GEN. GOBIN

He Will Have Command of the Pennsylvania Brigade.

SOLDIERS ARE PLEASED

Made a Big Demonstration in Camp Last Night.

COLONEL GIRARD HAS SECURED A COURT MARTIAL AND WILL HAVE THE COMMANDERS OF REGI-MENTS TRIED FOR INSUBORDINA-TION BECAUSE THEY CRITICIZED THE MANNER IN WHICH HE CON-OTHER COMMANDERS TO DE TRIED BECAUSE THEY REPUSED TO ALLOW THEIR MEN TO VOLUN-TEER AS HOSPITAL ORDERLIES.

Special from a Staff Correspondent. Camp Alger, June 19.-General J. P. S. Gobin will lead Pennsylvania's brigade. He has been assigned to the second corps and will be placed in charge of the Eighth, Twelfth and Thirteenth tomorrow. Major General Graham announced the glad tidings to the Pennsylvania brigade at eight o'clock toright.

Colonel Hoffman, of the Eighth, happened to be at headquarters when the news of General Gobin's appointment was received by General Graham from the war department. The news spread like wild fire through the brigade and during the half hour before the roll call theretwee a scene of wild enthustasm, each regiment vieing with their neighber in making the greatest amount of noise. They then joined in a parade and shouted thereselves hoarse for "Gobin!" Gobin! grand old

It is said, but not official, that the commanding officers of five other regiments, the Thirteenth among them, are to be arraigned for refusing to allow their men to volunteer as bospital orderlies. Twenty-nine recruits arrived at 19

a. m. today. WILL GO SOUTH.

Nothing has as yet occurred to disurb the calculations that the nine egiments enumerated in Saturday's dispatches will leave here at once for Fernandina, there to possibly embark for Santiago with the army that Gencrail Miles is forming. It is expected that the order to move will come at any hour, as the inspections of these regiments have been concluded and their equipping is practically per-

There is a persistent report that the choic First division is to be moved to the south at once to become a part of the Santiago army, but it is given small credence in this brigade. Nothing definite can be said in advance in these matters. Commanders, if they do receive an intimation of what they an expect for the morrow, do not, for obvious reasons, make it public property. The various circumstances that can not be concealed, however, oftentimes show unfallingly the true trend of affairs and there are sufficient of these now apparent to argue down this

First and foremost of these is the order from the quartermaster's department at Dunn Loring that the quartermasters of all regiments, with the exception of the nine in question, should keep themselves and their teams away from the storehouses until further orders, which further orders it regiments that are being prepared for novement are gotten away. There has been no change in this order, STILL EXPANDING.

Again, the Pennsylvania regiments are still undergoing expansion. Up to ioon today only 166 of the 248 men needed by the Thirteenth had arrived. The Twelfth regiment is in about the same condition. That General Miles will keep his army waiting for the re rganization of the twenty-six comanies comprising this brigade and the niforming, arming and training-for a recruit must have some little trainng-of the 504 recruits that the Eighth, Twelfth and Thirteenth are bringing in, is hardly a reasonable supposition More likely is it that he will do, as it was first said he would, take a visional division composed of the nine regiments that are the farthest advanced in equipping and most perfect !!

"The Third battalion story is affeat strong symptoms of truth that Acting Brigadier General Coursen was persuaded to telegraph Governor Hastings last evening asking if it was so, The story was brought into camp by subordination in criticizing Girard's your correspondent. The source whence when it was communicated to Colonel Coursen he was so impressed with its credibility as to wire at once for an official verification. It being late Saturday night when the telegram was sent it is likely that an answer will not be received until temorrow. All that I am at liberty to print of the story is that Governor Hastings yesterday was sent word from the war department that his request for permis sion to increase the Pennsylvania quota sufficiently to permit of supplying a third battalion to all Pennsylvania regiments now in the United States had been granted. This, if it is true, means a call for 2,500 additional men and it also means that the Pennsylvania regiments will not be called into action for some time to come. UNIFORMS RECEIVED.

GOSSIP OF THE CAMP.

Special from a Staff Correspondent Camp Alger, Va., June 19 .- There has been some hitch between the war department and the Pennsylvania state flicers regarding the value of property turned over to the United States at Mt. Gretna. Boards of surey are now arbitrating the dispute In the Thirteenth regiment the task has been assigned to Captain Fellows, of Company F; Captain Gilman, Company D. and Lleutenant Dodge, of Company E. > Yesterday Quartermaster Cox was engaged in distributing to the companies a lot of new equipments, among other things 146 rifles. They are of the same pattern as the old ones used by the national guard. The fact that the guns are stamped "Springfield Arsenal, June 13, 1898," shows that the war department is certainly rush ing things. Revolvers for the non-commissioned officers have also been eccived. They are ferocious looking things as big as an old-fashioned horse pistol. They are 45-calibre and carry six catridges.

> Lieutenant Harrington, of Company E, the Thirteenth's handy man, has just completed a large swimming pool for the use of the regiment. It is located in a respectable sized brook a mile and a half from camp. It is 25 feet wide by 100 feet in length and has an almost uniform depth of five feet. It is expected it will be ready for use

Colonel Girard had 45 extra men at work about the division hospital yesterday flxing up the tents and beds, distributing delicacles and reading matter to the patients, arranging things in the kitchen, putting fly netting over the cots and in the door ways and putting everything in general in ship shape. RUMOR OF MURDER.

Police Traced the Report to Its Source, a trazyWoman's Screams.

A rumor circulated late last night to the effect that a Lloyd street Italian nad been shot and killed by a fellowountryman, was given general crednce in the Providence section of the Lieutenant of Police Spellman Ity. lirected an immediate investigation as oon as the report reached the station house in the North End precinct, but the falsity of the rumor was soon established.

The story of murder grew in some maccountable way from the screams of a demented woman, who lives on Court street. Some young men had annoyed her and she showed her displeasure by yelling murder. Her screams were taken too seriously.
