

DELEGATES ARE HOME FROM ALTOONA

Face Was Altogether Unsullied for Such a Big Gathering.

THE LACKAWANNA DELEGATION PLEADED OVER SECURING THE NOMINATION OF CAPTAIN F. DELACY FOR THE OFFICE OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS—ALTHOUGH HE DID NOT SEEK THE NOMINATION HE BROKE THE SLATE—B. E. MEGARREE FIRST SUGGESTED HIM.

"What kind of a time was there at the Altoona convention?" was the first question heard by one of the delegates as he stepped from the 9 o'clock Delaware and Hudson train last night.

The answer could not be given in less than a page of a newspaper.

First of all, Altoona is no place for such a large gathering. It hasn't the hotel accommodations, and as to location geographically it was a woeful selection.

The arena about the time of the large enough for the convention and the number of saloons was not large enough to go around.

The heat was oppressive. On the way down the Scranton delegates who started on Tuesday morning were joined at Wilkes-Barre by the Luzerne delegation.

At Lewistown Junction the car of the Lackawanna and Luzerne men was coupled to one in which was the Samuel J. Randall club, of Philadelphia.

From there to Altoona there was a large number of delegates. The train sped along at a 60-mile an hour rate, and the delegates were going faster than that in the car. One car was fitted up most sumptuously with refreshments and tables.

JUDGE WAS ACTIVE. Judge Harry J. McCarthy was among the Philadelphians, and never was a missionary more zealous in the cause he espoused than the judge was in his advocacy of Judge Gordon for governor.

He wore a little round hat like a turban, and buttonholed delegates right and left and argued and made such speeches as the din within and without the cars would permit.

From noon Tuesday until 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon the city was turbulent. Democratic headquarters were at the Logan House, a very large hotel, with such a labyrinth of hallways and corridors that a guide was needed to tow the delegates.

At 5 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon the Lackawanna delegation caused in room 45 of the Brant House, at which they registered, and selected John T. Brown spokesman on the convention floor. P. J. Scullis was chosen on the committee of resolutions, John Gibbons on the committee of organization, and P. J. McCormick on the committee of credentials.

A motion was made to support Judge Gordon as a unit. This was carried by a vote of 8 to 4, two of the delegates being absent, but the minority served notice that they did not intend to abide by that rule, as it has been discarded as un-democratic and vicious.

THAT THEY WERE PLEASED. What pleased the Scranton delegation immensely was the nomination of Captain F. DeLacy for secretary of internal affairs. If he were elected he sought the man it was in this case.

He was not present at the convention and did not go to Altoona at all. He may think Detective Scanlon for being nominated. Mr. Scanlon worked tirelessly for him. Patrick Foley, of Pittsburg, is entitled to the gratitude of Captain DeLacy for the robust and enthusiastic impetus he gave him at the very outset, by casting 14 votes from Allegheny county for him.

There were three candidates in the field, and one of them was P. H. Grier, of Lancaster, who was picked out by Colonel Gurley to run for that nomination. Grier is also an old soldier with a splendid record, yet despite the three-cornered arrangement, the captain was far ahead in the balloting had gone three-fourths of the way when Mr. Grier arose and withdrew his name and requested his delegates to vote for Captain DeLacy. He had 231 votes when Comrade Grier withdrew. That was 21 more than a majority.

Philadelphia cast thirty votes for him. Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons nominated Captain DeLacy at the request of the Lackawanna delegation. Com. D. O'Boyle, of Luzerne, and Mr. Brown, of Lackawanna, seconded the nomination.

The manner in which the captain became a candidate is as follows: John M. Garman came to Scranton two or three weeks ago and met B. E. Megarree. They are old friends, and while they were enjoying a smoke together, Mr. Garman said he wished there were some citizen of Scranton who had served in the late war, and is now prominent enough in the political realm to be good timber for secretary of internal affairs.

