

REGIMENTS SELECTED

Those Intended for Ferdinandina, Fla. Are Now Known.

ASK FOR GEN. GOBIN

Pennsylvania Troops Want Him for Commander.

GENERAL GRAHAM TOLD THEM THAT IF HE CAN GET HIM HE WILL ASSIGN HIM TO THE PENNSYLVANIA BRIGADE—IMPRESSION GROWS STRONGER THAT GENERAL BUTLER'S COMMAND WILL GO TO HAWAII—THIRTY-EIGHT ADDITIONAL RECRUITS ARRIVED IN CAMP LAST NIGHT.

Special from a Staff Correspondent.

Camp Alger, Va., June 17.—Today it developed that the regiments destined to move at once to Ferdinandina are the Sixth, Illinois; Sixth, Massachusetts; Eighth, Ohio; comprising the Second brigade of the First division and the Third and Sixty-fifth, New York; and First Rhode Island, a provisional brigade and the Ninth, Massachusetts; Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth, Michigan; now unattached.

The Third and Fourth Missouri may be substituted for the two Michigan regiments. The quartermasters of the first nine commands have received instructions to report to Dunn Loring for what equipment they are in need of. General Nelson A. Miles will come up from Washington tomorrow to personally look into the condition of the regiments to be taken away.

Colonel Courson, of the Thirtieth; Colonel Corryell, of the Twelfth, and Lieutenant Colonel Watts, acting for Colonel Hoffman, of the Eighth, whose regiments comprise the Pennsylvania brigade, waited on Major General Graham this afternoon and asked him to request for them that Brigadier General Gobin be assigned to their brigade. General Graham said it would give him great pleasure to comply with their request and that he would use his own influence to secure General Gobin's assignment to the Second corps. "If I can get him you shall certainly have him," General Graham said.

MOORE RECRUITS ARRIVE.

Thirty-eight recruits arrived at 6.30 o'clock. They had a pleasant and uneventful trip and found preparations made for their accommodation in the companies to which they were assigned. There is not a man from the Thirtieth in either the division or regimental hospital.

The recruits are being provided for as fast as they arrive, extra rations being allowed such companies as have had additions and tents being put up to accommodate them as rapidly as possible. Blankets for the "brookies" were received yesterday. Large cot tents capable of accommodating eighteen men have also been issued and are being erected as fast as delivered. For a week or so the newcomers are to be drilled separately. As soon as they are broken in they will be placed with their companies and given the regular routine.

HAWAII PROBABLE.

Faith in the story that the First division is destined for Hawaii grows stronger day by day. The regiments comprising the division are delighted at the prospect and many a congressman has been instructed to take off his coat and work for General Butler's appointment. Mark Hanna, it is understood, has been told by the Eighth Ohio that they want the Hawaiian trip and anything that leaves from Hanna they invariably get. It is only a question of whether or not Hanna has any influence at the White House, and that particular question admits of little debate. General Butler's unreserved statement to a committee of newspapermen, of which your correspondent was one, that he desired the Hawaiian assignment leaves it fair to infer that he is not sitting idly by taking chances on it being brought to him. The general, it will be remembered, is an ex-senator. The sanguine ones are confident that the only question is how soon we will see there.

Mrs. Louise Hogan, of the American Public Health association, who has made an investigation of the food conditions at Camp Alger, under the authority of the secretary of war, today submitted the following report: That the food allowed each man by the government is ample for comfortable existence; that the experiences of the men who cook is one of the chief sources of difficulty, and frequently a cause for complaint; that the drawing of rations is not clearly understood by commanding officers in the volunteer regiments, and that in no instance investigated could the food itself be found to be other than as it should have been when issued.

SERIES OF MARCHES.

Corps headquarters has anticipated Colonel Mattes and Majors Stillwell and Wood in their contemplated march to the sea. The march was yesterday made mandatory in the following general order, addressed to the division commanders and by them promulgated to their brigades today:

Sir: In order to exemplify the different movement in the manual of infantry tactics and for the purpose of instruction in advancing and maintaining guard and defenses and also to give opportunity to the men of the command to take baths, the major general commanding directs that once in each week each brigade will march to the Potomac. Brigades will alternate by divisions, beginning with the first.

The men will be in heavy marching order, carrying shelter tents and one day's cooked rations, the time for marching to be so regulated that the command will reach its destination in ample time to establish camp and finish their bathes before night, returning the following morning to their positions in camp.

