holiday in a body that there will be grievous disappointment if the weather man isn't good.

The policemen have arranged the afair through a committee composed of he four lieutenants, Davis, of the cen ral precinct; Speilman, of the North End: Williams, of the West Side, and Zang, of the South Side. The commit tee have provided a feast which will long linger in the memory of those the are privileged to partake of it. All the heads of the city departments from the mayor down, the members of ouncils and the board of health have eccived invitations.

The main party will leave for Mapleyood on the $.45 Erie and Wyoming Valley train this morning. The start will be early in order to give a full day's pleasure and permit the police-men to return to Scranton in time for their regular night duty.