DELAGY SUGGESTED. Mr. Megarree suggested Captain DeLacy and said a better candidate could not be found anywhere in the state. The chairman Garman replied: "As you say, so let it be." The captain had some good friends and willing workers.

The circulated reports that the Lackawanna delegation was for Gordon, except Colonel Gurley, on whom he gave instructions that Hayes Grier be nominated. The captain therefore had double honor. He absolutely did not seek the office, and even at that he broke the slate. That is a paradox in politics that may not happen again in ninety-nine years.

The Lackawanna contingent outside of the delegates was shamefully neglected. They could not get passes to go to the opening session. This was due to the fact that some one from Philadelphia stole 500 tickets from Mr. Garman's room, distributed them as he pleased. He also had a large number printed like them which he sent wherever he chooses. Mr. Garman had to have new tickets struck off for the afternoon session.

A reward of $5 was offered for any who could give positive proof that he slept an hour Tuesday or Wednesday night in Altoona. The heat and the noise of engines and delegates were more than any man could stand.

There was a fine sympathy felt for a delegate from Center county who said he lost a pocketbook containing $40.00. The town was alive with pickpockets, and several complained of getting "touched."

G. Ben Johnson was here, there and everywhere around headquarters with pencil and pad making notes of requests, grievances, etc., etc. He gave out the press tickets.

ARRIVED LAST NIGHT. The last of the delegates came home last night at 9 o'clock. They left Altoona at 10 o'clock, had to wait 2 hours at Lewistown Junction for a change of cars, an hour at Sunbury, and 20 minutes at Wilkes-Barre. The party was composed of Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons, ex-Sheriff John J. Fahey, P. F. Gordon, Attorney M. J. Walsh, P. E. Nealis, Thomas Cosgrove, D. W. Vaughan and John T. Brown.

Captain DeLacy will accept the nomination tendered him. He said to a Tribune reporter last night that he appreciated the honor conferred upon him, coming as it did entirely un-solicited.

He has many warm friends scattered throughout the state, who, he believes, will not forget him in November.

TELEPHONE FRANCHISE.

Select Council Makes No Move to Keep It from Conference.

Contrary to expectations, no attempt was made in select council last night to reconsider the Lackawanna telephone franchise. It was believed the company had secured the necessary two votes from among those who at the last meeting voted against the amendments and from among whom the motion to reconsider would have come.

No meeting of common council having been held since the select council conference committee was appointed, the franchise amendments might have been considered last night. The franchise will now have to take its medicine in the conference committee.

CHIEF HICKEY HURT.

His Gallantries in Trying to Hold a Runaway Fire Team Ends Disastrously—Condition Last Night.

Chief P. J. Hickey, of the fire department, was trampled upon and painfully hurt yesterday morning by a team of horses attached to Phoenix Chemical wagon.

The chief was engaged in taking snapshots of the team and apparatus near the Platt homestead lot on Jefferson street. He secured three views and decided to take a view of the apparatus without the horses. He reconsidered this and told the driver, Joseph Hillman, to return with the horses and wagon to company quarters.

Hillman mounted to the seat and after starting the horses noticed that the snap connecting the reins with one of the bits had been unfastened, probably by the horse's act of rubbing its head against the curb. The animals lunged forward only half restrained. Driver Hillman called out to Chief Hickey who grasped the free horse's bridle. He retained his hold but was carried along his own horse and buggy, which were standing nearby, and was thrown to the pavement and trampled on.

Others securing the plugging team and Chief Hickey was carried into the store of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company. Being such a heavy man probably saved him from many fractured bones, but it also accounts for bruises which were found on all parts of his body. His scalp was badly cut. Hurling calls were telephoned from the company store to physicians and Drs. Fulton, Logan, Haggerty and Wentz responded. They found that the wounds though many and painful, suggested no alarm and recommended his immediate removal to his home on Pittston avenue.