These marches will be conducted as laid down in the text book, as if in the enemy's country, so far as is practicable without trespassing upon or injury to private property, with advance and rear guards and flankers.

Outposts will be established at night. Attention is directed to the fact that the service of security and information, and troops in camp. Reports of these marches will be made for the information of the corps commander. Department commanders are charged with the execution of this command.

By command of Major General Graham, C. S. Roberts, Adjutant General.

BEGINS MONDAY.

This programme will be put in operation next Monday morning. The First brigade of the First division will take first turn; then the First brigade of the second division; First brigade of the Third division; Second brigade of the First division and so on, the second of the list moving as soon as the first returns. The Thirtieth's turn will come about one week from next Monday.

The sixth and Ninth, Massachusetts today celebrated the Bunker Hill anniversary. There was a base ball game between clubs picked from the two regiments, athletic sports for prizes donated by Boston business men, an exhibition of jumping by Private Connolly, of the Ninth, who was one of the American representatives at the Athens games, a big chicken dinner contributed by Congressman Fitzgerald and a display of fireworks at night. Both regiments were excused from all camp duty in honor of the occasion. T. J. Duffy.

RECIAT AT PERRY'S STORE.

Professor Pennington Played Several Selections on the Violon.

The recital at Perry's music rooms last evening when Professor J. Alfred Pennington gave a programme on the violin, assisted by Miss Magdalene Perry, of New York, and the Misses Emma Bone and Clara Browning, of this city, was largely attended and afforded much delight to the critical audience. Mr. Pennington explained certain characteristics of the violin and told wherein it differed from the pipe organ in having reeds as well as tubes.

Mr. Pennington played a march by Molly. A beautiful number by Gull-mann, "Meditation by Lenore," "The Holy Night," by Buck, besides several other numbers. His mastery playing entranced his listeners.

Miss Perry sang two German songs and "O Divine Redeemer," by Gounod. She possessed a strong and well trained contralto voice and uses it with feeling and nice discrimination.

Miss Emma Bone, whose promising talent has been mentioned before in these columns, played several numbers with great brilliancy and pleasing interpretation. Miss Browning rendered a nocturne by Ravine with satisfactory effect.

analysis had been made of the water supply of the camp and that only one spring was found to be of questionable quality. This spring is located in the rear of the Twelfth, Pennsylvania camp, and is the source of the "purling brook," which courses through the parade ground. The spring has been closed for the men, but animals are allowed to be watered at it. As a further step towards eradicating the last remnant of "hospital" from the regimental "dispensaries," Colonel Girard has ordered that the company litter bearers remove the red brassard from their coat sleeves. No one but members of the division hospital corps are to wear them he says. In consequence of the reports that have spread broadcast to the effect that the food issue is poor and inadequate, General Graham has instructed all captains to inspect every meal and report to him any deficiencies that may be discovered.

Another consignment of Clark & Swoover has been ordered to the regiment by the thoughtful and generous manufacturers.

The following letter was received by Colonel Courson in response to a request for detailed information regarding the recruiting under the second call:

Colonel Henry A. Courson, Commanding Thirtieth Regiment Infantry, Pennsylvania Volunteers, Camp Alger, Falls Church, Va.

Sir: Your letter to the governor has been referred to me. The only orders we have from the war department are to the effect that companies now in the field will be recruited to 100 enlisted men. If additional companies are necessary to fill up the quota from Pennsylvania, it will take about eighteen. These companies, according to instructions from the war department, will be assigned to the First, Second and Eighth regiments, each two companies, and to the third, fourth and fifth regiments, one battalion company. These, of course, will not take in any new companies from your territory, or to be attached to the Thirtieth regiment.

Very respectfully, Thomas J. Stewart, Adjutant General.

This would seem to indicate that if the members of the companies being organized in Scranton want to get to the front they will have to enlist as recruits in one or the other of the companies now in the field. The only possible chance they have of being accepted with their new companies lies in a third call or in the war department granting Governor Hastings' request for an increase in Pennsylvania's quota.

There is a possibility that the Ninth will secure a third battalion, as it is next in order for expansion and may come in for the four companies allotted to the Third regiment which has been sent to Santiago. There is little possibility of the Thirtieth receiving an extra battalion as the Twelfth, which stands next in numerical order, by reason of the Tenth being en route to Manila, is like the Thirtieth, an eight company regiment.