Inquiry at Chief Hickey's home last night was met with information that he was swathed in bandages from head to foot and suffering from the heat, a scalp wound on the side of the head was causing him much discomfort. The bruises and other hurts which nearly covered his legs, arms and body were paining him severely. He had been fatigued, too, by visits to many persons during the day and orders were given to keep all inquirers away from his bedside.

An accident policy obtained less than a month ago in one of the standard companies and assuring Chief Hickey $25 per week while disabled, is the only policy in effect.

According to the characteristic message sent by Chief Hickey to a Tribune reporter who called at the house last night.

District Engineer McManus will be acting chief until Chief Hickey's return to duty.

MANY PLEASING MUSICAL EVENTS

Cantata of Ruth and Boaz Sung in the Simpson M. E. Church.

PROMINENT VOCALISTS AND INSTRUMENTALISTS WHO PARTICIPATED—MRS. GERTRUDE BAKER DELIGHTED AN AUDIENCE AT THE PENN AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH, RECITALS OF THE PUPILS OF PROF. BEEVEY JONES AND PROF. ALBIN KORN.

Oppressively hot as last night was it brought out throngs of people to attend the various musical events which in several instances marked the close of a successful year's study.

People who fancy this is not a musical town should realize that in the space of four days this week audiences numbering from 100 to 600 have attended nine recitals and in every case the personnel of the listeners was almost entirely changed.

Probably the most elaborate affair last evening was the beautiful cantata of "Ruth and Boaz," at the Simpson Methodist church, given under the direction of William W. Jones and by the choir of the church. The singers were all comers and the effect was exceedingly good.

Mrs. B. T. Jayne took the leading part—that of Ruth. Miss Margaret Wynne Jones, the contralto of Elm Park church, took the role of Naomi, Mrs. M. J. Boston-Williams that of Orpah, Mr. J. W. Jones, Boaz, Edwin Bowen, the Overseer, Thomas Abraham, chief reaper. The following constituted the chorus:

THOSE WHO PARTICIPATED. Soprano—Ella Godshall, Mary Edwards, Mary Hower, Mrs. William S. Shoemaker, Hattie Hurn, Neven James, Ellen James, Rachel Jones, Anna Griffith, Mrs. Thomas Abraham, Kate Abraham.

Altos—Mrs. A. Lewis, Anna Jones, Myrtle Cromer, Mary Jones, Jessie Nauman, Alma Davis, Anna Phillips, Sarah Thomas, Tenors—Thomas Abraham, Joseph Grey, David J. Jones, William L. Davis, Jeremiah Samuel, James Mathias, A. B. Ridgeway.

Basses—William M. Whittman, Harry A. Wright, William Long, Thomas W. Jones, T. B. Davis, William B. Davis, John R. James, Ed Watkins, David Phillips.

First violin, William House; second violin, William Allen; cello, John Hall; flute, Mr. Hughes; pianist, Liowellyn Jones.

Walter Davis presided at the organ. Mr. G. L. Peck was stage manager. The solo parts were rendered with great taste and beauty of tone. The duets and trios and various part songs were every satisfactory.

Mrs. Jayne was in excellent voice and sang with much spirit and feeling. Miss Jones in the solo "Go, Return," was especially happy. The trio given in the first scene by Mrs. Jayne, Mrs. Williams and Miss Jones was one of the best features of the evening.

Mrs. Lewis, Messrs. Jones, Bowen, Abraham and Whittman did fine work in their several roles and the chorus was strong and well trained. Altogether it was one of the most enjoyable events of the season and should be repeated in a cooler night.

REEVEY JONES' PUPILS. The piano recital given by the pupils of Mr. Reevey Jones, assisted by D. Cordella Freeman was delightful in many respects. Perry Brothers' music rooms were crowded and the programme, which was of high order, was much enjoyed.

Three young ladies, Miss Lena Reichard, Miss Amy Decker and Miss Anna Bone, furnished the chief part of the instrumental music, displaying great proficiency at an early age. Miss Reichard gave two movements of Beethoven's sonata, a Mendelssohn rondo and a selection by Bachman in all of which she exhibited unusual talent.

Thomas Marshall rendered most pleasingly a Mozart Fantasia. Miss Amy Decker, of the North End, played exceedingly well, a Chopin study and two Grieg numbers. Miss Bone sang "La Danse d'Antire." Miss Bone, perhaps, more than any of the others, exemplified the advantage of learning something of Mr. Jones' technique, which, in certain respects is notable, indeed. She gave with exquisite interpretation the Adagio and finale of Beethoven's Sonata op. 10, and three little numbers by well known composers.

Miss Freeman sang, it seemed, with unusual power and brilliance of tone. She gave the German "Du Wie bist eine Blume" and an Italian song. Few more satisfactory soloists have ever been heard in this city. Her wearing qualities in the popular taste is a true proof of her talent.

MRS. BAKER'S PLAYING. Miss Another recital that attracted hundreds of listeners was that of Mrs. Gertrude Baker at Penn Avenue Baptist church. Mrs. Baker is a pupil of Haydn, and her exceptional ability as a pianist is recognized in a large circle. Her playing is characterized by great cleverness of execution and certain quality of expression not always the gift of pianists. Her program was well chosen and carefully rendered. The Scherzo, Impromptu was one of the gems of the evening.

Miss Julia Allen gave several violin solos, receiving insistent encores. The rich tonal effect of the Goddard Adagio is something to linger in the memory of the listeners and she played the Musin "Capriccio" with a dash and brilliancy which she seems to specially command in her interpretation of her one time master. Ralph Williams was the vocalist of the evening and sang most sweetly a number of songs un-hackneyed character.

THE KORN RECITAL. Among these musical affairs none delighted the audience more than Mr. Albin Korn's recital given by his pupils at Powell's music rooms. A fine Chickering piano was used with excellent effect. The first number was the minuet from Beethoven's Sonata op. 49, which he held in place of honor because of the sad affliction of the performer. William Houck, who is blind and yet was able to evoke rare melody with a distinctive touch gained after but fourteen months' instruction.

The pupils were nearly all scarcely out of childhood and their execution was, generally speaking, remarkable. Misses Katie Napka, Camie, Minnie Lange, Marian Smith and Mary Gobel played delightful selections exceedingly well. Miss Elsie Powell gave pleasing exhibitions of skill in the following: Gustave Rupert sang several songs in a flexible, rich-toned voice. Mr. Korn played the concluding number, a Weber polka, with fine effect.

How She Got It. A little girl who had been told not to ask for anything to eat at a neighbor's came home with a face very suggestive of luncheon. When asked by her mother why she had asked for something, she said: "But, mamma, I didn't ask Mrs. G. I just looked at her and said: 'Can't you see how hungry I am?'"—Truth.

WHEELMEN'S FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

Celebrated the Event at Their Club House on Jackson Street.

That popular West Scranton organization, the Electric City Wheelmen, reached the age of one year yesterday and in honor of the event a celebration was held at the handsome club house at 114 Jackson street last evening.

The affair was a complete success, owing to the efforts of the social committee of the club comprising G. R. Ralph, chairman; W. H. Roe, Duncan Hall, Jr., F. E. Depee, Gus Weiss, W. S. Sears, the club's president, also cooperated with the committee.

The club house front was decorated with vari-colored lanterns and the national colors. Inside, throughout the rooms, palms, ferns, cut flowers in profusion were tastefully arranged. The national colors, Cuban flags, and the club's colors were draped here and there about the rooms.

Upon the lawn were arranged small tables and the scene was illuminated with Chinese lanterns. Bauer's band of ten pieces, in charge of Prentice Martin, furnished the music throughout the evening. Dainty refreshments were served by a corps of waiters under the direction of the social committee.

The guests, as they arrived, were received by the members of the committee and during the evening nothing that would tend to add to the comfort and pleasure of their guests was left undone. The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ansel, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. George B. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bunnell, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William McLane, Rev. and Mrs. E. J.
